Drop In Stocks Ends Week Of Price Skids

Action On Exchange Nails Down General Decline In Basic Commodities; Slump Follows Same Pattern Of Exactly Year Ago

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A drop in stocks today brought to an end a week of slumping prices in many commodities.

Stocks in New York fell for the sharpest loss since the day after the presidential election, making the second straight session of fair-sized losses. Numerous issues went to new lows for the past year or more.

Action of stocks nailed down a general decline which began in such basic commodities as grain, livestock, butter, eggs and cotton. It is a decline which has been going on for several months, but which picked up momentum in the present week.

Drops in commodity prices had a repetitious appearance, for it was just one year ago this week that the big post-war break hit grains and spread to other commodities.

The one big difference from last year was that this time the price slump came from levels which, to begin with, were lower than in 1948. Nor were the declines as sharp as last year.

Also, last year prices were far above the points at which the government was pledged to step in and support the market. This year prices of some commodities, particularly grains, had slipped through that support level as if it didn't exist.

And, as one grain trader expressed it today, there was some feeling that in trying to support prices at higher levels than ever before "the govern-

HANDLE 852 CASES IN D. A.'S OFFICE

Jump Of 239 Offenses Against Laws Shown By Records During 1948

A total of 852 cases were disposed of through the district attorney's office during 1948, according to an annual report revealed here yesterday by District Attorney Fred Fudickar, Jr.

Fudickar succeeded George Lester as district attorney last December 14.

In the previous year, 1947, the district attorney's office dealt with 613 cases, which showed an increase in 1948 of 239 offenses.

Fudickar said the increase was probably due to a rise in the district's population.

Last year, the district attorney got 464 convictions in Ouachita parish and 105 convictions in Morehouse parish, as compared to 371 in Ouachita parish and 115 in Morehouse parish during the year 1947.

Fifty-five persons charged last year were acquitted in this parish and 10 were acquitted in Morehouse parish.

In 1947, 27 persons were acquitted in Ouachita parish and 15 in Morehouse parish.

During the year 1948, 120 cases in this parish were nolle prossed and 51 were left pending, while in Morehouse parish, only 35 cases were nolle prossed and 12 cases pending.

Fifty-three cases were nolle prossed

DEMOS TO DEFEAT FILIBUSTER MOVE

Republican Haste On Gag Rule Change Causes Democrats To Regroup

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A Republican move to force quick action next week on a filibuster-killing change in senate rules will be slapped down by the Democrats.

The senate Democratic caucus today pledged, on a show of hands, its unanimous opposition to a motion by Senator Knowland (R.-Calif.) which comes up automatically in the senate Monday.

The Democrats decided, Senator McClelland (D.-Ark.) said, "That they are not going to let the Republicans run the senate."

The Republicans, quarterbacked by Knowland, replied that they will give the Democrats a chance to show whether they are only giving "lip service" to President Truman's civil rights proposals.

Knowland wants to take away from the rules committee and place on the senate calendar a resolution under which two-thirds of those voting could gag debate at any time.

Under present rules, the debate gag applies only on bills actually before the senate and not to motions. Southern Democrats opposing President Truman's civil rights proposals always have stalled them by filibustering, or talking to death, motions to take them up.

A heavy docket meanwhile faces congress next week, but the desire of members to participate in Lincoln celebrations may shove much of it aside.

Senate and house leaders have crammed the calendars for the first few days in the hope of disposing of several major bills.

An administration bill to give the president power to shuffle executive agencies comes before the house Monday, along with a resolution to change the deadline for determination by congress of an appropriations ceiling.

Those two bills will be followed by the administration's reciprocal trade measure, which is expected to keep

2,364 STUDENTS ARE REGISTERED AT TECH

RUSTON, La., Feb. 5—(Special)—Despite inclement weather conditions, 2,364 students had registered for the spring semester at Louisiana Tech by 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Late registration will continue at the college through Wednesday, February 9, according to Miss Mabel May, registrar. At this stage during spring semester registration in 1948, 2,353 students had enrolled at the college. At the end of late registration, however, the spring semester enrollment for 1948 was 2,463.

If registration continues at the present rate, college officials believe Tech's enrollment will equal or surpass that of the spring semester of 1948. An all-time high in enrollment was reached at Louisiana Tech last fall, when 2,673 students registered. Of that number, 147 graduated on January 31.

MISSOURIAN ASKS STALIN TO MEET TRUMAN IN HOME

James Stobaugh (left), employe of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has cabled Soviet Prime Minister Joseph Stalin an invitation to meet President Truman in Stobaugh's "Typical American Home" (right) at Independence, Mo. Confidentially, Stobaugh said he doesn't think the invitation will be accepted. The cable cost him $16.12. (AP Wirephotos).

Foreign-Backed Plot Is Nipped, Poles Say

Several Scores Of Suspects Rounded Up By Security Police; Finger Of Suspicion Is Aimed At United States By Reds

WARSAW, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Polish security police said today they have crushed a foreign-financed plot to kill government leaders.

Jes' Ramblin'

The Twin Cities have an unusual opportunity at this time to avail themselves of the opportunity of taking a genuine Dale Carnegie course in effective speaking, personality development and human relationship. So important as a community project is this study, that the ever-alert Pilot Club has sponsored the project here which will be given in a series of weekly meetings until the course is completed. The next meeting will be given tomorrow night in Hotel Virginia. The goal set is for 40 students. It is said that in many cities big firms have paid for the course for their staff as they have felt it is a good investment for all who would qualify as super-salesmen.

The course is being given at this time in Alexandria and a fourth class is forming in Shreveport, composed largely of salesmen, professional men and women and students who desire to know the rudiments of advancing in the business world. Seems that the Pilot Club is making a community gesture in securing the series of lectures and studies for Monroe.

H. M. James, well known, prominent business man who several years ago was president of the Chamber of Commerce, inadvertently overstayed when donwtown and got a parking ticket. He proceeded to the city and quickly paid his dollar to the desk sergeant. "I want you to know it was all my fault and I quite gladly make this little contribution," he said, "and anyway I think parking meters are just fine for any city."

Then he departed and lo and behold he found he had parked in a forbidden zone and had earned ANOTHER

The announcement did not name the men said to have been marked for death. Neither did it identify the country alleged to have supplied the conspirators with money. Communist leaders, however, often have accused the United States of intrigue in Poland.

A massive roundup of former members of the home army smashed the plot, the police said. They reported "several scores" of suspects (that could mean up to more than 200) have been seized in the biggest security roundup in more than a year.

The people accused carried the banners of the home army in the 1944 uprising against the Nazis. After the war they opposed Russian domination of their country.

(Another Communist-led country, neighboring Czechoslovakia, also has reported trouble with conspirators who once fought the Nazis. Gen. Karel Kuttlwasser and 14 other officers accused of having participated in a plot to overthrow the Czech government are awaiting trial at Prague. A wide-scale roundup of suspects was made in that country, too, where eight soldiers were sentenced to prison Friday for planning a military mutiny.)

An unconfirmed report said a time bomb had been found near the meeting place of the council of ministers. This group, composed of President Boleslaw Beirut and six other officials, rules Poland by decree. Its pronouncements have immediate effect of law, and are approved at later sessions of parliament.

The ministry of public security said members of the home army organization and "other groups" had formed the conspiracy "liberally assisted with dollars from abroad."

The government long has accused the United States of provoking internal troubles in Poland.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ASKS COOPERATION

Chief Hales Points Out Dangers, Costs Of Ruining Hose With Automobiles

The Monroe fire department has asked motorists to be more considerate of its emergency operations and equipment being used while fighting fires.

Chief H. L. Hales related several instances where automobile drivers have disregarded fire hoses stretched across streets, causing harmful damage.

Hales said that when an automobile is driven over one of these hoses it breaks the fiber and rubber layers and tends to reduce its durability. In addition to being expensive to replace, a blemished fire hose may break while firemen are in action with these high pressure water conductors. A broken hose could mean the loss of a building or even a fireman's life should he become trapped inside a burning building, he added.

Policemen are usually dispatched to attend fires, the chief explained, but often they do not get the call in time to be at the fire by the time firemen begin their operations. It is this period between the time firemen

Churches, Legion, Other Institutions Given Funds

By H. H. Brinsmade
(Of The Morning World Staff)

With an evident love of humanity in his soul, Samuel Kranz, who died a few weeks ago, drew up in his own handwriting his last will and testament, dated Dec. 5, 1948 a few days before his death here. Kranz's last few years were darkened by the death in armed service on an overseas battle field of his only son and soon after his wife became fatally ill and died.

But these things did not sour the nature of the man. In his will he devised $28,500, largely to charity and worthwhile institutions.

With the thought of his wife's death in mind he led the list with a donation of $10,000 to the Damon Runyon Cancer Foundation. Then with thought of the son, Lester Kranz, who gave his life in the war, he bequeathed $3,000 to the American Legion post of Monroe as a memorial fund.

Then with his mind across the seas in distant Australia, he recalled that his son was engaged to a Miss Joan Langley in Melbourne, and he asked that she be given $1,000 of his estate's funds.

Disclosing his broadly religious mind, he bequeathed $1,000 to Temple B' Nai Israel in Monroe and $500 to each of the following churches: St. Matthew's Catholic, First Presbyterian, First Baptist and First Methodist churches.

The Ouachita unit of the Crippled Children organization is devised $3,000, the Lighthouse of the Blind in New Orleans is to receive $2,000, and other bequests to relatives are listed as follows:

To a sister, Mrs. Kranz Wetmore, $5,000; to Carol Davis and Mrs. Henry Davis, both of New Orleans, $2,000 each; to Mrs. Charles Saltzman, Monroe, $500.

Funiture and silver owned by him is to be sold and the money derived devoted to charity. Personal effects were to be given to Mrs. Sig Masur and Mrs. Edgar Masur, his sisters-in-law.

He concluded: "It is my wish that in the event I do not provide in my lifetime for the perpetuation of my father's and mother's graves in New Orleans and those of my wife and son in Monroe, I bequeath a sufficient sum from my estate for the perpetual care of said graves."

The will provided in addition that Jack Masur of Monroe and Solomon Goldman of New Orleans were to be executors of the will without furnishing bond.

ANSWER TO LI'S PROPOSALS GIVEN

Red Leaders Return Terms Of Peace; No Details Have Yet Been Released

By Harold K. Milks

NANKING, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Close associates of Acting President Li Tsung-Jen said tonight the Communists had answered his proposals for ending China's Civil War.

They gave no details, however. There was nothing from any quarter to indicate the Communists had in any way receded from their demands amounting to unconditional surrender of the government.

(In fact, a Communist broadcast, heard later in San Francisco by the Associated Press, questioned whether a government still existed and heaped new abuse on the peace-seekers. This tended to support a strong hint from Communist-ruled Peiping that the Reds would have no dealings with the government but would treat with "the Chinese people").

Li's associates said they nevertheless believed "at least the first step towards opening formal negotiations" had been taken. They evidently were more optimistic than they had been before.

This led to unsupported speculation that perhaps Li had found some way of direct communication with the Reds instead of the month-long, general wrangle by open radio broadcasts.

Coupled with this was word that Shao Lit-Tze, head of the govern-

SANITY REPORT ON DOWDY SCHEDULED

TALLULAH, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—A sanity hearing for young J. D. Dowdy, charged with the dynamite murder of Walter Dorman on October 22, has been set for February 15 in sixth district court here, Sheriff C. E. Hester said today.

Hester said a report had been filed by Dr. E. Otis Edgerton, coroner, and Dr. D. H. Allen. Judge Frank Voelker, Lake Providence, presides over the sixth district.

Dowdy is charged along with his 68-year-old father, G. R. Dowdy, with the murder of the 44-year-old Hattiesburg, Miss., electrician by destroying their fisherman's shack in an attempt to collect on insurance policies on the younger Dowdy.

Dowdy disappeared after the midnight blast, but was later captured near the Texas line by Caddo parish officers. Sheriff Hester has been credited with exceptionally fast work in breaking the case.

Frank A. Blanchard, Shreveport attorney previously retained to defend the Dowdys, has withdrawn from the case. The court appointed Miss Alwynne I. Mulhearn, Rufus T. Yerger, Jack H. Folk and Edgar Lancaster as defense counsels in his stead.

STILL NO TRACE

State police said last night that no trace of Robert T. Richardson, 805 Georgia street, Swift and Co. salesman missing since January 28 has been found. Richardson's bloodstained auto was found abandoned near Georgetown on Highway 165 last Sunday.

COUNCIL TO DODGE EXPLOSIVE ISSUE

Common Defense Matters Will Be Barred From Discussion At Beginning

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The five Brussels pact allies disclosed tonight the proposed "council of Europe"—the continent's first international parliament—would sidestep the explosive issue of common defense.

A communique issued by representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg sketched board outlines of the proposed council. It will be divided into a key committee of ministers and a consultative assembly with advisory powers.

The communique said discussion of common defense matters would be barred. This was interpreted as a move to forestall Soviet criticism of a European parliament by leaving the problem of mutual defense to the north Atlantic defense pact now being discussed by the United States and Canada with western European powers.

The communique, issued after a three-day meeting of the Brussels treaty permanent commission, made only limited recommendations for the

WOMAN IS INJURED IN FALL ON FLOOR

Mrs. W. R. Swinney, 800 Mitchell Lane, West Monroe, received a severe side injury and possible broken ribs shortly before 3 p. m. yesterday when she slipped and fell while scrubbing her kitchen floor.

Mrs. Swinney said she slipped on soap powder and when she hit the floor, a pan struck her in the side.

She was taken by a Davis-Lawhead ambulance to the Conway Memorial hospital where doctors taped up her side and told her to return Monday for an x-ray. Attendants at the hospital did not give her condition, but Mrs. Swinney, who was at home last night, stated that the injury was still very painfull.

ACTION ON LABOR MEASURE LAGGING AS BREAK WIDENS

Democrats And Republicans Wrangle Noisily But Accomplish Little

PEPPER, TAFT EXCHANGE WORDS IN SENATE GROUP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Democrats and Republicans of the senate labor committee clashed noisily again today as the committee's hearings on labor law lagged far behind schedule.

With seven witnesses waiting to testify, the senators spent most of the day questioning a witness left over from last night—Ludwig Teller, a New York lawyer.

While Teller was in the chair, Senator Pepper (D.-Fla.) got into a sarcastic exchange with Senator Taft (R.-Ohio). Pepper referred to a Taft news conference yesterday when the Ohioan predicted that congress will retain two-thirds of the Taft-Hartley labor law. He accused Taft of being "inaccurate and erroneous."

Pepper, with irony in his voice, paraphrased Taft as saying it had become clear from the hearings that there would be no more than a nominal repeal of the Taft-Hartley act. Taft cut in sharply to deny he had said it.

Taft reiterated that the final result of congress' work on a new labor law would amount to an amendment of

N. J. C. HAS 500 ENROLLED FRIDAY

Figures Show Slight Drop But Dean Says Situation Normal For College

Over 500 students had enrolled for the spring semester at Northeast Junior College when registration closed Friday afternoon after a two-day period, announced B. S. Hamner, registrar. This number represents a satisfactory enrollment, according to Dean Rodney Cline.

Though these figures show a decrease compared with the fall registration, the situation is a normal one for the college, which usually has a drop in enrollment for the second semester, the dean explained.

The list of registrants shows several newcomers to Northeast Junior College. The group comprises high school graduates, persons transferring from other colleges and a few special students.

Enrollment will be extended through Monday to those who were unable to register last week because of illness or other conditions beyond their control. All students who are entering N. J. C. for the first time are requested to bring their transcripts of credits in order to facilitate registration. Veterans who are newcomers to the campus are asked to have their certificates of eligibility.

High school graduates who plan to enter college Monday because of their inability to do so earlier will be able to schedule enough beginning courses to make their entrance in college at mid-term practical, Mr. Hamner said.

Courses available are included in the following curricula: arts and sciences, agriculture and home economics, biological and natural sciences including chemistry and hysics, engineering, pre-medical, pre-nursing, pre-dental and pre-technician commerce, music, elementary and high school teacher training health and physical education, languages, social science, military science and tactics.

Regular class work will start Monday morning.

Cardinal Asks God's Guidance For Judges

Trial Is Adjourned Until Tuesday; Verdicts To Be Returned By Jurists Upon Catholic Prince And Co-Defendants At First Session

By Endre Marton

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, aware the prosecution has demanded his death, asked tonight that God grant guidance to his judges so their verdict will help promote world peace.

He also besought the love of the Roman Catholic Church for the Communist-dominated Hungarian state which is trying him on treason charges.

"May the Lord give wisdom to the court, when they pass their sentence, which may help a settlement at home and abroad," the slender Roman Catholic primate said in his final plea.

Earlier Prosecutor Gyula Elapi called for a verdict "hard and inexorable"—death on the gallows—for Cardinal Mindszenty and his six co-defendants. Defense pleas were entered for "leniency, and a wise decision." In addition to treason, all are accused of espionage and illegal money dealings.

Presiding Judge Vilmos Olthys adjourned the trial tonight until 9 a. m. (3 a. m., E. S. T.) Tuesday, when the verdicts will be announced.

Cardinal Mindszenty made a 15-minute appeal to the court.

He said he had been held more than 40 days by the police and the court.

"They ask me (questions) and I answer," he said.

"The questions and the answers are not only for those who question me, but in the meantime the man also gives an answer for his own soul. From these answers which I give myself, I can draw the conclusion that I did not lose my good will in the course of my life and I am thankful for that to my God."

The Cardinal said again he regretted past conflict with Hungarian laws.

"I state that, according to my belief, I am not and I have never been the enemy of the Hungarian people," he said. "I have no controversies with the workers and with the peasants, to whom I and my family belong.

"I have no intention of taking away any rights from any category, but after the tragedy of the world war a most difficult historical role was waiting for me and it would have been my task to be the announcer of the light of the evangelism."

The cardinal pointed out the bench of Hungarian bishops, blessed the peasants given property from large estates and has said repeatedly the Catholic Church would never ask for return of confiscated acres.

"I am thankful to my God that, according to my severe conscience, I am not an enemy of peace," the cardinal said. "I had never been against peace. I only pointed out emphatically certain preliminary conditions in the interest of a long and lasting (church-state) peace."

He said he had confessed already that "I came into conflict with the laws of the state in certain things concerning finances."

"I have already offered restitution. That is my earnest (wish).

"I prayed this morning to my Lord and asked for peace in these heavy days. I brought the love of my church to this courtroom, and I beg for this love for the Hungarian state, to which I have shown obedience here.

"I also beg for this love for myself and may the Lord give wisdom to the court, when they pass their sentence, which may help a settlement at home and abroad."

Presiding Judge Olthys, dapper professional jurist who shares the bench with four laymen, is the man who ordered Victor Csornoky hanged on a treason charge late last year. Csornoky, a young diplomat, was the son-in-law of President Zoltan Tildy. Tildy had to resign.

Prosecutor Elapi took up early in his summation reports that the Cardinal was drugged, tortured or threa-

FREIGHT CARS JUMP TRACK NEAR WISNER

WINNSBORO, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—Four cars of a southbound Missouri Pacific freight train jumped the track four miles south of Wisner today shortly after 3 p. m., B. G. Coulter, Winnsboro agent for the company, announced late Saturday afternoon.

Coulter said that no definite reason had been found for the derailment of the four cars, which were near the middle of the train. He said there was a possibility that the railroad bed may have become soft and mushy due to recent rains and snow. No other obvious reason existed, Coulter said.

Wreckage had not been removed from the track late Saturday afternoon but railroad officials expect the track to be clear by midnight, Coulter added.

A northbound mail and passenger train was held up Saturday afternoon at the point where the wreck occurred but passengers and mail were taken aboard a bus to be carried to their destination.

No injuries were reported to have resulted from the derailment.

L. S. U. DECLINES FOOTBALL REQUEST

Stoke Seeks Pay Boost For Instructors; Says Level Dropped Dangerously

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A request to stage a professional football game in Louisiana State's Tiger Stadium here was turned down by the university's board of supervisors today.

Refusal followed President Harold A. Stoke's remark that L. S. U. "should not become associated with circuses, comedians and professional football if it wants to be recognized as an educational institution."

The request came from the East Baton Rouge Lions Club, which said it wanted Tiger Stadium as the site for a charity game between the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Dr. Stoke told board members he believed the plan was "unwise" and would place the university "in no position to refuse other requests" of a similar nature. Several members agreed, saying "the line must be drawn somewhere," and refusal was voted unanimously.

The board also authorized Dr. Stoke to draw up a new salary schedule for faculty members, embodying proposed increases, for submission at the next meeting, in a report on the progress of the university today. Dr. Stoke had suggested that higher fac-

Federal Pocketbook Gets New Watchdog In Passman

By Gordon Brown
(AP Special Washington Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—When the house put Rep. Otto Passman (D.-La.) on its appropriations committee, the government pocketbook acquired a new watchman.

For Passman, himself a successful Monroe, La., businessman, is an advocate of economy and good business principles in government.

Moreover, he's an expert bookkeeper, adept at figures, and a tireless worker.

It all adds up to the fact that if he can find ways to cut down on the nation's budget—and he thinks he can—he'll do his best to put his ideas across.

Passman shakes his head at the size of the budget proposed for next year—$42,000,000,000.

"Why," he says, "the interest on the national debt alone is larger than the federal government's income in 1940, the last peace year before the war."

"There must be," he says, "someway, some place to cut the country's spending."

Passman says he will support much of the president's program but there will be instances where he will differ and try to pare down the budget estimates.

For instance, he remarked, he will favor whittling down on funds for the European recovery program.

"I'm for the program in theory. I think it is fine. But it's straining the country's economy to support it. Let's worry about our own situation a little and cut down on this spending."

Passman also would like to see a reduction in the number of federal employes, which he says now is in excess of 2,000,000. Make some arbitrary cuts in the various departments, if necessary, he says. If something essential is hampered, then a restoration can be made.

But unless something drastic is done, he contends, the number will just keep on growing. Already, he

FIRE DEPARTMENT TO BE IMPROVED

JONESVILLE, Feb. 5.—(Special)—Tillman Crutchfield, town council member in charge of the Jonesville volunteer fire department, stated this week that he is planning a reorganization of the unit so that the "best possible work can be done with the equipment at hand."

Announcement came following two fires within a week. One fire completely destroyed the two-story frame building of a Negro storekeeper while the other caused only minor damage at a fish dock.

Crutchfield said that he believed that the store could have been saved if the fire truck could have reached the scene before the fire was out of hand, but sight-seers cars stuck in the mud of a newly-dug street delayed the truck too long.

He asked the people of Jonesville to cooperate with the fire department by staying away from fires unless they were going to help in fighting them.

One phase of the reorganization will include making official checks into the cause of the fire and the extent of its damage, he said.

ANOTHER STORM IS SCHEDULED FOR WEST

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 5—(AP)—Another storm was moving into Wyoming today accompanied by strong winds, blowing snow and promise of subzero readings again.

The state emergency relief board reported fresh snowfall and winds up to 50 miles an hour were hampering the work of snow plow crews in virtually all sections of the state except the extreme southeastern corner.

The new storm came after the state had experienced its warmest night in many nights. Only two stations reported temperatures below the zero mark. They were Sheridan with a minus four and Cody with a minus one.

WORLD DAY FOR PRAYER ARRANGED

Friday, March 4, has been set aside as world day of prayer by the United Church Women throughout the world, and will be observed in the Twin Cities with services to be held in the Memorial Presbyterian Church of West Monroe at 2 p. m.

Since the year 1800, women from a number of denominations have met for prayer. In 1927 the day of prayer for missions became for the first time the World Day of Prayer, and each year since the movement has grown until 1948 there were 74 countries participating.

This is a wonderful example of a world Christian community becoming a reality. Christian worship is never a solitary undertaking. It is as a member of a great family that all who come together will pray on the first Friday of Lent.

LEHLEITNER TO BE KIWANIS SPEAKER

George H. Leleitner, of New Orleans, well known wholesaler, will address the Monroe Kiwanis Club Wednesday, February 9, on the subject, "Statehood for Hawaii."

Mr. Leleitner was in command of a naval vessel, the U. S. S. Rotanin during the war, and several times visited Pearl Harbor, and thus became acquainted at first hand with the islands and the fight for statehood.

An intensive study of the situation convinced him that Hawaii was entitled to the statehood it was seeking, and since his return to civil life in the spring of 1946, Mr. Leleitner has devoted much of his time to the promotion of this cause.

He returned to Hawaii last summer for further "on the spot" study of the subject, and comes to Monroe with considerable information as it pertains to statehood for Hawaii and what it means as a toe of strength in Pacific fortification.

The Catahoula parish planning board is headed by E. E. Johnson as chairman, with D. E. Wooding, R. B. Fritz, W. C. Brown, Henry Krause, E. W. Chisum, Sr., S. E. Richardson and Y. E. Sheppard as members. Ex-officio members are H. A. Taliaferro, Dr. C. E. Enete, C. A. McGuffee and W. S. Peck, Jr.

'LOST WIFE' CHANGES MIND, WANTS HUSBAND

BRISTOW, Okla., Feb. 5—(AP)—Mrs. Ella Mershon, 67, changed her mind again today and said she wanted Barkeley Burris, 72, the husband from whom she was separated 42 years ago to return.

Burris and Mrs. Mershon were reunited this week but decided to part again, chiefly because of financial reasons. He left yesterday for his home at Plainview, Tex.

But she said today, "I want him to come back."

The couple was separated in 1906 after Burris left his wife to seek work. They lost contact and later each heard the other was dead. Mrs. Mershon remarried and raised a family. Her husband died three years ago. She and Burris were reunited after he met Mrs. Mershon's brother in Texas recently and learned she still was alive.

JANUARY BLOOD DONORS GIVEN

Judge W. M. Harper States That 93 Rallied To Cause Last Month

Judge W. M. Harper submits herewith a list of blood donors to the Red Cross Blood Bank of which he is the committee chairman. There were 93 contributors in January which is quite gratifying. It is now recognized that a total of 150 pints of blood will be needed monthly to supply local requirements. Several emergency appeals were cared for during the month just ended.

Particularly appreciated are the donations of the 10th, 7th, 5th, 4th and 3rd donors, it being noted that John Salisbury has now contributed his second pint toward his second gallon, and will doubtlessly soon join the ranks of the "Three Gallon Club," which, in Blood Bank circles, is probably equal to the Silver Beaver award in Scouting.

The Red Cross maintains a highly trained specialist in the person of Mrs. Jane Lancaster, a registered nurse who has special training in this type of work, and who is devoting her entire time to the blood bank. In addition, a local doctor is always available in case of emergency, thereby surrounding the work with every possible safeguard. It is noteworthy, however, that although many hundreds of withdrawals have been made, no serious reaction has been suffered by a donor since the local blood bank came into existence. Before a donor is accepted by the blood bank a careful examination of heart and blood pressure is made.

All persons below 60 and in good health are invited to join in this work and join the ranks of those contributors who have saved both suffering and life by their sacrifices.

No more surplus dried plasma will be shipped from Red Cross to state health offices because of exhaustion of supply. The national blood program, operating in hundreds of communities over the nation, now has the full responsibility of supplying whole blood and plasma. The exhaustion of the former surplus of plasma accumulated during the war, strikes home the seriousness of Red Cross responsibility. Therefore the job of supplying whole blood through the various blood banks must be done well lest a neighbor or loved one suffer unnecessarily or forfeit his life for lack of blood.

Persons in the parish or nearby parishes wishing to join in this work and become donors, may do so by phoning the Red Cross office 6780 or by writing a card or letter giving name and address and asking for appointment.

10th donation, J. A. Salisbury; 7th donation, Warren Harker; 5th donation, Thomas Hale, R. S. Baggott; 4th donation, Sam Blackwell, Thomas Agnew, Sam Hartman, Harold Riggs, Tom Serwich; 3rd donation, Boyd Bush, Henry Haas, Jr., Bernie Wilenzick, Mrs. A. T. Ultszch, I. W. Kilpatrick, Charles Biggar, Mrs. Helen Agnew, Dan Bivens, Bill Crossfield, Bill Goldsmith; 2nd donation, M. H. Hammett, Mrs. W. L. Fox, George Riser, Lt. Mulbarger, Don Kiper, D. O. Thompson, J. C. Lolly, C. C. Crockett, D. L. Agnew, Sr., Thomas Vickers, Walker Glenn, A. F. Turner, T. I. NEGRO CONFESSES HE KILLED WIFE

A 38-year-old Monroe Negro yesterday morning admitted shooting and fatally injuring his wife at their 2905 Jackson street dwelling following an early Saturday morning argument which he said he could not recall, Police Chief H. T. Ward stated.

The victim, Grace Dumas, died in a local hospital some three hours after she was shot with a .22 caliber rifle, Dr. J T. French, parish coroner, said. Dr. French said death was attributed to a bullet wound in the head.

District Attorney Fred Fudickar said either manslaughter or murder charges would be filed against Dumas when an investigation of the case is completed.

Meanwhile Dumas is being held in the Ouachita parish jail without bond.

Monroe police reported that Dumas admitted shooting his wife but could not give an account of their argument. The Negro told officers he had been out drinking and when he came home an argument started which resulted in the fatal shooting.

VOTING PRECINCT DIVISION ASKED

JONESVILLE, Feb. 5.—(Special)—The Jonesville town council this week passed a resolution asking the Catahoula parish police jury to divide Jonesville's one voting precinct. The request will be made officially at a meeting of the police jury Monday.

The Jonesville box has approximately 850 voters who live within and without the corporate limits of the town. Division of the precinct to two boxes, one for voters in the town and one for voters living outside the limits, will be asked. Such division would facilitate town elections and also make election day easier on commissioners, who have shown reluctance to serve because of the long hours necessary for the vote counts.

Boy Scout Week

"Boys will be boys," they say.

But we're sure you'll agree they'll be better, friendlier, happier boys if they're in the ranks of the Boy Scouts of America. For 39 years, the Boy Scouts have made an increasing contribution to a better America through a well-planned, up-to-date program to meet boys' interests.

It's a program of adventure that appeals to every boy, when he knows about it. And there's the rub.

Many a boy of 12 or over still needs to be informed of the exciting activities of scouting. Many a parent needs to discover the values of scouting for his boy. Many an adult needs to find out the enjoyment to be derived from helping boys find themselves through scouting. Many a civic institution should look into the merits and advantages of sponsoring a troop of Boy Scouts.

For these reasons we're taking the opportunity—during Boy Scout Week—to fulfill our obligation as an information-medium, by reminding you of your responsibility to the boys of America—the Men of Tomorrow!

Need For Sharp Teeth

John L. Lewis' name figured prominently in a conversation between Secretary of Labor Tobin and the senate labor commmittee the other day. This was quite natural. For the administration substitute for the Taft-Hartley law, which Mr. Tobin was trying to sell, says something about national emergencies created by strikes. And that inevitably brings Mr. Lewis to mind.

Mr. Lewis didn't invent the idea of threatening to paralyze the nation in order to get what union labor wants from its employers. But he brought it to full flower. Until Mr. Lewis got to feeling his oats, the intervention of the president and the force of public opinion were usually enough to halt such a strike until agreement was reached. But it took stronger measures to turn Mr. Lewis from his apparent willingness to let railroads halt, factories shut down and houses grow cold until his demands were met.

That is why congress gave the president a power of injunction in the Taft-Hartley law. Mr. Truman used it against threatened strikes by maritime unions and atomic energy workers as well as against the miners' union and its president. But it seems safe to say that if there had been no John L. Lewis there would have been no injunctive power in the Taft-Hartley law.

Now the administration which used that injunctive power without any expressed regret or apology wants to abandon it. The proposed labor relations act shortens the cooling off period after a strike notice from 80 to 30 days. At the end of this shorter period the bill leaves the government powerless in case striking unions decide to close the mines, stop ships or railroads, shut down communications or electric power, or do anything else that would cause extreme danger or inconvenience to the national life.

Secretary Tobin's explanation of this was rather curious. Answering questions which pertained directly to Mr. Lewis, he said public opinion would enforce the 30-day cooling off period and force a settlement in that time. He also defended the shorter period by saying that "conditions are different now" than they were during the wartime and early postwar coal strikes, "for you have a 90 to 100 days' coal supply above ground."

We can't imagine much stronger expression of public opinion than that which greeted Mr. Lewis during the shutdowns that Secretary Tobin referred to. Nor can we imagine that Mr. Lewis has changed so much that he would now bow to public opinion after he had defied both the people and the president in the midst of a war for national existence.

Mr. Tobin's second point suggests a new approach to law-making. Congress apparently should base a broadly inclusive, long-range phase of legislation on the amount of coal above ground at the moment. It should take away all the government's weapons for protecting the public welfare in any strike-induced national emergency on the assumption that Mr. Lewis would never let a coal strike run on after the coal supply has run out.

Injunctions against labor are not desirable. But John L. Lewis has repeatedly shown an absorbing concern for personal power and membership support, and a scant regard for how he gets them. Some other union officials have shown the same symptoms. In Mr. Lewis' case particularly, it is dubious wisdom to assign the responsibility for preventing national-emergency strikes to the man who has created them.

Look And Listen!

Friday morning a woman narrowly escaped serious injury or possible death when a passenger train struck the automobile she was driving at the Third street Illinois Central crossing. The car was carried more than a hundred feet and rolled off the locomotive's cowcatcher, remaining upright, when the train was brought to a halt. The lady crawled out of the car unhurt.

That's one for Ripley; such "miracles" don't happen every day, and it's a pretty safe bet that the next time a similar accident occurs, the victim won't be so fortunate.

Last Sunday The World carried a rather complete story describing the new flashing signal lights which have been installed by the railroad at the six downtown crossings. We called attention to the fact that these lights have replaced the crossing watchmen who for years have been directing traffic in this area. We noted that Monroe motorists had become accustomed to driving across railroad tracks at signals from the watchmen, and urged that care be exercised in approaching these hazards now that the new system had been placed in operation.

We reiterate that motorists should familiarize themselves with the new signal devices. The next driver whose car is struck by a locomotive may not escape so lightly.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 5—The Howard Hughes-Jean Peters dationgs may not lead to the altar, but they seem devoted • • • I hear from Australia that Freddie Bartholomew is scoring a screen comeback there and will stay indefinitely • • • Amazing how many people are trying to cash in on publicity tied up with the Rita Hayworth-Aly Khan romance. For instance, consider the report that a white-elephant mansion, near Santa Monica, Calif., is being purchased by the Indian moneybags for a price of $800,000. Actually, the house was offered, completely furnished, for $150,000 a couple of years ago.

Henry O'Neill, the character actor, is in Hollywood Hospital, being treated for stomach ulcers • • • Robert Walker slipped into Hollywood the other day to see his children, then returned to the Kansas clinic where he's undergoing treatment. Pals report his condition "much better" • • • The Richard Lupino signed for a role in MGM's "Forsythe Saga" is Ida's 25-year-old brother • • • Ewell Blackwell, ace moundsman for the Cleveland Indians, is recovering in a Glendale, Calif., hospital from a major abdominal operation.

Look for Hillary Brooke to marry hat-designer Jaime Ballard • • • the Whit Bissells (he scored in "He Walks by Night" and will play a big role in "Anna Lucasta") are celebrating the birth of a daughter • • • Blue-pencil those reports, printed elsewhere, that Mrs. George Raft will give her long-estranged spouse a divorce; she says nothing doing, now or ever.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: Warner Brother's "John Loves Mary" (Ronald Reagan-Jack Carson-Patricia Neal-Wayne Morris). Top-notch comedy from beginning to end, and a promising debut for Patricia Neal, one of the best bets among Hollywood's newcomers • • • GOOD: Columbia's "The Big Sombrero" (Gene Autry-Elena Verdugo). A corn-free western that offers conclusive proof of the good entertainment possibilities inherent in such fare • • • Columbia's "Shockproof" (Cornel Wilde-Patricia Knight - John Baragrey). Tense, well-plotted melodrama that will keep you on the edge of your seat. Patricia Knight (Mrs. Cornel Wilde) looks like a promising performer • • • SO-SO: Universal-International's "The Life of Riley" (William Bendix-James Gleason-Rosemary de Camp). Too broad for belief, but Bendix fans should love it • • • BEST PERFORMANCE: Patricia Neal in "John Loves Mary."

Maybe it's just that I've passed the impressionable age, but I can't seem to get properly steamed up by the inevitable publicity dispatches which are rushed out by every studio when it produces a picture containing kissing scenes. Typically, such publicity takes on a mathematical format. For instance, consider the following gem, submitted (breathlessly) by MGM. It reads: "Six times in one scene, the lips of Clark Gable and Alexis Smith met, with the camera less than three feet away to record the event in a large close-up. The scene, directed by Mervyn LeRoy, lasted six minutes, with the kisses interrupted by whispered dialogue, averaging better than twenty seconds each in length, unusually long for screen osculation." Now I contend that only a mechanical draftsman, a surveyor or some of the other craftsmen who are trained to react emotionally to precise figures can get an emotional reaction out of that story. The rest of us merely suffer a chill when kisses are timed with a stop watch.

I'm intrigued by one remark made, just prior to her wedding, by Linda Christian. Said she: "Most girls get infatuated and marry right away. That's no good. I waited over a year after I met Ty until I knew him well." In the abstract that may be excellent philosophy, but it's sorta funny, coming from Linda. Unless all observers were completely haywire, she was not only willing, but exceedingly anxious, to become Mrs. Ty without any waiting at all.

And still the powers-to-be in the movie industry continue to get together behind closed doors and debate about colossal programs to improve the public's opinion of Hollywood. Apparently the studio czars are worried about "public relations," apparently they want to court favor—and, also apparently they haven't yet discovered the one quick, cheap and certain way to reach the goal. All they need to do is to invoke, in a few flagrant cases, those much-talked about moral codes and give the gate to a few of their persistent trouble-makers. They'd be deafened by the public's cheers.

News that Joan Bennett has made a deal to sell her perfumes, via automatic vending machines, in theatre lobbies, does credit to her business judgment. Considering the caliber of certain pictures, the sales should be terrific.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

A plausible philosophy of life has said, "Be good and you will be happy." But if happiness consists in being free from danger, and immune from pain, the sufferings of good men, often persecuted because of their very goodness, have revealed how false is that easy adage.

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have suffered with the guilty. It is the mystery of the Cross, and the suffering and sacrifice of Christ himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced fellow-townsmen as He began His ministry in Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry. Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another. But unfortunately it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

It was not unnatural that the claims of Jesus should be questioned by some, as they had been by his own brothers (John 5:7). But why should His pronouncement of the forgiveness of sins have aroused such hatred? If He had no power to forgive sins, the sins would not be forgiven. To question His authority was one thing—to hate Him, and seek to kill Him, was another.

Again, the Sabbath was a noble Jewish institution, a symbol of the utmost sacredness and devotion. Its observance called forth the loftiest feelings in devout Jews. But when its observance became so formal that concern for the welfare of one's fellowmen was obliterated, the glory of the Sabbath was lost. To break the Sabbath, in their idea of it, was a greater sin than to have hatred and murder in one's heart.

The opposition of certain Scribes and Pharisees and official religious authorities had more justification. They were the official representatives of religion. As Jesus himself said, they "sat in Moses' seat." They had some warrant for asking this unofficil zealot from Nazareth, "By what authority doest thou these things? And who gave thee this authority?"

The mistake that they made was in ignoring the actual words and deeds, in being blind to the authority of goodness, and in hating One whom the people heard gladly.

Are we wiser than those of old? Is religion our response to the goodness of God, or is it dominated by prejudice and bigotry?

Thurman Sensing,

Director of Research, Southern States Industrial Council:

DOWN SOUTH

BUSINESS MUST WAKE UP!

There is no reason on earth why everybody in the United States of America who is anybody should not firmly believe in our constitutional republican form of government, should not believe in free enterprise and individual initiative and competition and incentive. It has produced more things for more people than any other system devised by man. No one wants to leave the United States. Millions and millions of people would like to come to the United States.

Why, then, do we have proposed for passage by the present administration legislation that would destroy our traditional form of government and replace it with a socialistic form of government? Why are we seeing free enterprise and individual initiative and competition replaced by government regulation and government control? Why are we seeing incentive killed by taxation?

Why have so many people in this nation come to the belief that the government will take care of them? Who do they think will take care of the government? Has the government all of a sudden seized unto itself some great source of income other than from the people that it can use to provide for the people all sorts of things for which they will not have to pay? Is the government now some great outside agency that no longer belongs to the people?

We know that no such change has come about, that progress and prosperity and well-being still depend upon the same qualities as always. We know that all experience and all history proves to us that government regulation and government control and government ownership—in other words, a socialist government—inevitably lead to wastefulness and extravagance, to mediocrity and a lower standard of living, and eventually to bankruptcy and oblivion. We know that the present situation has come upon us because the people of this nation have been deceived, deluded, and mislead, because they have not been informed, and because they do not think.

If all the legislation proposed by the present administration is put into force it will mean the end of the free enterprise system in America. And yet it is this very system, as chiefly illustrated by American business and industry, that has made this nation what it is. American business and American industry have furnished the goods and have furnished the means upon which the strength of this nation rests. And yet American business and American industry have let the proponents of centralization and bureaucracy and regimentation take the ball away from them and run with it. Moreover, if these forces are not held for downs, free enterprise has lost the game. And it may be closer to time for the closing whistle than we think!

American business must wake up! It must unite! It must become vocal! It must provide leadership in thought as well as action! There is no room now for whatever selfishness may be left in American business. Every business and industrial concern in this nation must realize it has an obligation beyond its own enterprise. Every business and trade organization must realize it has an obligation beyond its own association. This obligation is to do everything in its power to preserve free enterprse to the nation, to take united action in representing the cause of free enterprise, to inform the people what is happening to free enterprise and what will result therefrom to take part in affairs of government that control free enterprise.

Surely, we shall not let socialism seize us by default!

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

NEW LOOK STATISTICAL

Here's the way to organize a federal grand jury in New York according to the lawyers for the dozen Communists on trial here. Let us say that New York has roughly 8,000,000 citizens. In that case, the grand jury should, according to their concepts, be split up on this way by racial and religious origin:

Negroes	3.6	Persons
Jews (racial)	6.4	"
Italian-Americans	3.1	"
Irish-Americans	.5	"
Puerto Ricans	.7	"
German-Americans	.2	"
Finns	.05	"
Greeks	.1	"
The Waterfront	.1	"
Murder, Inc.	.1	"
Catholics	3.	"
Protestants	3.	"
Jews (religious)	3.	"
Total	23.85	"

This list, however, discriminates. No one should discriminate. First of all, it has eight and a half tenths of one juror too many. The court will either have to omit the Finns and Puerto Ricans or in some other manner make this list equal and anti-discriminatory. Furthermore, there is duplication because the Irish are probably Catholics and the Jews are undoubtedly Jews. Also, although the Greeks belong to the Orthodox church, that church, as such, is not represented on the grand jury. This poses a dialectical problem that should be referred to the Kremlin for decision.

Furthermore, the list is all screwy anyhow because some 50 nationalities compose the population of New York City, including Chinese, Japanese, Syrians and Americans, to say nothing of Swedes and Canadians. None of them are represented at all. In fact, there can be no room for Americans prior to the second generation from an immigrant ancestor, because some of them live on Park avenue, which is to be opposed.

The Communist lawyers have brought into court Dr. Doxey Wilkerson, who once was in the OPA but now teaches Marxism in the Jefferson school of social sciences here. Dr. Wilkerson is a profound Negro sociologist. He is an expert in the use of red and yellow pins, which he sticks into maps. The object of his performance is to prove that in selecting a grand jury, all Bowery flophouses have been avoided.

By such discrimination, Judge John C. Knox, who presides over the federal court in the southern district of New York, displays an inappropriate and improper, to say nothing of immaterial, incapability of appreciating the class struggle, particularly in its manifestation of the rise of the proletariat from the gutter to overcome the oppression of the masses by those who have had a measure of success in life and paytaxes. Only the untaxable should sit on grand juries because they alone have nothing else to do and have demonstrated that they do not have the intelligence to do anything else.

Judge Harold R. Medina is particularly unfit to preside over such a trial, because as Howard Fast proves in a "Daily Worker" pen sketch of the jurist, which will live everlastingly in the literature of the revolution, the judge's mustaches move up and and down and seem to express views. Is it in accordance with the dialectics of the great biologist Lysenko (what! You never heard of him—you Wall Street slave!) that a mustache should move even when the judge does not move? Also, the judge was a professor of law at Columbia University and therefore is associated with the law and is prejudiced against the defendants and their lawyers and against the Kremlin, which is heresy. Besides, he did not vote for Vito Marcantonio.

So, to reach a conclusion, the judge and grand jury should forthwith be purged. They should be shown clemency for not knowing what they do, and should be shipped to Siberia. Meanwhile, the government of the United States should be turned over to the defendants and their lawyers, particularly those who have sacrificed themselves for the revolution, and also to those who swiped documents from the state department.

What Others Say:

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Majority editorial opinion is that the bitter—but wide open—fight in Omaha for the chairmanship of the Republican national committee offers more promise of future party vitality than fear of disintegration. But the majority agrees that the committee's 54 to 50 vote retaining Hugh Scott as its chairman was a temporary compromise offering little indication of future party policy. Some editors note that the party's policy will be determined principally by the Republicans in congress.

Dayton (Ohio) News (Ind.-Dem.): "While the line was imperfectly drawn . . the meeting adjourned with the party split hopelessly. The Republican party has survived many a split — the Horace Greeley defection in 1872, the 'mugwumps' in 1884, the free silver ites in 1896, the Progressives in 1912, the LaFollette movement in 1924. An economic debacle in the Truman term could bring the party back again. Lacking such help, its state could grow worse. A party so deeply divided could even dissolve, as this party's ancestors, the Federalists and the Whigs . . . did."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Post (Ind.): "Our guess is that the oratorical bloodletting will not lead to party anemia. . . . The slugfest may well be just what was needed to end G. O. P. sluggishness — a sign of a rise in the arty's red-corpuscle count. We remember back in the 20's every time the Democratic national committee met there was a grand and gory battle royal. . . . The pundits wept bitterly into their prohibition near beer that the Democrats could never again win a national election because they would first spend their energies knocking each other out."

Indianapolis (Ind.) Star (Ind.-Rep.): "Cnairman Scott is closely identified with the Dewey forces who still seem bent on controlling party machinery even though Mr. Dewey has announced he will not run for the presidency again. The Dewey connection will make it very difficult for Mr. Scott to build a unified and unfactional national committee. The closeness of the vote for Mr. Scott, 54 to 50, indicates how wide the split in G. O. P. leadership is. If that split runs downs through the party organization, Republicans might as well kiss their chances for success at the polls in 1950 and 1952 goodbye."

Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer (Dem.): "Scott clung to his job . . . but had to make important concessions to his foes. . . . In order to hang on, Scott had to repudiate Dewey and the Dewey campaign of last fall (largely managed by Dewey's 'Albany group' rather than Scott). . . .The lesson for the Democrats is that the Republicans still think control of their party machinery is important enough to justify making a spectacle of themselves in a fight for control."

St. Louis (Mo.) Globe-Democrat (Ind.): "No punches were pulled as he (Scott) was roundly criticised from the floor and he obviously is on trial. . . . For the party's future, this is good. Out of the differences, which bordered on the bitter, should emerge a virile G. O. P. with a national policy which will command the attention of the voters. If there isn't such a policy, coupled with capable and dynamic direction, the party will merely have nuisance value, and the Democrats will go on winning . . . "

Philadelphia (Pa.) Bulletin (Ind.): "Varied as were the forces against Scott, essentially the committee's trouble was an inability to agree on why the party lost the election. Was it Dewey's failure to stand forthrightly on the record of the Republican 80th congress, or was it the deeds of that Congress? Scott's first move after his victory was to try to cement breaches by appointments to the executive committee. . . . Whether the national committee eventually will be able to decide on general policy or not, it is in congress that the party record will be written."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Times-Star (Rep.): "Scott showed at Omaha what was not greatly in evidence in the recent campaign, that he knew how to fight. If this precludes a purpose to follow through and put the Republican organization in fighting trim, the disappointment widely felt over the failure to choose a chairman from territory at some distance from the Atlantic seaboard (Scott is from Pennsylvania) will soon be dispelled."

Washington D. C.) Star (Ind.): "The real question raised by the Omaha fracas is not whether the Republicans will be able to pull themselves together, but whether they will be able to evolve a political program that will appeal to the voters. On this score, there is not the slightest evidence of agreement, present or prospective. . . . A look at the list of his (Scott's) supporters does not reveal any identifiable political pattern."

OUR CHILDREN

THE NEW YEAR

The return of a new year is a dispensation of an all-wise, all-kindly Providence which allows us to wipe out all the mistakes, all the griefs of the past year and to being with a roll of clean new days ahead waiting our will and way to fill them with good and worthy deeds.

is as important to forget as it is to remember. Unless we learn what, when and how to forget, we clutter our minds and weight our spirit with a burden of woe that turns bitter in our mouth so that we lose any fine taste we had for life.

Each day brings its disappointments. As long as men dream and hope they will, because of their human limitations, meet disappointments. These are not to be cherished but to be promptly wiped out after careful examination to discover what wisdom they may hold for the future. A mistake can be quite as strengthening and enriching as a success.

Sorrow comes to us all. We are allowed three days for the recovery of the spirit, and after that we must rise and go forward with life. Time is a great healer and wise people allow it to do its perfect work of covering the heart's scars and offering its compensations.

There is none alive who does not suffer injustice, the serpent sting of disloyalty, the unmerited hurt inflicted by one near and dear to him. But all that is to be forgotten, wiped out.

Failures of whatever sort must be forgotten as soon as they have been

PITCHING HORSESHOES

(Note: This is the second column Billy Rose has turned in while on a trip around the world.)

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 28.—(By Airmail)—Last night Eleanor and I had dinner with George Kallman, R. K. O.'s representative here, and over the shrimp he told us that Argentina produces the best beefsteak and the tear-jerkingest movies in the world. A few minutes later when we sank our bicuspids into a slab of baby beef, we knew that part 1 of his brag was true and, later in the evening when we saw our first Argenine movie at the Ideal, we knew there wasn't much argument about part 2 either.

Nevertheless, despite its sobbing and soliloquizing there were certain technical gazeldos in the film which interested me, and so this morning my lady and I went out to Moreno where the studio which produced it is located. There, Carlos Alfredo Tornquist, bossman of Emelco, showed us around the lot and, after a couple of hours of comparing the B. A. and L. A. techniques, we had to admit there wasn't much difference between our talent and tedium and theirs.

As we were watching them shoot a ballroom scene on one of the sound stages, I happened to notice one of the extras—a portly old boy with a Barrymorish profile—who was waxing his mustachios in a pocket mirror.

"Who's the gent with the multiple tummies?" I asked Senor Tornquist.

"He's no one in particular right now," said Carlos, "but in the days of silent movies he was the idol of all senoritas from the Strait of Magellan to the Isthmus of Panama."

"I get it," said Eleanor. "The John Gilbert of the Pampas. The old story of the star who was ruined by the talkies."

"On the contrary, Senora," said Carlos, "this star faded because your Vitaphone wasn't invented soon enough."

"An auspicious beginning," I said. "Can you keep it that auspicious for another six hundred words?"

"I'll try," said Senor Tornquist. . . .

"Back in the middle '20's, the gent I'll call Ricardo was already in his middle 30's, and when his belt-buckle began to get in the way of his romantic scenes, the studio decided not to renew his contract. Fortunately for the fatso, however, almost day and date with his last pay-check, he met, wooed and won a rich widder-woman from Yutuyaco named Anchorena Martinez d'Hoz who was famous throughout Argentina for her charitable work. Though the lady was forty-fiveish and somewhat square-rigged in appearance, the shop-worn idol was prepared to overlook these shortcomings because of her many virtues—the most endearing of which was approximately three hundred square miles of beef cattle left her by her late husband.

"When they got back from their honeymoon, the happy bride learned that her spouse was going to be tossed out on his sirloin by the studio, and so her bankers went into a huddle with the film company and a year later—thanks to some smart press agenting and a corset—Ricardo was again the dashing screen lover.

"Now, as a rule down here, a wife tends to her kitchen and kids, and the man of the house seldom has to account for the time he's out of it, but Anchorena, of course, was not the ordinary Argentine hausfrau. She had invested almost half a million pesos in the film company and so, when it reached her ears that her dashing lover had even more dash off the screen than on, she began to watch him like—well, like a crow watches a shotgun. But, dilligence and detectives notwithstanding, her watching got her nowhere—Ricardo, realizing that his career was at stake, was mucho discreet about his indiscretions.

"Then one day, as they say, it happened. The studio imported a lovely "gallego" from Madrid to play opposite Ricardo in a new picture, and two days after this fireball stepped off the boat, a gossip column hinted that she was stepping out with the widder-woman's investment. When Anchorena read this item, she began to keep extra-close tabs on her tabby, but Ricardo was an old hand at deception and he saw to it that the detective's reports made uninteresting reading.

"When the picture was shot, cut and canned, the studio decided as a press stunt to preview it at a big charity affair for the benefit of one of Anchorena's pet institutions and, to give the photographers something to photograph, several hundred of the inmates were invited to attend.

"Well, the benefit was a great success for everyone but Ricardo. In the first place, his heft provoked more comment than his histrionics and, in the second place, his patroness started divorce proceedings the day after the preview, naming the Castillian cutie as co-respondent.

"Yet, even with all those rib roasts on the fire, Ricardo didn't contest the suit. And for an excellent reason. The institution the benefit was supposed to benefit was a school for the deaf and dumb and, after the picture was over, most of the students wanted to know why, in the big love scene where the silent screen title had Richardo say, "Ah, my beloved, this night shall last forever," his lips were forming the words, "Leave the back door of your apartment open; I'll be around about 9 . . ."

"It served him right," said Eleanor, "and it's probably the only case on record of an actor who was ruined by the silents."

"The Senora is right," said Carlos Alfredo, "but, as I was saying, Ricardo might still be a star if your Vitaphone had gotten around to Al Jolson's larynx a few years earlier."

BIBLE THOUGHTS

I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.—Ecclesiastes 3:12.

James Marlow:

THE NATION TODAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The government now has put up $1,350,000 to help the storm-locked people and cattle of the western states.

Getting relief to them has meant clearing roads with army bulldozers, flying in huge loads of hay by plane, and so on.

But a man I know, reading about this, said: "Where is this idea of government help going to end?

"Now the government's going in for disaster relief? Why should it? Why the government? Why not the Red Cross?"

The Red Cross is helping out. But this is a huge operation, calling for a great deal of help over a great area very quickly.

And—government help in a disaster is not a new idea. The government has helped in disasters many times in American history.

The government first handed out money for disaster relief in 1827 for the "sufferers from a fire in Alexandria, Va."

Since then, from time to time down through the years, it has stepped in to help the victims of storms, cyclones, Indians raids, hurricanes, grasshopper plagues, earthquakes, and even volcanic eruptions in Alaska.

There wasn't any hard-and-fast policy on this. Sometimes the government gave help, sometimes it didn't.

Edith Abbott, in her huge 1940 study on federal aid, called "public assistance," pointed out:

In 1887 congress voted help for drouth sufferers in Texas but President Cleveland, a great believer in rugged individualism, vetoed it.

He said doing something like that was "indulging a benevolent and charitable sentiment through the appropriation of public funds."

Still, as disasters occurred in the years that followed, congress stepped in and voted money to help out.

So government help in disasters has a long history.

In the present case President Truman had $350,000 in a special emergency fund and he handed this out for the western disaster.

He asked congress for another $1,000,000. Congress voted $500,000 and then this week voted the other $500,000.

The money is spent like this:

The presidency, like the Indian bureau, to help snow-bound Indians; so much to the interior department for relief of sheep and cattlemen; so much to the army to replace the money the army has to spend in clearing roads or getting help for people or cattle.

For example: The president told Secretary of Defense Forrestal to spend unlimited funds to rush relief to the stricken areas.

He told Forrestal that the storm disaster "makes it imperative that the full resources of the federal government be mobilized immediately to furnish such emergency assistance as can be made available through the federal agencies."

Mr. Truman told Major General Philip Fleming, federal works administrator, to oversee all the relief work of the government. The states themselves are spending money on storm relief.

Representative Granger, Democrat from Utah—which is one of the storm-struck states—said Utah was spending about $20,000 a day "just to keep the main highway open."

DeWitt Mackenzie:

MACKENZIE'S COLUMN

(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

"Freedom of speech" is a right for which liberty-loving men the world over will fight to the death.

But just what constitutes "free speech"? Where does free speech end and unlicensed speech begin? That's not always easy to answer.

Sometimes a good deal depends on whether you grin when you make the speech. As they used to remark in the days of the old southwest: "Smile when you say that, pardner!"

Down in the southwest the other night a meeting of landlords at Fort Worth evicted the principal speaker because of the nature of his remarks. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported him as saying:

"I like the Russians. * * * I admire Joe Stalin. If he gives you his word, he will keep it."

At this point an ex-serviceman shouted: "Why don't you go live in Russia?" With that the sponsors of the meeting escorted the speaker from the platform amid angry mutterings from the crowd. The next day the speaker told a Star-Telegram reporter:

"If the time has come in America when I cannot say 'I admire Joe Stalin,' then I had just as soon leave the country."

Did he exceed the rights of free speech? Well, let's pass that up with the observation that he was dog-gone indiscreet.

He was admiring the absolute dictator of a country which is waging a cold war of aggression against the United States and all other democracies. He was admiring the head of a political ism which American legal authorities hold is subversive and aims at the overthrow of our government by force.

Often a thin line separates free speech from the forbidden. I like the way the London police handle this problem. During the many years I lived in the British capital I often went of an evening to Hyde Park to lisen to the soap-box orators, discoursing colorfully if not accurately on all sorts of subjects, many of them political. Always policemen (bobbies, the English call them) were on duty for the speech-making—just in case.

Frequently you would hear a long-haired radical ranting against the government. He would damn it up and down and sideways. A bobby would stand by listening with a broad smile.

But had the speaker deviated from plain damning to a call for mob action by the crowd, then the bobby himself would have leaped into action. All a speaker would have had to do to get himself arrested would be to yell: "Let's go and get 'em!"

He would be translating words into action.

Bolshevism has called for the overthrow of the United States government (and all other non-Communsitic governments) by force. There's nothing academic about that. The Reds long ago passed from words into action. They have exhorted the mob to "go and get 'em." Therefore our government has decreed that communism is subversive.

That's why we have a burning issue in the question of how schools and colleges should deal with communism —if at all. Many educators are adopting the course of the London bobby. They hold that it's dangerous not to teach youth what communism is, always emphasizing the fact that it is evil and subversive.

However, the moment that advocacy of communism enters the teaching, the instruction becomes subversive in itself. The rights of free speech are exceeded.

TO THE SCOUTS!

Sterlington, La.,
Feb. 4, 1949.

To The Editor:

This is the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, the greatest organization for boys in America, and. I would like to pass on to the public a poem which Harley E. Erb, regional scout executive of Region 5, referred to in his wonderful address at the annual Boy Scout appreciation banquet of the Ouachita Valley Council held on the roof of the Virginia Hotel, Thursday night, January 27, 1949, and attended by approximately three hundred scouters, scoutmasters, scouts, den mothers, den chiefs, scouts, cubs and wives of scouters. It is a poem that each and every adult in America, regardless of sex, race or creed, should give serious consideration. Too many adults forget that they were ever twelve years of age, and, too many men today were never given the opportunity or took advantage of being a real boy in his 'teens. Study this poem:

"THE MAN WHO IS TWELVE YEARS OLD"

I know a man and he lives nearby
In a land called everywhere.
You may not think he's a man from the hat
Or the clothes he may choose to wear.

But 'neath his jacket with many a patch
Lies a heart more precious than gold.
The heart of a man, 'neath the coat of a boy,
A man who is twelve years old.

For we never can tell what the future may make
Of the boys we so carelessly meet.
There's many a congressman doing the chores,
And presidents play in the street.

The hands that are busy with playthings now,
The reins of power will hold.
So I take off my hat and proudly salute
The man who is twelve years old.

—Selected.

A man who was twelve years old, and, a lover of boys today.

NOTEBOOK

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A 22-year-old girl factory worker is among America's leading exports this month to Great Britain.

And hazel-eyed Mary Uglianitza hopes the empire will ship one of its gal factory workers right back—and complete the international exchange of labor good will.

That's the idea she thought up—all by herself—and it looks like it will be carried out.

"I hope that factory workers from our two countries can learn to understand each other by comparing how they live," said Mary nervously.

Mary works for the Duro Test Fluorescent Lighting plant at North Bergen, N. J. Some weeks ago she got to thinking of the pleasant tales her brother, a former sergeant in the Eighth airforce, had told her about his stay in England.

"We are exchanging students, technical advisors, lecturers and farming specialists," she thought. "Why shouldn't we exchange factory workers? Maybe they have something to teach us, and maybe we have something to teach them."

So she went in and proposed an international exchange of factory workers to her boss, Walter Simson, president of the corporation.

"Wasn't that some nerve?" said Mary, telling about it later.

Well, President Simson didn't think it was. He brooded over the suggestion for a week end and then called Mary back in.

"I think your idea of an exchange of workers is a good one, Mary," he said. "How about you being the first one?"

Of course, she said, yes. Since she was feminine, and girls are always practical, that was probably behind her original idea—that she might be the one chosen to test it.

And now, after weeks of semi-hysterical preparation, she is ready to sail for England on the Queen Mary next week. For a month or two she will leave her 40-hour-a-week, $42 job for whatever the company offers in an affiliate factory at Spennymoor, near the Scottish border.

"I am going to work in a British factory just as the girls out there do," she said, "and learn what I can."

Mary speaks of England as "out there." Certainly it is a long way from where her Russian-born parents settled in New Jersey. She feels she is a typical American girl factory worker, and she probably is.

She lives in a four-room apartment with her father, invalid mother and two sisters. She washes, irons and helps make her own clothes. She and her younger sister, Vera, get up at 5:30 a. m., and travel ten miles by bus to be at the factory by 7:30.

"Whoever gets her face on first fixes breakfast," Mary said. "And we use the same spoon to stir our coffee so we won't have too many things to wash before we leave."

Mary doesn't doubt she will find plenty of British friends because her brother did in war-time—and they still write regularly to the Uglianitza family.

"The only thing I am buying to go overseas is a simple black dress," she said. "Otherwise I'll just take what I've got. I want to sight-see all I can, and I would like, if I can, to see some of the royal family—one of the princesses maybe."

Mary said she didn't look to spend the day with them—anymore than she would with President and Mrs. Truman.

"I'm not a glamor girl," she said. "I'm just ordinary Mary."

And she feels she will get the same royal welcome among her fellow workers in England as any British factory girl would find in America.

"There must be a lot we can learn from each other," she said.

DALE CARNEGIE COURSE TO START

A course in public speaking and personality development will be given under the Dale Carnegie system, the first of a series of weekly lectures being held in Hotel Virginia tomorrow night.

In cities where these are given, many firms have paid for the course for members of their firms as they regard that it contributes to down to the minute salesmanship.

The series here is sponsored by the Monroe Pilot Club which regards these lectures as a civic contribution.

SHERROUSE P.-T. A. GROUP WILL MEET

The Sherrouse study group of the P.-T. A. will meet in the home of Mrs. Raymond John, 407 College avenue, Wednesday, February 9, at 9:30 a. m.

All P.-T. A. members and neighborhood mothers interested in the study of pre-school children are invited to attend. An interesting discussion is promised.

JUNIORS FORM SAFETY GROUP

Red Cross Young Members Assemble; Hear Talks By Leaders

A forward step in a parish safety program was the organization Saturday morning, February 5, of a Junior Safety Council sponsored by Junior Red Cross. Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, Vincent Marsala, St. Matthew's School; secretary, Martha Hatchell, Ouachita Parish High.

Mayor George Breece of Monroe addressed the council and stressed the importance of their safety program and offered the support of the city traffic officers in promoting this project in their schools.

Paul Voney, chairman of the City Safety Council, discussed the organization of individual school safety councils. The need for a safety council in each school was stressed. Mr. Voney suggested that each school elect a president, vice-president and secretary. The committees of the school safety council would depend upon the need in the individual school. Suggested committees were traffic, education, first aid, hazard, and publicity. A teacher and member of P.-T. A. should be appointed to work with this committee.

Mayor Breece and Mr. Voney further urged that each school organize a Junior Police Patrol. Mr. Voney offered the assistance of the City Safety Council and Mayor Breece stated that the traffic officers would meet and work with the safety council in each school.

PROVIDENT LIFE IS REPORTING STATUS

J. W. Webster, general agent of the Provident Life and Accident Life Insurance of Chattanooga, Tenn., is in receipt of a report from his company showing the progress of the company during the year 1948.

In the financial statement shown, the assets of the company had a gain of over six million dollars; the accident and health departments showed a gain of nearly three million dollars in premium income; there was a gain in life insurance in force of $107,838,241.60.

While the life insurance industry as a whole showed a 2 per cent decrease this department of the Provident showed a 63 per cent increase. The average size policy was listed as $5,089 which is very outstanding in the industry.

The report showed that the company has paid a total of 332,757 benefits payments to 303,099 policyholders or their dependents. These claims represented a total sum of $17,738,174.97.

weighed and their implications detected. They must be used as the steps of an upward trail, never as the level of life.

There is no finality in this life, only beginnings. Each hour, each day and month and year are but beginnings offered us who need them so much. The New Year is the greatest and most inspiring beginning we are allowed. No matter how old or how young, how good a record or how poor, how happy an outlook or how sad, to each of us is afforded this opportunity to begin again and try again, to be and to do according to our dream.

This has special meaning for children and for those who deal with them. Childhood and youth are at the beginning of life. Mistakes are natural to their growth. Help them to begin again, to start the year with a wish and a will to forget the past and to bend the future to their wish and will, following your good example. Happy New Year.

BRITISH DENY MARSHALL ALMUINUM BEING RESOLD

LONDON, Feb. 5—(AP)—The British government, following an investigation, denied today charges by economic cooperation administration that Britain had been reselling Marshall aid aluminum in the U. S. scrap metal market.

In December, E. C. A. officials in Washington asked Britain, Belgium and The Netherlands to halt such sales of aluminum. Belgium and The Netherlands have already denied the charges.

The ministry of supply announced that a joint investigation with E. C. A. officials had shown no aluminum was exported from Britain to the U. S. as scrap.

"More than half the aluminum ascribed to United Kingdom sources, did not in fact come from this country," a spokesman said. "The remainder of the aluminum concerned was in manufactured products."

MEDICAL CORPS TESTS PLANNED

Will Be Held Starting March 28 At U. S. Air Force School

The course for aviation medical examiners for medical corps officers beginning on March 28, 1949 at the United States air force school for aviation medicine at Randolph air force base, Texas, is open to reserve officers and civilian physicians according to a department of the army announcement released today.

Officers and physicians selected for the course will be afforded the opportunity of receiving dual flying instruction in AT-6 type aircraft, provided they are physically qualified and desirous of such training.

Lasting approximately 11 weeks, the course offers 358 hours of instruction in such subjects as air evacuation, biophysics, prevention and global medicine, dual flying "64" exam, medical administration, ophthalmology, othohinolaryngology, and other topics peculiar to the duties of aviation medical examiners. Medical officers graduating from this course will be designated as aviation medical examiners; however, "designation" in orders as a flight surgeon will be considered after an officer has completed approximately one year of preceptor training in an assignment involving aviation medicine.

Reserve officers who will complete their current category commitment prior to the beginning of the course, and who desire to attend this course and agree to serve on active duty at least one year subsequent to completion of the course are eligible to submit application. Civilian physicians desiring to attend this course and serve subsequently with the air force may do so, if selected, by accepting an appointment in the medical corps reserve. Interested medical personnel may obtain full details from the U. S. army and U. S. air force recruiting station, 101 North Grand street. Application must be processed so as to reach the surgeon general by February 21, 1949 .

ACTION ON LABOR

the Taft-Hartley act and not repeal. Democrats have called for repeal and reenactment of the Wagner act in amended form.

Senator Neely (D.-W. Va.) accused Taft of "playing for the headlines" and said the Ohioan is "defending a dead horse" in standing up for the law that bears his name.

Taft, on the other hand, accused Neely of trying to "blackguard" the witness. Teller, who volunteered some praise for the Taft-Hartley act. Teller represents a number of employers in their labor relations.

During the afternoon, Republicans questioned Teller at great length on various provisions of the T-H law.

And Senator Morse (R.-Ore.) expressed fear that some president some time might install "a dictatorship under Democratic language" if the people accept implied powers not spelled out by the constitution or voted by congress.

That was a reference to a dispute in progress for days, over whether congress should write into the proposed labor law specific power for the president to seek injunctions in national emergency strikes. The Taft-Hartley law has that feature but the new bill presented on behalf of President Truman doesn't. Attorney General Tom Clark said the president has such general power without a specific provision in the law.

Even on Saturday, usually an off day for lawmaking, the committee was sticking by a majority decision to hold day and night hearings. The Democrats insist on winding them up by next Thursday.

Early in the daylight section of today's hearing, Pepper reminded Taft that the Ohioan "no longer is running the senate." And he predicted that "Republicans who follow the leadership of the senator from Ohio will condemn themselves" to additional defeats, such as the one which ended the Republicans' two-year control of congress.

Teller, the New York labor attorney, told the committee he considers the Taft-Hartley law "a fair, forward step in the complicated evolution of labor." He characterized the administration bill as a "long step backward," and said it "completely overlooks" protection of the public and management.

The witness declared the proposed new law doesn't protect workers against the unions and union leaders, and fails to assure fair collective bargaining.

While Taft smiled and Pepper frowned, Teller went on to criticize the closed shop—a provision which prohibits an employer from hiring any but union members. The Taft-Hartley law prohibited new closed shop agreements but the administration bill would not.

Teller said some A. F. L. unions have collected as much as $3,000 in "initiation fees" from workers who wanted to get jobs.

He also testified that the International Typographical Union has been "gradually strangling the printing and publishing industry" with the closed shop and regulation of apprentices. He said he thought the I. T. U. "could have survived just as well with the union ship, but it chose to combat the law."

Under the union shop, an employer can hire anybody he wants to, but the new worker must become a member of the union in a short time.

Teller endorsed a provision of the Taft-Hartley law which requires officials of unions to swear they are not Communists, as a condition for using the machinery of the national labor relations board.

In all, Teller was in the witness chair more than three hours.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D.-Utah) placed in the record a statement by Gerhard P. Van Arkel endorsing the administration bill as "the most effective available means of restoring Democratic processes to labor-management relations."

Van Arkel formerly was general counsel for the N. L. R. B. He resigned in 1947 in protest against the Taft-Hartley law.

Van Arkel's statement denounced that measure as "unfair, disruptive of peaceful and productive collective bargaining, and a threat to the freedom of American workers."

He said he was speaking on behalf of Americans for Democratic action.

DR. MARY WILSON TO SPEAK TUESDAY

Members of the Ouachita unit of the Louisiana Education Association will hear Dr. Mary C. Wilson, associate professor of education at Northwestern State College, deliver an address entitled "Guiding Pupils in Reading and Study," at the Ouachita Parish High School auditorium, Tuesday, Feb. 8, at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Wilson is an outstanding authority on the teaching of reading to children, and has done extensive research in that field. She received the Bachelor of Arts degree at Louisiana Tech, the Master of Arts at George Peabody College for teachers, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Iowa.

In addition to her research in reading, Dr. Wilson has taught at Louisiana Tech; Oswego, N. Y., Normal School; State Teachers' College, Kalamazoo, Mich.; and Northwestern State College, at Natchitoches, where she is now an associate professor.

Dr. Wilson is well-known in this area. Her father, H. D. Wilson, taught at Monroe near the turn of the century, and later was head of the music department at Louisiana Tech for nearly 20 years. Miss Frances Wilson, Dr. Wilson's sister, now teaches in Ouachita Parish.

Dr. Rodney Cline, head of Northeast Junior College, has known Dr. Wilson for a number of years, and he states that she is perhaps the most outstanding authority in the field of teaching children reading in the entire mid-South area.

Also on the program will be a marimba solo by Carolyn Hargrove, member of the Ouachita Parish High School band. The business phase of the teachers' meeting will be held at the beginning of the session.

TICKET. We'll say no more nor will we repeat his comments.

Meet the Ouachita Junior Stamp club which came into being in the Monroe recreation rooms, yesterday morning. It will meet there every two weeks and here are the officers, all up and going young students attending local schools: President, Philip Lynch; vice-president, Marion David Lewis; secretary, Miss Connie McCulley; treasurer, Walter Ryland; phone committee, Don Andrews, Jim Lea, Bill LeDoux.

The Barkdull Faulk Parent-Teacher Association will observe Founders' Day on Thursday evening, at which time the members will honor, not only the national founders, Mrs. Alice Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, but the local founders of the Barkdull Faulk unit in the persons of the past-presidents of this organization.

The list of presidents through the years is as follows: Mrs. Theodore Terzia, Mrs. W. P. Hayes, Mrs. F. J. Cox, Mrs. H. H. Boyd, Mrs. W. L. Ethridge, Sr., Mrs. H. E. Carney, Mrs. Harry Fernandez, Mrs. George Jones, Jr., Mrs. Carl Couch, Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, Mrs. Morton Myatt, Mrs A. W. Wilkins, Mrs. C. W. Williams, Mrs. B. S. McRaney, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. H. O. Jenkins, Mrs. F. L. Jones, Mrs. Julius Irving, Mrs. George Varino, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. H. E. Rivers, Mrs. Bill Morris and Mrs. B. F. McCook.

Of the list above, it is of interest to see how today many have wandered far from Monroe. Mrs. W. P. Hayes lives in Arkansas; Mrs. H. H. Boyd in New York; Mrs. W. L. Ethridge, Sr. in Houston; Mrs. H. E. Carney in Hudson, Mass.; Mrs. George Jones, Jr. in Alexandria; Mrs. Carl Couch in Lake Charles; Mrs. Morton Myatt in Baton Rouge; Mrs. H. O. Jenkins in California and Mrs. Bill Morris in Shreveport.

Each past president will be asked to tell of the outstanding things that happened during her administration, but it is quite obvious that those who have wandered far from Monroe will be absent when their names are called.

Miss Lillian Collins, Ouachita parish registrar of voters, says that registration has fallen off. She wants to urge all who have not registered to do so at once or there will be a tremendous crowd at the end of the year.

Also see about those license plates. Monday is the last day, so watch out!

Dear Jes' Ramblin':

I think this is a pretty good one — see what you think;

Last night, our family was enjoying a good supper, and our meat was rabbit. (Some folks don't like it, but we do.) Mother was serving each of us, and my bright, teen-age sister piped up with "Mother, may I have a wing, please."

That would have been bad enough, but on top of that, she is a zoology student at N. J. C. Do you think it's a hopeless case? We are wondering.

The report showed that of the convictions in 1948, six were for aggravated arson, ninety for theft, 49 for drunk driving, four for manslaughter and two for murder.

Out of the 852 cases disposed of, 149 were convicted in Monroe city court for state cases. Eighteen others were acquitted, 14 nolle prossed, and two left pending in the same court.

In the West Monroe city court for state cases, 129 persons were convicted, 27 acquitted, one nolle prossed and 16 left pending.

SOUTHSIDERS TO MEET MONDAY FOR GROUPING

The southside business men's meeting scheduled to be held last Monday, but postponed due to weather conditions, will be held tomorrow night.

The newly proposed organization is to hold an election to select it's first permanent officers, and in addition lay plans to further it's many civic objectives.

A temporary committee, named at the first meeting of the southsiders, has drawn up numerous proposals which will be placed before the group Monday night for discussion. The committee will submit to the group a list of six permanent committees which they deem necessary to launch the new organization.

All southside business men and women are cordially invited and urged to attend the mass meeting Monday night at the M. P. Booster Club. The meeting is not restricted to business men and women alone. Any interested southsider is welcome to attend.

DEMOS TO

the house in a wrangle for two days.

Knowland's motion in the senate put administration leaders on a political spot.

But Senator Lucas of Illinois, the majority leader, said his colleagues support his stand that the rules committee must have "reasonable" time to act on the rules change proposal. The committee adjourned abruptly last Wednesday without acting, precipitating Knowland's motion.

Since the Democrats hold a 54 to 42 edge over the Republicans in the senate, Lucas said the caucus had decided to "vote the Knowland motion up or down."

"The Democratic leadership proposes to keep a firm hand on the reins of leadership against any effort for political reasons—and I say that advisedly—to interfere with the orderly disposition of the senate's business," the Illinois senator told reporters.

Knowland contends that unless the rules are changed, a southern Democrat filibuster will prevent any civil rights action.

He said that unless the rule change issue comes early in this session, a filibuster against it will prevent any action.

Conceding that the Democrats can slap down his motion, Knowland said that he will be back with a similar proposal if the rules committee does not act Wednesday.

Chairman Taft of Ohio said he will call the senate Republican policy committee into session on the matter Monday.

Senator Byrd (D.-Va.) said it was the general understanding that the rules committee will approve Wednesday a resolution under which two-thirds of those voting could cut off debate at any time.

If such action were taken, the resolution would go to the senate calendar. A motion to bring it before the senate then would be subject to unlimited debate.

Besides anti-filibuster situation, the senate program for Monday or Tuesday includes a bill to continue the administration's export control authority. Its passage without major opposition is expected.

Committees in both senate and house will carry the ball during the week.

Driving for action on a Taft-Hartley law repeal bill, the senate labor committee plans to hold day and night sessions until Thursday.

Its house counterpart is seeking a showdown on an administration bill to hike the minimum wage in interstate industry from 40 cents an hour to at least 75.

The house banking committee starts hearings Monday on a bill for a two-year extension of rent control, with Republicans pointing to current downward trends in prices as a strong argument against an extension for longer than six months.

Foreign committees of the senate and house will sit together Tuesday and Wednesday to hear Secretary of State Acheson and E. C. A. Administrator Paul Hoffman discuss the foreign aid program which the president wants continued.

After their testimony before the joint committee, the two officials will undergo questioning before each committee separately.

Another joint group, the senate-house economic committee, starts hearings Tuesday on the president's overall anti-inflation program.

Republicans are expected to oppose the reciprocal trade, reorganization and budget ceiling measures in the house.

said, there's a dangerously large proportion of the country's population employed by local, state and federal governments. It's unhealthy, he says, for a minority of the workers to be supporting a majority in government work.

So it's a cinch that when department heads appear before Passman to justify their estimates of their needs, they'll have to have good arguments.

Passman, now serving his second term, is one of the hardest workers in the house, seldom missing a roll call or session. Since being named to the appropriations committee, he has been showing up at 7 a. m. to get his office work out of the way before committee hearings.

Of course, he can do this early arrival stuff easier than most of his colleagues since he lives in a hotel just across the street from his office. But still and all, it's early for a congressman to start work.

Passman has one absorbing hobby —a passion for neckties. He buys them by the dozens. Some he keeps, others he gives to his friends. One of the best dressed members of the house, he always has some eye-catching creation around his neck. He even causes moans of envy from Percy, the capitol elevator operator who is the traditional recipient of all the loud neckties other congressmen get for Christmas or birthdays.

CARDINAL

tened, to force his admission of partial guilt.

"This is not a proper place to deny such false rumors," he said.

He declared the foreign press is trying to "compromise the (Communist) People's Democracies."

"Who dares say that threatened or tortured people are sitting here in the dock?" he demanded.

(The charges have been made by exiled ex-Premier Ferenc Nagy of Hungary and many Catholic churchmen in the United States, Britain and other western countries, as well as at the Vatican.)

The prosecutor said there was no doubt whatever that those present would state that the proceedings were conducted according to the regulations of every civilized country.

He said the charge was that Cardinal Mindszenty led an organization to overthrow the "Democratic Republic of Hungary and to help Otto Hapsburg to the throne."

"There is no name more hated in Hungary than the name of Hapsburg," he added.

He said an authorization given to Archduke Otto by Cardinal Mindszenty to represent Hungarian Catholics abroad was an idea of Cardinal Spellman. The authorization, he said, was "aimed to increase the credit of Otto Hapsburg."

"America wanted to influence Hungary economically and politically," he said. "There is no doubt but that the Mindszenty movement was based on imperialist organizations which speculate on a third world war and on suppression of the whole world by America.

"This was not a dream of an aged man who wanted to have back the past, but a dangerous organization to overthrow Hungarian Democracy. Hated of Democracy, not defense of religion, was the motive of Mindszenty's deeds."

The prosecutor said Cardinal Mindszenty aimed to induce the United States to interfere in internal affairs of Hungary, which he described as treason.

"This was too much," he added, "for Minister Schoenfeld (former U. S. Minister Arthur Schoenfeld), who represented the United States in Budapest and who stated in a letter to the Cardinal that it was 'the long-standing policy of my government not to interfere in the internal affairs of other nations.'"

The prosecutor said the cardinal organized a spy ring and that one of his agents was a Catholic action leader, Zigismunt Mihailovic, "whom the Americans granted a false passport."

Speaking of the cardinal's monetary operations, the prosecutor commented that no one in the courtroom would say "dollars had to be sold in the black market in the defense of religion."

"There can be no doubt that he wanted to escape, * * * that he wanted to continue his activities against Hungarian Democracy," he said.

The presecutor said Cardinal Mindszenty wanted the American army in Germany to keep possession of the crown of St. Stephen, historic Hungarian relic stolen by the Nazis, "until he can put it himself on the head of Otto Hapsburg."

L. S. U. DECLINES

ulty salaries be provided in the 1949-1950 university budget.

The president said in his report that, in inducements offered top-grade educators to join or remain on the faculty, L. S. U. had fallen behind other universities, "even its sister institutions in the south."

He submitted figures showing the average salary paid professors at Louisiana State was below six southern state universities and others throughout the country which he called "representative major state universities."

He made no specific suggestion in the report as to how much or in what manner salaries should be raised, but said the matters were being studied by faculty committees. He suggested three possible sources of funds for additional faculty pay—a surplus, "not large," from G. I.-student tuitions, use portions of about $400,000 in unassigned funds that have built up from dedicated taxes and "additional appropriations in the case of special legislative sessions."

Dr. Stoke said L. S. U.'s salary scale had slipped from an equal or superior position during pre-war years to its present state, which, he warned, could "place the university in a slowly deteriorating position."

He added that many L. S. U. professors today could improve their financial lot by going over to the state public schools.

Noting that Baton Rouge living costs have gotten far ahead of salary advances, he said, "there are actually full professors on our campus today whose number of take home dollars is less than it was 20 years ago."

In other actions, the board also:

Authorized the United States Public Health Service to erect at its own cost two quonset buildings on university land adjoining the medical school in New Orleans to house personnel carrying on experiments on diarrheal diseases in the south.

Accepted $6.250 in grants for special research.

Accepted a $9,949 bid by Clarence Albert of Thibodaux for construction of a temporary storage building for the Francis T. Nicholls Junior College.

Approved purchase of 304 acres of land in Franklin parish from J. O. Jones for $22,800 to be used by the experiment station.

The cornerstone of the nation's capitol was laid in Washington in 1793, but the government did not move into the city until 1800.

225 ARE EVACUATED DURING ASYLUM FIRE

JACKSON, La., Feb. 5—(AP)—Fire sweeping through a second story ward of the East Louisiana State hospital here early today caused the evacuation of 225 mental patients.

Dr. Glen J. Smith, hospital superintendent, said some of the patients were carried out sobbing and franctic but that none was hurt.

All of the patients were in bed at the time the fire was discovered and many of them are classified as semi-violent, Dr. Smith said.

The hospital head expressed belief that the fire started from a lighted cigarette dropped accidentally in a clothing room of the three-story stucco building.

He estimated the property damage as between $7,000 and $10,000.

Dr. Smith said the patients were being cared for in other wards and in rooms used for recreation, but that 75 to 100 would be returned to the third story of the damaged building, which was safe.

They are a portion of more than 4,700 patients being cared for in the hospital surroundings.

Dr. Smith said that during the fire about 500 employes helped to take care of the evacuated patients and aided firemen in putting out the blaze.

COUNCIL TO

two organs of the proposed council.

Final conclusions, the communique said, must wait for a conference of the Brussels pact powers with other European countries who will be invited to join.

Italy has already informally expressed her willingness to join. Other countries who probably will be invited include Eire, Norway, Denmark and Sweden.

The proposal to form a council of Europe came last week during a meeting of the foreign ministers of the five Brussels pact powers. They turned the job of arranging details over to the Brussels treaty permanent commission. Main recommendations of the commission as announced in the communique were:

1. The committee of ministers would consist of one minister from each member country. The committee "could discuss all questions of common concern to member countries with the exception of questions relating to national defense." The committee "would also be responsible for preparing the work of the assembly."

2. The consultative assembly, to meet once a year would act in a deliberative capacity and "would make recommendations to the committee of ministers." It would have "no legislative or constitutent powers."

These outlines were agreed upon by the five foreign ministers last week and were made known by informed sources then. The only surprise in the communique was the decision to keep mutual defense completely outside the scope of the European council.

Since the decision to set up a council of Europe, Russian leaders have criticized moves toward western unity as a plot against the Soviet Union and her satellite bloc.

By excluding defense from the council's powers, the western union planners hope to make it easier for the Scandinavian powers to join without drawing pressure from Russia, one informed source said.

DROP IS LIKELY IN REGISTRATION

New Signing Up Will Take Many 'Void' Names Off List

By Emond Le Breton

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—How many Louisianians will be eligible to vote in the next statewide election?

Citizens, trickling into registrars' office for the first general re-registration in eight years, are compiling the answer. It won't be known for a long time—that is no election for the whole state until the summer of 1950 and voter may register until 30 days before the date.

The official estimate of the number of registered voters in the state before the old registration expired was nearly 950,000, but many officials and others took that figure with a grain of salt. Eight years without a new registration, they reasoned, made possible many duplications and the keeping of names on the books that should be eliminated—no matter how dilgent registrars might be. All this would be true especially since the interval between registrations included the war years when Louisianians were shifting in and out of the state and from one part of it to another, as the services or war industry dictated.

The Louisiana registration law was rewritten and a new registration made in 1940. The law provided for registration at four-year intervals thereafter, but in 1944, with the war on, the legislature extended the existing rolls.

If the estimates of registration were anywhere near accurate, Louisianians did not distinguish themselves by eagerness to use their franchise. In the gubernatorial primary early in 1948, when registraton was estimated officially at nearly 900,000, only 518,000 votes were cast, and in the presidential election three months later only 416,000.

In veiw of these figures, it would not be surprising if the 1949 re-registration resulted in a total lower than 950,000. Such a reduction wouldn't mean that the state had lost population, but that the automatic purge of the rolls provided by the expiration of the old registration had brought them more closely in line with reality.

Citizens have a real interest in registering early, even though no statewide election is scheduled for a long time. Only registered voters may participate in local elections, including tax votes, many of which no doubt will be called here and there in the state this year.

Basic registration requirements are unchanged. An applicant must be a citizen of the United States by birth or naturalization, a resident of the state for two years, of the parish for a year and of a precinct for three months. He must, without assistance or memoranda, fill out the registration form in the registrar's office, or if he is unable to read or write but is "a person of good character and reputation, attached to the principles of the constitution of the United States and of the state of Louisiana" and can "understand and give reasonable interpretation of any section of either constitution" he may be assisted by the registrar or a deputy to register.

Registrars by law are required to keep regular office hours, daily in larger parishes, at least two days a week in small ones, and, says the law specifically, "no registrar of voters shall open his offce on any boat or water craft."

SELECTS 252-POUND WIFE FOLLOWING AD

LONDON, Feb. 5—(AP)—Philip Edwards married his dream girl today — all 252 pounds of her.

The bride was Mrs. Alice Barnes, a 56-year-old widow.

Edwards chose her from a field of 500 roly poly husband seekers who answered his ad two months ago for a wife weighing at least 196.

Among the rejected applicants were two from South Africa, two from Australia and a 282-pound spinster from the United States. (Name unknown).

Edwards, a gardener, is two years younger than his mate and 98 pounds lighter. A lean six-footer, he has a theory that "fat women are easier to get along with" because he was so happy with the first Mrs. Edwards (weight 210). She died in 1946.

Mrs. Barnes, a widow for nine years, mother of four sons and grandmother of five children, answered the ad on a five shilling bet with the foreman of a factory where she works.

"I fell for her," Edwards said, "right away."

The marriage took place at the registry office in suburban Wood Green.

RUSSELL LONG DOESN'T SEEK PRESIDENT'S SEAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Sen. Russell B. Long (D.-La.), son of the late Huey Long, says he intends to follow in the footsteps of his father, but that he has "no plans to run for the presidency."

The elder Long, before his assassination, once said he aspired to four terms in the White House.

The son, appearing on the mutual broadcasting system's program "Meet the Press," last night criticized President Truman's civil rights program, especially an anti-lynching clause.

"It is the duty of the states," Long said, "to enforce their own criminal law. I believe it's unconstitutional for the federal government to take over that responsibility."

The Louisiana senator, youngest member of the senate, said also that he was in favor of the filibuster in the senate, and said it "protected the rights of minorities."

"The whole idea of the senate," he said, "is to place control on the majority."

Asked if he intended to run for governor of Louisiana, Long replied: "I'd rather be senator than governor."

ANCIENT VOLCANO ERUPTS IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Sunday, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Ancient Yake volcano broke a 96-year silence yesterday. It erupted violently for half an hour, spread ashes for nearly 90 miles and then went back to sleep.

The 7,900-foot volcano is in west-central Japan about 150 miles northwest of Tokyo.

There was no damage or casualties, the military government at Nagano, 20 miles south of the volcano, reported.

The volcano last erupted in November of 1852. Then suddenly it came to life yesterday, hurling out ashes and pebbles.

The ashes were caught by the wind and spread across the countryside as far as 90 miles away.

A military government spokesman said that exactly half an hour after the eruption all activity ceased. No sign of life was shown by the volcano 24 hours later.

ment may have bitten off more than it can chew."

Some re-assuring words for farmers came from Secretary of Agriculture Brannan on Thursday, when he said, "I don't really think this is the beginning of any drastic downward trend." At the week end Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the president's economic council, said "these months are very decisive months and anyone who has responsibility is watching things closely."

Many markets were closed today, but there were enough open to send the Associated Press index of 35 wholesale commodity prices to a new two-year low at 167.95. That compared with 175.97 a month ago and 193.68 a year ago.

Most of the excitement in commodities today came in cotton at New York and New Orleans. Futures at New York suffered their heaviest losses in many weeks on the largest Saturday trade since Saturday dealings were resumed last summer. Final prices were 95 cents to $1.30 a bale lower.

Losses in cotton came despite large supplies on this commodity being sealed under the government price support program. News that prices of print cloth had declined late yesterday helped along the selling in cotton.

Fats and oils prices also weakened. All cottonseed oil futures at New York and lard futures at Chicago made new lows since trading in the various contracts started. Loose lard was offered at $12.00 a hundred pounds in Chicago, unchanged from the six-year low made yesterday.

Tying in with the fats and oil prices slump, a leading manufacturer of oleo margarine reduced prices two cents a pound at the wholesale level. It was the second such price cut this year.

Grain futures at Chicago staged a little rally, making a slight advance from the seasonal lows scored yesterday. But cash corn sold at $2.23 1/2 cents a bushel, a new low since Dec. 3, 1945. The price was about 35 cents under the government support level at Chicago.

Livestock markets were quiet with prices of steers and heifers at the lowest point since early 1947. Fed steers have met the sharpest decline, and Corn Belt farmers who bought cattle for feeding several months ago were said to be taking a loss on their operations.

Hogs, closing at a top of $21.50 a hundred pounds, were 50 cents above the Jan. 3 low. But with that exception they were at a bottom since the old O. P. A. days in October, 1946.

Butter and eggs were also down sharply. In Chicago, dealers were carrying large supplies of eggs and the agriculture department said offers of more eggs from the country were being rejected. Trade sources said prices would be even lower if the government were not supporting the market.

Best grade eggs sold in Chicago at 42 1/2 to 43 cents a dozen wholesale, a drop of more than 10 cents since the first of the year. Best grade butter sold at 62 cents a pound wholesale, which was up from the low of the year but compared with 89 cents at this time in 1948.

TWO WOMEN, CHILD SAVED BY FIREMEN

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Firemen rescued two women and a child today from the roof of a burning three-story apartment house here.

Then they put out the fire which caused damage estimated at more than $2,000.

The fire started from flaming grease in a frying pan in the apartment of William Dillon. Dillon suffered burns and was treated at the hospital.

Mrs. F. Harris, 23-year-old and her two-year-old daughter, Bertha Mae Harris, were trapped by flames and made their way to the roof.

Mrs. Lottie Etienne, 52, was visiting in a third floor attic apartment and crashed her way through a window to the roof.

Firemen helped the three trapped persons down ladders to safety.

"I was just getting ready to jump when a fireman came and got me," remarked Mrs. Harris.

PLANE FOUND; STILL NO SURVIVOR TRACE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Army and navy surface craft with grappling hooks late today located the main section of a B-25 bomber which crashed into Lake Pontchartrain here with eight airmen aboard.

No trace of survivors was found in the explosion-crash yesterday and all aboard were presumed to have been carried to their deaths.

Parts of bodies were found before nightfall last night.

An army tug pulled a part of the shattered fuselage to the surface today in rain and mist-hampered operations.

A navy crash boat found the spot from air bubbles seeping to the surface in an oil slick left by the sunken plane.

FRIEND IN NEED WAS RED CROSS

Young Victim Of Winecoff Fire Tells How She Was Given Assistance

Dorothy Moen, the 17-year-old who lived through the nightmare of the awful Winecoff Hotel fire in Atlanta, says, "I'll always remember." Dorothy was from Columbus, Ga., and was attending a youth conference in Atlanta when the horrible tragedy occurred. She jumped from the seventh floor of the burning building. She was seriously injured and had lost so much blood that she says, "About the only thing I remember is being so happy because I couldn't feel the pain. I could not have water and couldn't see, but I knew I was alive."

To quote Dorothy's own words, "Of course, I had heard of the Red Cross at home, but I never knew they did things like paying for private nurses, doctors, and hospital bills when you were in a bad accident and did not have the money yourself, but I found out because that's what they did for me. I guess you just don't think about the Red Cross doing that unless it happens to you. I spent four months in Grady Hospital in casts and bandages.

"A special table and tray were built to allow me to eat and write. The Junior Red Cross in Atlanta got two volunteer school teachers to instruct me so I would not miss receiving my diploma. One of the most difficult things was to learn to walk again. But when I got home March 29, all my friends and family were wonderful and encouraged me. But that was not all.

"In January, 1948, I came back to Atlanta to enter business college. At first I hated to think of coming back to Atlanta. I felt I couldn't pass that street again. At first I could hardly pass by the hotel, but now I can pass by without that funny feeling. Not long ago I walked inside the lobby of the hotel to look at something in the dress shop. Yes, I'm glad I came back to Atlanta, because I have learned not to be dependent on my family. I am on my own. Thanks to the Red Cross, but of course, I'll always remember."

ANSWER TO LI'S

ment's offiical peace-seeking mission, expected to go to Shanghai Sunday to join one of two unofficial delegations bound for Communist-occupied Peiping.

Kan Chia-Hou, the acting president's top advisor, also was expected to go along as "manager."

One of the peace delegations is a still-incomplete group of six Shanghai elders led by W. W. Yen, 73-year-old diplomat.

The Communist commander and mayor of Peiping, Gen. Yeh Chien-Ying sent word to Shanghai by radio telephone Saturday that his mission would be permitted to visit Peiping. He specified, however, that it should represent "the Chinese people" and not the government.

Its departure from Shanghai was reported delayed for two or three days for unexplained reasons.

The other consists of eight Nanking professors who have sat in Tsingtao since Tuesday, waiting for permission from the Reds to proceed to Peiping. Neither has any official status.

The Communists radio made no mention of any of these maneuvers.

(Instead, in a long statement by an unidentified spokesman, the Red broadcast reiterated demands for rearrest of Lt. Gen. Yasutsugu Okamura and other Japanese sent yesterday to Tokyo. It said this was even ahead of the insistence that Chiang Kai-Shek and other domestic "war criminals" be arrested.

The statement then launched into a long tirade against the government for having said the call for Okamura's arrest as a peace prerequisite could not be serious.

(At the time the demand first was made, on Jan. 28, the Red spokesman said, "we still called the Kuomintang traitorous, reactionary government a government. On this point, indeed, we were lacking in seriousness. Does this so-called government still exist, anyway?

("Does it exist in Nanking? There is no administration in Nanking. Does it exist in Canton. Does it exist in Shanghai? Shanghai has neither an administration nor an administration head. Does it exist in Fengwha? In Fengwha there is only a bogus president who has announced his 'retirement', and nothing more.

("Therefore, seriously speaking, it should not be regarded as a government. At most, it is nothing more than a hypothetical or token government."

(The broadcast went on to accuse the government of making "no constructive contribution whatsoever towards peace" but actually of "continuously making trouble.") arrive at the fire, and until policemen appear that auto drivers feel at liberty to proceed on their path whether a fire hose crosses the street or not, he pointed out.

In summing up the cost for replacing a hose, Chief Hales said it costs anywhere from $1.53 to $1.76 per foot to replace a new hose. in view of this cost and the dangerousness of a broken hose, he urged proper caution when coming in contact with firemen's operations.

A city ordinance regarding the operations of firemen reads as follows: "Be it ordained that it shall be unlawful for any person to drive a vehicle over or across any fire hose of the fire department of the City of Monroe, or to drive into or park a vehicle, other than an emergency vehicle, within the block where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm."

ST. FRANCIS IS ADORNING ROOMS

Redecorations Make Outlook Cheerful For Patients Therein Confined

Hand in hand with such medical advances as penicillin, the new anesthetic techniques and the gleaming modern surgical and obstretrical instruments, "color therapy" has come to the modern hospital. St. Francis Sanitarium in Monroe is among the first to bring this innovation into its redecoration program. Sister Agnes Marie, director of purchasing and maintenance for the institution, has made a detailed study of hospital interior decorating and with the professional aid of Mrs. Margaret Vanderford, is in charge of the project.

Studies in color behaviorism have shown that people react to color and that sick persons tend to be more sensitive to environment than well. With the employment of attractive, modern furniture, such as Gatch "crank" beds with innerspring mattresses and modern hosiptal lamps, skillful use of color in the patient's room can give it that home-like atmosphere which removes the depressing "institutional" feeling often associated with hospital rooms. Attractive color schemes in the hospital are appreciated not only by the patient, but also by hospital employes and visitors.

Studies made in this field in 1945 suggest that "patterns of any kind" should be avoided, thus making unorganized splashes of color most desirable in draperies. All moulding should be omitted so as to leave a "smooth increase of density" from ceiling to floor. Restful colors, ranging from pale pinks in maternity wards to cascade blue and pastel green in surgical wards are recommended as wall colors.

At present the reception hall and fifteen private rooms are being given the color treatment at St. Francis. Sister Agnes points out that the program will necessarily take some time because of the crowded condition of the hospital, which makes it difficult to vacate rooms long enough for the necessary work.

ST. FRANCIS ROOMS BEAUTIFIED

First of the rooms at this sanitarium to be given the "color therapy" treatment is room 105, shown above. The restful wall shade, interesting drapery patterns and comfortable modern furniture should have a soothing effect on Patient William Rocha, as well as his nurse, Miss Verdue Netherland, R. N.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the over-changing blood" need help. Now you may again rele. > vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. LIONS CLUB HAS SCOUT PROGRAM

J. B. Huskey Tells Of Program Being Carried Out Here

Lion President Charles G. Wall, Jr., was back to open the regular Thursday night luncheon of the West Monroe Lions Club. Walter Minnear led the group in a series of songs from the official Lions song book and J. Y. Pipes and Bob Hines passed out the tickets to each member to sell for the regular annual black face minstrel scheduled to be held in the Neville High School auditorium April 7.

Guests of the club were J. B. Huskey of the Monroe Lions Club. District Attorney Fred Fudickar, Miss Carolyn Hargrove and Charles Spencer. New members were introduced as Carl Riggin and Fred Southerland. Charley Wall celebrated a birthday and was honored by the gift of a lapel flower. Flowers were also given in appreciation to Miss Carolyn Hargrove and Lioness Hilton Wilkerson.

The main topic of the evening consisted of the Boy Scout program for the coming year. J. B. Huskey of the Monroe Lions Club presented the club with an interesting talk on the subject of scouting after which he entertained the club with a movie. The movie was the life of a boy as a child and after he reaches the age of scouting and continued until the boy graduates as a senior scout. The movie definitely established the fact that scout training develops character and helps the youth to become the good citizen of the world of tomorrow. Mr. Huskey brought out the fact that we have approximately 30,000 boys of scout age in this district and only about 2,000 of these are engaged in scout work.

The next luncheon to be held February 10 will be ladies night and all new members will be initiated and inducted into the club at this time.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

CURTAIN CALL

"Blithe Spirit", Little Theatre's third production of the season is turning into home stretch with its last week of rehearsal under the direction of Helen Fernandez Allen for a two night run, February 15 and 16 at Northeast Junior College. With only a few days left for preparation the cast have begun using the props and properties along with the dialogue and action. This means the polishing up phase of work and the time immediately preceding the "zero hour".

We would like to describe "zero hour" for those who have never experienced it. It is the excitement and fluttery feeling that pervades the actor as the play date approaches. Will he know his lines? Will he stumble or do something awkward? Will he forget his cues? Suppose he forgets his action? These and other thoughts harass the most placid minds. Finally play date: lights, the hush, the curtain opens. The utter feeling of futility, and thoughts that race through the mind, and how you'd give that lengendary million dollars just to be one of those down in the audience with nothing to worry about except to enjoy the show. Finally, the cue! You're on! And you are on your own. How those first few words come close to sticking in your throat and where did all the cotton in my mouth come from? Was that I who said that? Why I'm walking over to the sofa just as I was supposed to and I know my lines? I am remembering the action, and finally the warm feeling of independence floods your being as you realize that you are the master of your soul out there. You are doing well. Didn't you hear that round of laughter? It was your line that brought the spontaneity of the audience. You are in! You are an actor. You are somebody else tonight. A feeling of exhiliration, of enchantment, permeates your being, and with all the self-confidence in the world, you are somebody else. Then end of Act 1, and the actors are congratulating one another. The crew members, the prompter, the light crew, the director-all congratulate you on the fine performance.

GOSSIP NOTES — Miss Eve Bradford, a beloved friend and associate of Little Theatre during its sixteen years of existence, who has long been absent from the newspaper, is much better and was able to take her first automobile ride this week. Little Theatre members desire to take this means to wish her the best of everything and hope to see her back with us before many more days . . . Seen in town the other day, Mrs. Cameron Minard of Columbia, La., who is remembered as Judy Thornton and for her comedy roles with Little Theatre a few years back . . . News comes in from Texas that Mrs. Luther Vaughan, the former Doris Beaman and her husband of Houston are building a handsome new home . . . Ben and Cynthia Dawkins of Shreveport are the parents of a baby boy who they have named Franklin White Dawkins . . . The former Lee Slagle, now Mrs. Hunter Pierson of Alexandria, has a brand new daughter named Patty. Lee played her last role with Little Theatre in the part of Hester in "Uncle Harry" . . . While we are speaking of Little Theatre members of yester-year, what has become of Edna and Elmer Richards. Edna was the first president of the organization and highly instrumental in its beginning. Elmer was a very good actor and appeared in ten or twelve productions.

STORY OF THE WEEK. . . .Ever so often and more than likely in a very quiet and unassuming manner, we feel the restoration of faith in mankind's intentions through some simple story as we are about to retell. The decorations committee or Cancer Society benefit after the recent streak of bad weather were really feeling low about the prospects of decorating the roof of the Virginia Hotel for the style show and luncheon on February 14. They chanced to call upon Carey Holmes, well known citizen and nursery man of West Monroe to see if he could give them some ideas. And with the words "This will be my donation to the Cancer Fund," Mr. Holmes has volunteered to handle the entire decortion of the roof and tables for the show. He will use hyacinths, camellias, vines and ferns and even offered his calla lillies but the ladies deemed them far too expensive and fragile to risk to a public affair. His assistant Mrs. Futch will help him do the individual table decorations.

IDLE CHATTER. . . .We found Little Theatre members Mrs. John Guerriero and Mrs. George Guerriero hard at work this week on last minute plans for the decorations for St. Anne's Style revue on Thursday evening February 10 at 8 p. m. . . .Edell had about four good ideas working when we talked to her. . . .A little later on in the day we ran into Nicholas Bruno and for the lead on a good little actress we promised him we'd tell people that they could get their tickets for the St. Anne's benefit from him. . . .We looked around to find Irene Reid for a little help this week end and found that she was off for Ft. Worth Texas and the Fat Stock Show over there. She is a very busy lady who really gets around.

DUGDEMONA PLANS REPRESENTATION

The Dugdemona and Saline soil conservation districts each have decided to send a representative to the National Association Convention of Soil Conservation Districts in Denver, Colo., February 15 to 17, according to R. D. Conly, Ringgold, district group 4 representative on the state council.

Sam A. Barnett, chairman of the Dugdemona board submitted Marvin T. Culpepper as his board's representative. Mr. Culpepper's farm and home is in Jackson parish near Jonesboro, La.

The Saline board announced that its chairman would be sent, who is R. D. Conly. Mr. Conly operates a farm and lives near Ringgold.

Soil and water conservation problems from the national view will be the principal business at this convention, stated Conly, who has attended two previous national meetings.

One full day of the national convention, February 16, will be given over to a train trip into the Rockies in order that delegates from all sections of the country may see the conservation needs of the west. This special train will take the delegates from Denver to the Winter Park area beyond the west portal of the famous Moffat tunnel.

TECH WILL ASK BUILDING BIDS

Will Determine Whether Three Or Four Structures Can Be Erected

RUSTON, Feb. 5.—(Special)—Plans will be rushed to completion and bids requested for the construction of new buildings at Louisiana Tech as soon as it can be determined whether three or four buildings can be erected with the funds now available, according to Dr. Claybrook Cottingham, president of the college.

A dormitory to house 200 men students is listed first among Tech's building needs by the building committee of the state board of education. Listed second is a gymnasium and swimming pool, and third on the list is a student center.

The three buildings are to be erected with funds provided in a $2,000,000 legislative appropriation for capital outlay purposes over a two-year period. If sufficient funds remain after the cost of building the dormitory, gymnasium and swimming pool and student center is determined, the remainder is to be earmarked for the erection of an infirmary.

Construction of the several buildings will get under way at about the same time, Dr. Cottingham said, depending on how fast the plans are prepared and the contracts let for each structure.

Plans for the buildings are to be prepared by Smith and Padgett, architectural firm of Monroe. Representatives of the architectural firm met Thursday with the college building committee at Tech. The meeting was attended by Raymond Heard, local member of the state board of education.

Of the $2,000,000 appropriated by the legislature, $290,000 has been allocated for use in other construction work on the campus, leaving $1,710,000 to finance the erection of the proposed buildings.

Other major items being financed from the appropriation include the completion of a woman's dormitory, which is now under construction, the installation of a 435-horsepower water tube boiler in the Tech power plant and a new roof and other repairs for the teacher training school at the college.

While no bills were returned against violators law enforcement officers were requested and instructed to rid the parish of any and all gambling. The jury, which may be called into special session at any time with in 6 months, gave no indication of what might be expected in the event the request was not complied with.

DELINQUENCY IS ADDRESS THEME

The pressing problem of juvenile deliquency and what each individual can do in combatting it was aired in a talk by Father Marvin Bordelon, of the St. Matthew's Catholic church, before the Optimist Club of Monroe last Friday.

"We must develop an attitude because an attitude is fundamental for life," stated Father Bordelon. "We must have an attitude of determination." Father Bordelon went on to say that we must be determined to help others, but first we must recognize the christian commandment of the love of God and the love of thy neighbor.

"Natural reasons for good behavior are not enough. The root of evil confronting youth today is secularism, a divorce from God," remarked the priest. Rev. Bordelon continued that we must first form this attitude of helping others by starting right at home. This must lead then to a "social conscience." "Never exclude any group," said Father Bordelon. "Your endeavor to help must include all youth."

Father Bordelon opened his message by stating that the name "Optimist Club" was an excellent name. "The spirit of optimism is the spirit of christianity," said he.

There was good attendance at the meeting and Optimist President Raleigh Poulous commended the membership for it. Two new members, Dean Carter and Lindell Thrower, were admitted to the club.

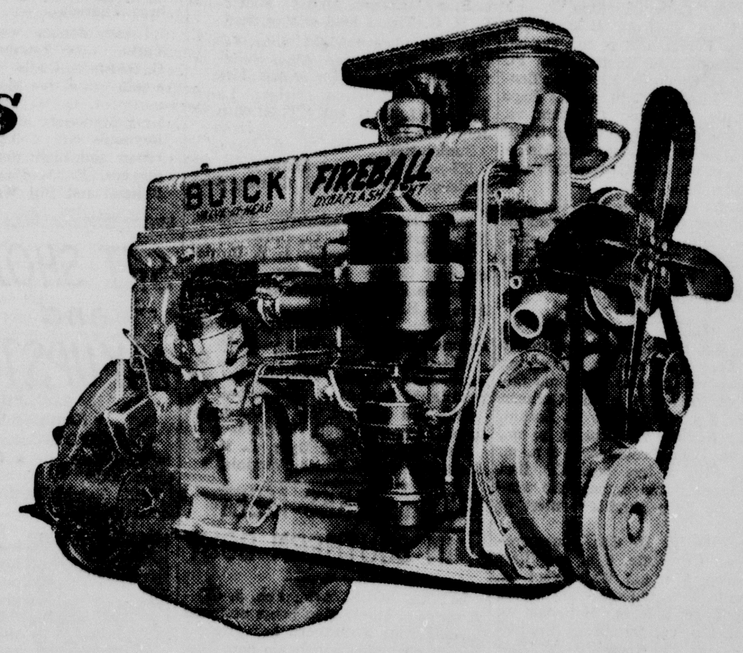
POWER PLANT

that uses its Head!



THIS is the husky thrill-producer you find filling the bonnet of any 1949 Buick.

Look it over and you'll observe, among other things, that it is a valve-in-head straight-eight.

In simple language, this means that years ago Buick engineers lifted the valves from the side of the cylinder and put them on top—with some immediate advantages.

Such an engine "breathes" better. Gets a full, even charge on every intake—exhausts spent gases more easily—enjoys extra power, life and ginger.

And in such engines, compression ratios are relatively easy to establish. To step them up, the head is merely brought closer to the piston—no extra problems are presented getting fuel in and exhaust out.

Thus Buick power can—and has—kept pace with progress in fuels. Compression ratios suit gasolines actually available—and there's no waiting for tomorrow's gasolines to get full performance.

There are other things to notice about this engine.

It's a Fireball power plant—uses a special and exclusive type of piston that gets more good out of each fuel charge.

And it speaks with soft, new quiet. Self-setting valve lifters automatically keep valves properly seated, ending tappet noises for good.

With gasolines getting better, the swing to valve-in-head design will undoubtedly grow stronger. But that is what Buick has had all along—a power plant that uses its head to give extra lift and thrill.

That's enough reason to see your Buick dealer now, with or without a car to trade, to get your order in.

65 TEAMS ENTER N. J. C. CAGE TOURNAMENT

THREE-DAY HIGH SCHOOL SHOW TO BEGIN THURSDAY

Biggest Entry In History Of Event Ready For Eleventh Program

A record entry of 65 teams will be represented in the eleventh annual Northeast Junior College Invitational Basketball Tournament for high school outfits here Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, it was announced last night.

Biggest reason for the boost in entries was the addition of one day of activity so that more girls' teams can compete. Louisiana High School Athletic Association rules limit girls to 60 minutes of play daily, and for that reason no more than two games a day for each team can be played. By getting the girls into action Thursday and giving them three days in which to work, more teams were able to be accepted in this division.

The entry lists include 38 boys' teams, and 27 girls' combinations, representing the cream of high school talent throughout this section of the state.

Boys' games will not get underway until Friday.

Special regulations governing play in the girls' ranks as announced by Miss Ada Bess Hart, director of health and physical education for women at N. J. C., provide that in the event of the games an overtime period of three minutes will be added, and if an additional overtime is needed victory will go to the team scoring first; all Thursday games and the first eight games Friday will consist of seven minute quarters; and girls' teams playing Thursday will not have to appear again sooner than 10:40 o'clock Friday morning.

All girls' games will be played in the N. J. C. gymnasium. Boys' games will be divided between Louisiana Training Institute and Ouachita Parish High School gymnasiums during the preliminaries. Semi-final, consolation, and final games in the boys' ranks will be played at N. J. C. Saturday.

Miss Hart and A. S. Huffman, the latter head of the department of health and physical education for men at N. J. C. and in charge of the boys' division of play, last night announced pairings for the event as follows with starting times:

Girls

Thursday—Baskin vs. Eros, 9 a. m.; Central vs. Ouachita Parish, 9:50 a. m.; Pioneer vs. Calhoun, 10:40 a. m.; Chourant vs. Bastrop, 11:30 a. m.; Ogden vs. Forest, 1:30 p. m.; Bonita, bye; Grayson, bye; Ruston, bye; Ft. Necessity vs. Okaloosa, 2:20 p. m.; Bernice vs. Columbia, 3:10 p. m.; Epps vs. Linville, 4 p. m.; Chatham vs. Neville, 6 p. m.; Farmerville vs. Start, 6:50 p. m.; Lake Providence vs. Mangham, 7:40 p. m.; Oak Grove, bye; and Downsville, bye.

Teams drawing byes past the first round appear first in the tournament Friday as follows: Grayson vs. Ruston, 9 a. m.; Oak Grove vs. Downsville, 9:50 a. m.; and Bonita vs. winner Ogden-Forest, 11:30 a. m.

Boys

Friday (L. T. I.): Rayville vs. L. T. I., 8 a. m.; Ogden vs. Forest, 9 a. m.; Epps vs. Linville, 10 a. m.; Winnsboro vs. Calhoun, 11 a. m.; Columbia vs. Pioneer, 1 p. m.; Quitman vs. Delhi, 2 p. m.; Bernice vs. Baskin, 3 p. m.; Neville vs. Eros, 4 p. m.; Clarks vs. Lake Providence, 5 p. m. Central, with a bye past the first round, appears first against the winner of the Epps-Linville contest at 8 p. m.

Friday (O. P. H. S.): Jonesboro-Hodge vs. Crowville, 8 a. m.; Start vs. Bastrop, 9 a. m.; Waterproof vs. Downsville, 10 a. m.; Ouachita Parish vs. Oak Ridge, 11 a. m.; Mangham vs. Tallulah, 1 p. m.; Bonita vs. Collinston, 2 p. m.; Ft. Necessity vs. Okaloosa, 3 p. m.; Ruston vs. Chatham, 4 p. m.; Oak Grove vs. Grayson, 5 p. m. Choudrant, with a bye past the first round, shows first against the Waterproof-Downsville winner at 8 p. m.

The semi-final show Saturday afternoon will get underway at 1 o'clock at N. J. C. and last through 5 o'clock. The girls' championship final starts at 8 o'clock Saturday, and the boys' title contest begins at 9 o'clock.

Miss Hart announced officials for the girls' games will be Miss Velma Barbin, Marksville, and Miss Mary Lee George, Monroe, both nationally rated officials. Members of the Women's Athletic Association at N. J. C. will also assist in operation of the event.

Huffman, who will be assisted by members of the Men's Physical Education Club, said game officials would be Ding Merriott, Louisiana Tech, chief official, and his assistants, Glen Gossett, Robert Griffin, J. Hudson, Joseph Perdue, all N. J. C. students; A. R. Head, Northwestern State College; and Cecil Johnson, former N. J. C. athlete.

DAWSON SEEKS BATTLE AGAINST IKE WILLIAMS

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Freddie Dawson says he now would like to meet Ike Williams for the lightweight championship.

At the same time Chicago fight promoters Jack Begun and Irving Schoenwald are trying to get him a match with Sugar Ray Robinson for the welterweight title.

Dawson, 25-year-old Chicago slugger, jumped into the No. 1 contender's spot of both the light and welterweight divisions last night by scoring a surprising sixth round technical knockout over rugged Bernard Docusen of New Orleans.

Docusen, the little Filipino stylist who carried Robinson the 15 round distance in Chicago last summer, was stopped by Dawson's belting rights and lefts. It was his first T. K. O. during 63 fights in a sparkling four year ring career.

JACK DYER WINS FOR TIGER TEAM

L. S. U. Beats Virginia, 6-2; Fistic Judge Dies Of Heart Attack

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A sharply tuned Louisiana State fistic squad walloped a University of Virginia team by a score of 6-2 in an eight bout card here last night.

But the 10,000 fans who cheered the intercollegiate scrap were unaware until the card was over that one of the judges had died of a heart attack.

William B. Smith, member of L. S. U.'s faculty administrative staff, was carried from the ringside after he collapsed. Dr. Joseph J. Noto later pronounced him dead.

Capt. Wilbert (Peewee) Moss emerged winner in the first clash, a 125-pound fight with the Virginian's Leonard Coiner. After that the L. S. U. Tigers held the offense.

In the heavyweight class, Jack Dyer at 183 whipped Allen Smith of Virginia who bent the scales at 203.

In the 165-pound weight, Lloyd Jones of L. S. U. got a T. K. O. over John Marks.

SCOTT, SIKES MEET IN SOUTHERN BOUT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 5—(AP)—A series of elimination bouts designed to determine a southern heavyweight boxing champion will begin here Feb. 14.

The first fight will pit Buddy Scott, Jacksonville, Fla., against Bob Sikes of Little Rock. Promoters Les Call and Jimmy Watts announced today. The scrap is scheduled for ten rounds.

Scott, a ring veteran, has fought many of the nation's leading heavies.

Arkansas' most logical contender for a southern crown is Ragon Kinney of Clarksville. He will be out of action for several weeks, however, because of an eye cut he suffered in winning a decision over Sikes recently.

Call and Watts said their plan for determining a southern championship has been approved by Abe Greene, head of the National Boxing Association. The N. B. A., however, does not customarily award sectional championships, and there is a question as to whether the eliminations will have official recognition.

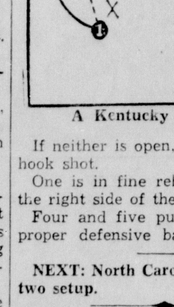
SET SHOTS and LAY-UPS, TOO

By ADOLPH RUPP
Kentucky Coach

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(NEA)—Kentucky uses quite a few fast-moving pivot plays.

Little Ralph Beard sets them up in no time at all.



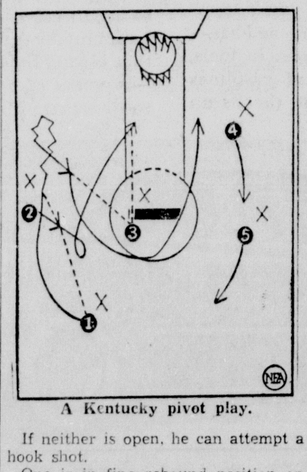
Adolph Rupp

Alex Groza, being fast as well as big, is a very important asset in the pivot position.

Beard, one, starts the play shown in the accompanying diagram by passing to the left forward, two, who comes out to meet the pass. One cuts behind two, and as he does so, the latter flips him the ball. One takes a short dribble, pivots to the outside, and passes the ball to the pivot man, Groza, three. Two moves toward the inside, pivots to the outside and cuts for the basket. One acts as a screen for two, the latter cutting just off one's back.

Three passes to two, who is in good scoring position.

As in all pivot maneuvers, three has the option of passing to one, who breaks around to the other side.



A Kentucky pivot play.

If neither is open, he can attempt a hook shot.

One is in fine rebound position on the right side of the court.

Four and five pull back to insure proper defensive balance.

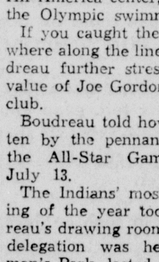
GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

By Harry Grayson

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—(NEA)—Lou Boudreau hasn't been home more than two nights a week since the World Series.



Joe Gordon

After the Philadelphia Sports Writers' Association dinner, he flew to Chicago for that cities's Baseball Writers' clambake. Boston was next, and then the big one in New York.

Boudreau is a wiry chap, but how much of this sort of stuff can even the hardiest athlete take?

If Bill Veeck is as smart as a lot of people believe him to be, the Indians' president will get his manager off the rubber chicken circuit immediately, if not sooner.

Going at his present rate, Boudreau, who as it is has to tape himself a set of insteps and ankles daily, will be a miracle man if he is able to walk when the hot weather comes, let alone play shortstop.

The Illinois alumnus will be in camp in Tucson before he knows it, and starting another long and taxing grind.

Boudreau is badly in need of rest—looks, feels and admits it.

Stan Musial could tell Boudreau.

The roast beef league took 53 points off the Donora Dandy's batting average in 1947, cost the Cardinals the National League pennant and put him in the hospital.

Most Valuable Player Boudreau and Owner Veeck have put on a grand show all winter.

They headed a troupe which more often than not included Doak Walker, Southern Methodist's All-American back; Chuck Bednarik, Pennsylvania's All-America center, and Joe Verdeur, the Olympic swimming champion.

If you caught the production somewhere along the line, you heard Boudreau further stress the incalculable value of Joe Gordon to the Cleveland club.

Boudreau told how he was first bitten by the pennant bug just before the All-Star Game in St. Louis, July 13.

The Indians' most important meeting of the year took place in Boudreau's drawing room while the Tribe's delegation was headed for Sportsman's Park, lasted far into the night. With Bourdeau were Gordon, Ken Keltner and Bob Lemon.

Each was assigned three teammates on whom they were to work.

Gordon drew Gene Bearden and Larry Doby.

"Gordon could cuss Bearden out any time he didn't seem to be bearing down on every itch, and Gene would respond," said Boudreau. "If I said anything to him it just seemed to upset him.

"Doby needed encouragement, and he worships Gordon. With out Gordon pushing him, he might have taken another year or two really to make the grade."

"An incident that happened at Comiskey Park the day Doby joined us, while we were going nowhere in particular in the summer of 1947, did more to straighten out the Paterson kid than any other one thing," related Sports Shirt Veeck.

"Doby missed the last two of three strikes by three feet, and returned to the dugout lower than a Lilliputian standing in a hole, sat dejectedly at the far end of the bench.

"The next hitter was Gordon, and he missed the last two of three strikes by three-and-a-half feet, returned to the dugout, and sat next to Doby.

"It was as much to say, 'We're just ballplayers, kid. It happened then and it will happen again. All you can do is your best.'

"Anyway, Doby was put at ease by a great star right from taw, knew he belonged.

"Doby, in my opinion, will succeed Joe DiMaggio as the finest all-around outfielder in the game."

Doby gave the Indians their fourth pro to complete their down-the-middle combination—starting with catcher Jim Hegan and going through Boudreau and Gordon.

And the real old pro of the bunch is Joe Gordon, whom Larry MacPhail so unwisely and unfairly traded away from the Yankees.

YANKEE HOLDOUT MEETS BOSS 3RD TIME TOMORROW

Apparent 'Unusual' Contract Will Be Drawn Up For Jolting Joe

By Jack Hand

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Joe DiMaggio "Holdout" campaign continues with a third showdown conference scheduled for Monday after failure of the Yankee Clipper and and the New York Yankee ball club to reach an agreement.

Joe DiMaggio

"We met last night and discussed my contract," said DiMaggio. "Each side made counter proposals but we couldn't get together. I wouldn't want to say anything about the terms until we get it settled.

"Monday at 10:00 a. m. (C. S. T.) we meet again at the Yankee offices. If we don't get together then. I'll leave on vacation trip to Mexico Monday night unsigned."

The Yankee office disclosed that President Dan Topping, General Manager George Weiss and Secretary J. Arthur Friedlund represented the club at the second salary conference. The fact that Friedlund, and expert attorney, had been called into the discussions was taken as an indication that DiMag would sign an unusual term contract for a total of $170,000. The club will go that high but wants DiMaggio to take a chance with them on a bonus attendance clause.

The DiMaggio story overshadowed other developments as baseball men crowded into town for tomorrow night's 26th annual baseball writers dinner.

Bobby Feller and his Cleveland Indian's boss, President Bill Veeck, also were talking money but they had reached no agreement. Like DiMaggio, Feller differs with the ball club on its estimate of next year's attendance. Bobby thinks the gate will drop and Veeck says he expects to darw as much as last year's all-time record.

SADDLER-PEP TITLE BOUT FRIDAY ALREADY SELLOUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—(AP)—The groggy fight game is making a fine comeback with a complete sellout reported for next Friday's Sandy Saddler-Willie Pep featherweight title match at Madison Square Garden.

So heavy is the demand for the better seats that the ringside seats at $10 tops have drawn offers as high as $25. It sounds like a heavyweight title contest. The house is scaled for about $90,000.

Considering that Saddler knocked out Pep in only 2:38 of the fourth round as recently as Oct. 29, the demand is puzzling to those who overlook Pep's tremendous new England following.

Pep's home town of Hartford has gobbled up a good share of the ringside. A delegation of some 6,000 is expected to ride down from Connecticut.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Providence Steamrollers have been in the Pro Basketball Association of America cellar so long that Coach Ken Loeffler is thinking about installing a bar and dart board and calling it his game room . . . But Ken also figures that is proof that they're playing real big league basketball in the B. A. A. . . . "We usually make about four mistakes a game and we lose by about that many points," Loeffler explains . . . "A boy will turn his head the wrong way just once and somebody is past him for a field goal. . . . It isn't like college ball, where you can make a mistake and the other fellow isn't smart enough to take advantage of it. . . Why (Ken sounded somewhat amazed) when Otto Schnellbacher joined our club the first thing he said was "come on, boys, let's have fun'—that's what Phog Allen taught him . . . He soon found out this isn't fun; it's serious business."

Too Danged Good

When the Capital-Otterbein basketball game in Columbus, O., attracted so much attention that it had to be shifted from the Capital Gym (cap. 900) to the State Fair Grounds Coliseum, John Kordewich, Capital publicity man went all out to fill the place. . . John did so well that everyone on the Cap campus wanted to see the game. . . And Kordewich almost missed the game as a result . . . All the student baby-sitters were heading for the ball game and it wasn't until 6 p. m. that John and Mrs. K. located an off-campus watcher to stay with their young one.

Sportsmention

Preston Ward, one of the Dodgers' leading first-base candidates, and Gene Ruble are the leading scorers on the Southwest Missouri State College basketball team, which has won 15 consecutive games. . . John Lose, Bucknell basketball guard, has a habit of singing to the player's he's guarding. There's no record of any of them being lulled to sleep. . . Although Carl Snavely loses 18 players off his offensive and defensive football teams at North Carolina, he still expects enough help from his fine freshman squad to use the two-team next fall. . . . Harry Mendel, touring the south with Joe Louis, notes on a picture card of the George Washington Hotel in Jacksonville: "Found the perfectly-named hotel for a press agent."

Weak End Notes

Now that there's snow in New England, the Laconia and Sunapee chambers of commerce are arguing which ski center is nearer to Boston. They're actually going to measure it. . . . The football Giants anounced the signing of seven tackles at the same time. If they could play the same way, it might help. . . Instead of the traditional jackets or sweaters, Hardin-Simmons University will award dress suits to its footballers who played in three Bowl games. . . That's the way they do it out where the vest begins.

EVANGELINE BIG WIGS GATHERING FOR MEET TODAY

Desire To Increase Admissions But See Losses Through Taxes

THIBODAUX, La., Feb. 5—(AP)—The problems of the Evangeline League's first season as a Class C circuit will be discussed by the club owners here tomorrow.

Admission prices, player and salary limits will be among principal subjects taken up at the meeting in the office of League President Edmond Deramee.

A committee headed by President Art Phelan of the Alexandria club is scheduled to report on a study of proposals to amend the league constitution.

A playing schedule will be submitted for approval.

This will be the first meeting called by Deramee since his election as president last October.

The question of raising admissions to meet increased operating expenses is one of the knottiest problems before the baseball executives.

Because of the graduated federal tax scale, they figure they'll net less on a ticket costing the customer 75 cents than on the present 60-cent charge. And if they boost the figure beyond 75 cents. They're afraid attendance will drop accordingly.

Deramee said tax lawyers had given this explanation:

"The tax is ten cents on the first 50 cents of admission, and 20 cents on any additional charge up to one dollar. The present price of 60 cents for men customers includes admission of 50 cents and tax of ten cents.

But if the basic price of 50 cents is raised, the tax will be increased by 20 cents. So if the admission is hiked 15 cents, making the price of a ticket 75 cents, the clubs will get only 45 cents of it.

That's a nickel less than they clear on the 60-cent charge.

"There will be some very serious discussion of this," Deramee said.

The owners will decide also whether to allow salary and player limits up to the maximum set for a Class C circuit by the national association of professional baseball leagues. The association recently upped the Evangeline from Class D.

Under the higher rating, each club may have a monthly players' payroll of $3,400. It may carry 17 active players, including seven "class men," or performers with experience in at least 40 games of organized baseball in the previous three years.

Deramee said the owners might decide to limit themselves to four class players, which was the top for Class D play.

The loop president said the proposed constitutional amendments were technical and would not affect "baseball as played."

Deramee will be host at a barbecued chicken dinner before the business meeting.

HOGAN FORGETS GOLF, THINKS ONLY OF DAY WHEN HE'LL BE WELL

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 5—What does the nation's top golfer think as he lies in a hospital bed, half encased in a cast?

It isn't golf. And it isn't his career as the top money winner in professional ranks.

Ben Hogan thinks about getting well.

Hogan, who suffered a broken inner ankle bone, a fractured pelvis, fractured rib and assorted other injuries in an automobile-bus collision near Van Horn, Tex., Wednesday, is expected to be fully recovered in about two months.

But right now, said his brother, Royal Hogan, "all he can think about is getting better. He wants to get well and get out of the hospital as quickly as possible. Nothing else is talked about."

Ben's injuries are classed by doctors as "not dangerous" to his golfing ability. But they are very painful and require constant attention.

The lower half of the famed golfer's body was placed in a cast yesterday — to immobilize the fractured pelvis bones and the fractured ankle bone.

CHECKERHALL COPS VIEUX CARRE EVENT

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Henry Forrest's Checkerhall, Fair Grounds sprint champion, streaked home in the Vieux Carre Handicap today to add to Jockey L. C. Cook's victory record.

Checkerhall led in the six-furlong feature from the start and beat off a strong bid by Gestapo to win by a head on the muddy circuit.

Gestapo, owned by Marlet stable and ridden by H. B. Wilson, took second, and H. A. Brown's Tennessee Kid, with W. Mann up, was third.

Cook also booted in Verona Sands in the eighth race to score 51 winners at the track this season.

Checkerhall returned $5 to win and $3 to place. There were no show bets in the five-entry race.

A crowd of 7,135 poured $295,605 through the mutuels.

MANGRUM SETTING RECORD PACE AT TUCSON

SKEE RIEGEL OFF PACE 2 STROKES IN 2ND PLACE TIE

Smith Deadlocked With Tulsa Amateur; Fred Haas, Jr. Thirteenth

By Murray Sinclair

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 5—(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, Ill., "salvaged" a 68 from what he called a "bad" round of golf, to hang on to a two-stroke lead over the field today at the end of the third round in the $10,000 Tucson Open with a record 12 - under par 198.

Lloyd Mangrum

In posting his third straight subpar round over the par 70, level 6,500-yard El Rio Country Club course, the ex-G. I. of Los Angeles shattered a record for 54 holes of 199 strokes. This mark twice and been fired by Jimmy Demart, Ojai, Calif., and tied last year by South Africa's Bobby Locke.

Skee Riegel, the Tulsa, Okla., amateur who had tied Mangrum at the halfway mark with 130s yesterday, scrambled for a par 70 and a two-day tie for second place at an even 200 with Al Smith, a comparative unknown out of Winston-Salem, N. C., who had a five-under par 65. Smith never has won a major tournament, but he has twice won the Gainesville, Fla., Open.

Amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., strong boy, fired a 69 today to stay close to the leaders with 201. He was tied for third place with Eric Monti, Santa Monica, Calif.

Although spectators might have seen little, if anything, wrong with Mangrum's game, the unofficial money champ of the 1948 pro circuit crumbled.

"I certainly shot a poor game today," he said. "If you can shoot a 68 and still play lousy golf, I should be happy though."

Mangrum muffed a five-foot put for a birdie on the 18th.

The field will be cut to 60 players for the final 18 holes of play tomorrow. Forty-nine of the pros had equalled or bettered par for the 54 holes.

Players with more than two strokes over par for the 54 holes, or 212 were eliminated.

The leaders include:

Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, 130-68—198.

Al Smith, Winston-Salem, N. C., 135-65—200.

(*)Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., 130-70—200.

Eric Monti, Santa Monica, Calif., 133-68—201.

Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., 134-68—202.

Fred Hawkins, Antioch, Ill., 131-71—202.

Johnny Bulla, Pittsburgh, Pa., 132-70—202.

Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., 137-66—203.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., 136-67—203.

Toney Penna, Cincinnati, O., 133-70—203.

OLYMPIA EASILY WINS SAN FELIPE AT SANTA ANITA

Hooper Entry Looms Big As Top Threat In Santa Anita Derby

By Bob Myers

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The favored Olympia raced to an easy victory in the $50,000 San Felipe Stakes at Santa Anita Park today, crushing 17 rival three-year-olds in a seven furlong attraction before 45,000 fans.

Establishing himself as the colt to beat in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby Feb. 19, Olympia made a show of the field with a five length triumph, wire to wire, over Hayseed, with Admiral Lea two and a quarter lengths behind in third place.

Olympia is owned by Fred W. Hooper of Montgomery, Ala., who pocketed $51,950 net from the gross purse of $75,550.

Jockey Willie Garner broke the son of Heliopolis on top, kept him there and had time to linger before the toteboard in the run up to the wire.

The time for the seven furlongs was 1:22 45 over a fast track. Olympia and his stablemate, Ocean Drive, who seem to swap winning efforts, were flown here from Hialeah last week to try for this fat purse and the richer Derby coming up.

Ocean Drive, with Eddie Arcaro aboard, started from the seventeenth post position. He never threatened and finished fifth, just behind Mrs. John D. Hertz' So La Ci.

The heavily favored entry paid $4.10, $2.70 and $2.50. Hayseed paid $6.90 and $5.20, and Admiral Lea $7.10.

With Olympia quickly tucking the race away, the best part of the affair was Hayseed's move from the middle of the pack to grab the second spot and $10,000 for Bert Baroni.

The King Ranch's Swap Out, trailing in the crowded pack, unseated Jockey Dave Gorman as they headed into the stretch. Gorman was taken to the track hospital where attendants said he was not seriously hurt.

COMMODORE LEA TAKES HIALEAH'S BAHAMAS 'CAP

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Commodore Lea scored a close victory in the $10,000-Added Bahamas Handicap at Hialeah Park today but Calumet Farm's Coaltown stole the show.

Coaltown, voted America's sprint champion of 1948, was last out of the gate but scored an easy three lengths triumph in a $3,500 overnight race, covering the six furlongs in 1:10 15.

Calumet's Free America, running as an entry with Coaltown, finished second, half a length in front of A. F. Plock's Tavistock.

Coaltown quickly moved up from last in the field of eight and took command at the far turn. He widened out in the stretch and crossed the finish line with plenty to spare.

The entry paid $2.40, $2.10 and $2.10 across the board. Tavistock returned $2.10 to show.

The race brought Coaltown's earnings to $106,925. The four-year-old son of Bull Lea was making his first start since Sept. 29. In 14 races he won nine times, was second three times and third twice.

ARKANSAS STAR SIGNS ONE-YEAR PACT WITH PROS

Clark Sees Great Combination In Van Buren, Scott, Thompson

By Ralph Bernstein

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles today signed Clyde (Smackover) Scott as the third member of what they consider the greatest offensive trio in football.

President Jim Clark of the national football league champions watched Scott autograph a one-year contract and then exclaimed

"Boy, now we have it. Steve Van Buren running inside; Clyde Scott running outside and Tommy Thompson pitching through the air. They may as well give us that 1949 N. F. L. title now.

Clyde Scott

The Eagles declined to disclose terms of the contract given the University of Arkansas back—second nationally known grid ace signed by Philadelphia in a week. Charley (Chuck) Bednarik, University of Pennsylvania All-America center, joined the club Tuesday.

The 24-year-old Scott was all smiles as he tried on his new green number 27 jersey and posed for pictures.

"It certainly is great joining the best professional football team in the world," he asid.

"Yes, I was aproached by the Buffalo Bills of the All-America Conference but I wanted to play with the best. I'm going to get my chance to do just that."

One of the fastest runners in the world, Scott said he doesn't expect to have much trouble fitting into Coach Earle (Greasy) Neale's T formation.

Scott reminded reporters that he had played two years at the U. S. Naval Academy and worked in the T formation there.

Scott, who came east for the signing ceremonies with his wife, Leslie, a former Miss Arkansas, said he was going back home and work in the cotton business until time to report for pre-season practice in August.

He brings a great collegiate record into pro football. Despite an injury last season, Scott scored six touchdowns for Arkansas, carrying the ball 95 times for 670 yards. He threw 20 passes for nine completions, 198 yards and two touchdowns, and was named to the All-Southwest eleven.

SITES ANNOUNCED FOR STATE CAGE TOURNEYS

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Louisiana's annual prep basketball rally will be held in different parts of the state for the first time this year, the state high school athletic association announced today.

The association's executive committee, meeting here today, voted to hold Class A. A. games at Louisiana State University here; Class A at Southwestern, Lafayette; Class B at Northwestern, Natchitoches, and Class C at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston.

Heretofore, all games have been played at L. S. U. gymnasium. The association last month voted to split up competition after deciding the an event had grown too big.

This year, the rally is scheduled for March 10-12.

HOOSIER HOTSHOT

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—Al Graehler, frosh basketball sharpshooter, is firing field goals at a .561 pace in the five full-recorded home games played by Ole Miss' rookies. From Jasper, Ind., a guard, All-State in Indiana last season, he has avearged 10.5 points in eight contests.

Tinsley, With Two-Year Mandate To Produce, Set For Spring Work

L. S. U. Tigers Begin Spring Football Training Tomorrow With 28 Lettermen Returning From 1948 Squad

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 5—(Special)—Fortified by a rising vote of confidence, Gaynell Tinsley begins the second phase of Louisiana State's grid reconstruction Monday when he sounds the annual call for spring football practice.

The Tiger head coach, faces a gargantuan task. Gone are seven lettermen from Tinsley's 1948 eleven, which salvaged only three victories in a killing ten-game schedule. The late lamented include such workmen as Ab Wimberly, the great defensive end; "Rip" Collins, the nation's fifth-ranking punter and all-around fullback ace; Edd Claunch, steady center; Wren Worley, Jim Lewis and Bill McClelland, a trio of dependable guards; and Bill Schrell, the oftensensational line cracker.

On the bright side of the ledger are 28 held-over lettermen, including five '48 starters, and an above-average crop of sophomores who took three straight wins as freshmen last fall. Material is so distributed that there are some experienced hands available in almost every position, with a couple of glaring exceptions.

Most notable of the latter is at center, where the graduation of Claunch left only Joe Reid, a 1949 junior, to carry on. The rest of the vital pivot work will have to come from Bill Wray, who played briefly in '48, and Charlie Smith, a 6'3" sophomore with plenty rave notices.

Somewhat less hard-hit, but certainly no power point, are the guard slots. Among them, Worley, Lewis and McClelland started every game in 1948; replacements must come from among Charlie Cusimano and Dick Bradley, who monogrammed at guard last fall, and Al Hover, who made a tentative switch there from tackle. Soph prospects of note are Louis Drouant and Elmo Blache, 190-pounders out of New Orleans.

The other two line positions were not stripped by graduation, although the loss of the mighty Wimberly will necessarily leave a gaping hole at end. The Lyle brothers. Sam and Jim, Ray Bullock, Jeff Adams and Armand Kitto are lettered terminals who will battle for playing time, with competition due to come from sophomores Waren Virgets and Bob Holliday.

Tackle play figures to be improved over 1948, with veterans Joe Baird, Ray Collins, Hal Voss, Howard Strother and Jim Shoaf back for more. Then, too, this is the slot that can count on most reinforcement from the yearlings. Three fine-looking stalwarts will come up: Ray "Moose" Potter, Ewell Walsh and Curtis Baskin, all well over the 200 mark and surprisingly swift.

Insufficient depth at quarterback continues to be the biggest backfield shortage. Charlie Pevey, Ray Porta and Jack Cole are holdovers at that spot, but only Pevey did any appreciable amount of offensive work, with Cole almost exclusively a defensive specialist. Some help may be had from Jack Herron, playmaker of last year's frosh.

The halves are in apparently good shape, with lettermen Dale Gray, Joe LeSage, Ken Konz and Ralph Menetre eligible for the left slot, and Carroll Griffith, Al Heroman, Billy Baggett and Ebert Van Buren at right half. Two top newcomers, Lee Hedges and Chester Freeman, are virtually certain to win places.

Despite the loss of Collins and Schroll, fullback is not crying material with big Zollie Toth back for another year and due for the big season he missed in '48 Bobby Clegg will also be on tap, together with two ace newcomers, Jimmy Roshto and Al McGovern, who look like sure things.

All in all, the manpower picture doesn't look too black and Coach Tinsley isn't painting it that way. Things may look different at the end of six weeks, but for the present Tinsley has only this to say: "I think we're back on the upgrade."

TWO-YEAR PACT

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—A two-year contract for Gaynell Tinsley as head football coach at Louisiana State University was approved by the university board of supervisors today.

Tinsley coached the Bengals for his first season last year. An All-America end at L. S. U. Tinsley is the first alumnus head coach.

Also approved were appointment of Norman Cooper for a four-year term as football line coach and Alvin Moreau as head track coach.

WHELCHEL GETS PLACE AS COACH OF PRO REDSKINS

Former Navy Mentor Surprise Selection For Washington Gridders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5—(AP)—The Washington Redskins hired Rear Admiral John Esten Whelchel today as their head football coach.

The selection was a complete surprise.

Whelchel, who was either head coach or an assistant at the naval academy in 11 different seasons, has been out of football since 1943. He has been assigned to the Pacific.

During his stay at the navy, Whelchel served as an assistant to Gil Dobie, Bob Folwell, Bill Ingram, Swede Larson. He was head coach at Annapolis in 1942 and 1943. In his last season there he won eight games out of nine, losing only to Notre Dame.

J. E. Whelchel

Whelchel succeeds Turk Edwards, who moved up to the newly created job of executive vice-president. During his three years as head coach, Edward's Redskin teams lost more games than they won, but last year's team got on the right track and finished up with seven victories and five losses in the National Pro Football League.

Whelchel has completed 30 years in the navy, including service in both world wars. His acceptance of the job as head coach of the Redskins is contingent upon the secretary of Navy's approval of his request to retire.

'L' CLUB MEETING HERE WEDNESDAY

Pat Kenneday, chief official of the Basketball Association of America, rates the Washington Caps' Fred Scolari as the player with the "fastest pair of hands in basketball."

OGDEN HIGH MEET FOR INDEPENDENT CAGERS ON FEB. 19

Event Open To Boys' And Girls' Teams; Entry Deadline Friday

WINNSBORO, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—The second annual Ogden High School Independent Basketbal Tournament will be held in the Ogden High School gymnasium February 19 in the little village of Liddieville eight miles west of Winnsboro.

The purpose of this tournament is to give former high school athletes, who enjoy playing basketball, a chance to once again compete in this sport with those who play for pleasure at their leisure time. For this reason it was decided that any player who is a member of a college or university basketball squad will not be eligible to participate in this tournament. College boys have regular practice and expert coaching that gives them an advantage over those that play only at their leisure time.

"If your team failed to receive an invitation to this tournament it was due to the lack of knowledge of your team and we will accept your entry if accompanied with the fee of $3.00 and is received by February 11, M. D. Peel, Ogden, principal, said "If the number of teams exceeds that which will be allowed to enter we will return your fee.

By request the tournament has been opened to independent girls' teams and eight teams will be allowed to enter. So if you have a girls team and wish to enter you may do so by sending the entry fee of $3.00."

Competent offifcials will handle all games, and teams will be notified when they play and who their opponents will be as soon as the drawings are made. Send all entries to M. D. Peel, Prin., Ogden High School, Winnsboro, La.

All entries should be sent to M. D. Peel, principal Ogden High School, route 2, Winnsboro.

The tournament will be limited to 16 boys' teams and eight girls' outfits. So far there is still room for eight quintets and five more experts.

Already entered in the boys' division are Epps, Vidalia, Ogden, Columbia, Start, Central, L. and L. Motors of Winnsboro, and Chachere Trade School of Winnsboro.

Ready in the girls' class are Start, Ogden, and Chachere Trade School.

Epps won the event last year when it was open only to boys 'teams.

First and second place trophies will be awarded in the boys' division, and a first place trophy to the girls' winner.

TALLULAH, OAK GROVE TALKING SEMI-PRO BALL

Regarded As Strong Possibilities For Winnsboro-Proposed Loop

WINNSBORO, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—Oak Grove and Tallulah this week loomed as even stronger possibilities as sites for possible teams in a proposed semi-pro baseball league which will be organized at Monroe the night of February 15.

Don Mayer and B. I. Berry, leaders of the local Lions Club committee which is sponsoring the organization drive, said reports from both Tallulah and Oak Grove are "mighty good" while Bastrop also looms as a good spot.

Joel B. Dickerson, Lions Club president at Oak Grove, was quoted by Mayer and Berry was declaring, "Oak Grove looks like a mighty good prospect to league membership."

A meeting is scheduled for Tuesdy night at Oak Grove for the purpose of delegating committees to conduct a sale of stock toward the incorporation of an Oak Grove club.

Lamar T. Loe, who served as chairman of the first gathering at Tallulah, reports that George Kimbraugh is taking charge of the drive there with the intention of incorporating a club, selling shares of stock, and naming a board of directors. A. J. Boswell is also described as "very active" in the Tallulah movement.

Clubs which have already definitely announced intentions of entering the circuit are Columbia, Urania, and Winnsboro. Other likely semi-pro towns throughout this area have been extended invitations to join and are expected to have representation at the Monroe meeting.

The organizational session will be held in the studio of radio station KMLB the night of Tuesday week.

DELAYED TAG TEAM BATTLE ON KALLIO'S CARD TUESDAY

Curtis And 'Surprise' Opponent To Face Steddum And Parker

A tag team scramble, billed as the main event last Tuesday but postponed because of bad weather following last Sunday's nine-inch snow here, will feature Promoter Gus Kallio's wrestling show here Tuesday night at his Walnut street arena.

Chief figures in the tussle will be Jack Curtis, world's light heavyweight champion, and "surprise" partner against the villainy of "Wild Bill" Steddum, the rowdy Texan, and Allen "Sailor" Parker, veteran of the ring from Nashville, Tenn.

Although the match was arranged by Kallio at the insistence of Parker, it will serve as a means of continuing the intense rivalry that has developed in recent weeks between Curtis and Steddum. Blood has shown in the last two battles in which the champ has appeared against the wild Texan.

In requesting the match nearly two weeks ago, Parker promised Kallio he and Steddum had "something new worked out, and if you'll give us this match we'll show you something you've never seen before."

Curtis was permitted to keep the name of his partner a secret until ring time although Kallio has first told the champ such a proceedure was not permissable, but later Kallio got an O. K. from Dave Silverstein, district wrestling commissioner, to let Curtis proceed as he planned.

The tag tussle will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win.

The tag principals will also serve to open the night's show in a pair of one-fall preliminaries. Curtis will tuneup for the main event in a match with either Parker or Steddum while his "surprise" partner will be unveiled against the foe failing to face the champ.

Horsemen Can 'Claim' Fortune —Or Maybe Only A Dead Horse

By Gene Plowden

MIAMI, Fla.—The rack track is more than a place where the $2 bettor can go for a day's outing—and lose his money. It's a horse trader's market.

Scores of horses change ownership during a race meeting, through "claiming races." Thousands of dollars are involved.

Claiming races are those in which all horses are entered to be claimed for an amount set forth in the conditions of the race. Such horses also are known as "selling platers." The laws vary on who can put in a claim for a horse but at most tracks the person putting in the claim must be either a trainer or owner who has raced at the track or who has horses stabled on the grounds.

For the most part, claiming horses is a risky business. If the "selling platers" really amounted to anything they wouldn't be in claimers in the first place. However, today there are more claiming races than combined allowance, handicap and stake events.

During the recent 40-day meeting at Tropical Park, for example, 121 claims were entered. Some horses changed hands two or three times.

There was the case of M. Longiene. On Dec. 18 that horse was claimed by Mrs. T. Haskos from Mrs. Harris Brown for $4,500. Progress Stable claimed M. Longiene from Mrs. Haskos on Jan. 5 for the same price and Mrs. Haskos regained the horse on Jan. 11, also for $4,500.

Claims were made on every day of the meeting. On one day there were eight, on another seven. They ranged from $2,500 to $12,500.

Progress Stable claimed Big and Better for $12,500 and Grandview Stables obtained Bahrameter for the same price. Exactly two weeks after he was claimed, Bahrameter dropped dead during a race at Hialeah Park.

In all, $733,250 was involved in claims at Tropical Park this season, the largest sum ever handled at a Florida race meeting.

Claims may be dropped into the claiming box in the racing secretary's office and time up to 15 minutes before post time. If more than one person files a claim, a drawing determines who gets the horse.

If the horse wins, the new owner must increase the claiming price 25 per cent, after keeping the animal 30 days or more. A new rule in effect at Tropical Park this season provided that if the horse didn't win, the owner might enter it in another claiming race for the same price or even less, any time after he claimed it.

When the claim is filed, the horse belongs to the claimer, but the original owner gets the purse if the horse wins the claiming race, and also the claiming price.

There are many cases on record of a horse breaking a leg or even its neck during a race, being claimed and changing ownership. In that event the new owner not only lost the animal when it had to be destroyed, but had to pay for removing the carcass.

One at Hialeah Park four claims were entered for a horse which broke down and had to be destroyed. The unlucky claimer, determined by lot, was forced to pay for a dead horse.

Claiming races usually attract owners and trainers who want to dispose of thoroughbreds. Later they may regret it.

Most celebrated claiming case on receipt is that of Stymie. Hirsch Jacobs claimed Stymie for $1,500 as a two-year-old. The horse went on to win $911,000 and become the greatest money winner in turf history.

A. A. (Bert) Baroni claimed Top Row for $3,500. His claim won purses totaling more than $100,000.

BEARS GET TEXAN

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 5—(AP)—A 19-year-old Galveston, Tex., high school baseball star has been signed up by the Mobile Bears.

Several aces have not yet put their name on the line, including pitchers Bill Kennedy and Carl Linquist and Outfielders Lloyd Gearhart and Larry Drake.

Mann said, however, that none is regarded as a hold-out.

Joe Kite of McNeese kept his team in the ball game, scoring 19 points.

McNeese led 32-25 at halftime.

Stone was high point man of the night with 23 points. Dean had 17.

Winnsboro at Rayville.

Neville at Bastrop.

The Class A League brings its first season of basketball as an organization to a close Tuesday night with games at Rayville and Bastrop, and both games are important ones as far as Winnsboro and Neville are concerned.

The Wildcats and Tigers are currently deadlocked for first place and can wind up the schedule tied for the league crown with wins Tuesday.

Coach Johnny Johnson of the Neville Bengals last night said a playoff between Winnsboro and Neville would probably be arranged if the two clubs are still deadlocked after their final visits to Rayville and Bastrop.

COACHES POLLED REGARDING IDEAS ON FREE THROWS

ATLANTA, Feb. 5—(AP)—There's a chance that rough player scrambles under the basketball hoop following a free throw try will be eliminated before next season.

The rule permitting the melee and offering opportunities for more fouling, both intentional and unintentional, will be studied by 1,000 basketball coaches between Feb. 20 and March 23.

The first move toward changing American and Canadian rules affecting both the college and high school games will be taken Feb. 20 in a questionnaire to go to coaches.

One of the questions—asked by the research committee of the National Association of Basketball Coaches—invites opinions on giving the ball to the fouled team out-of-bounds at mid-court regardless if the free throw is sunk or missed.

"There is much agitation * * * to eliminate the 'easy" field goal following missed free throws, to decrease fouling, both intentional and unintentional, to eliminate the refusal to attempt a free throw and to create a greater desire for each player to develop more skill and ability," the questionnaire states.

Roy Mundorff of Georgia Tech, chairman of the research committee, is conducting the poll.

Mundroff says the poll is an "influential sampling of ideas and not a ballot." The results of the poll will be included in his report to the association meeting in Seattle, Wash., March 23-26.

The committee then makes recommendations to the coaches' rules group which in turn makes suggestions to the National Rules committee. Coaches' suggestions usually are accepted at meetings held within a week.

In addition to the possibility of radically changing what happens to the free thrown ball, coaches will have a chance to say what they think about restoring the center jump.

The questionnaire asks who favors rotation of all players making the jump—right forward jumping first, then left forward, center, then the guards.

Another question asks for ideas on limiting the height of any player to some maximum such as six feet five inches, six feet six, etc.

COTTON STATES BIG WIGS HOLD SESSION

GREENVILLE, Miss., Feb. 5—(AP)—Directors of the Cotton States Baseball League will meet here tomorrow, and probably will consider a change in the assignment of the El Dorado Club franchise.

A group of El Dorado citizens is proposing to take over the El Dorado franchise and operate the club for the coming season.

League President A Haraway of Helena, Ark., who arrived here today, said he had been told by Jim Griffith, former league president that Harry Brandt of Shreveport, La., and El Dorado is reported ready to dispose of his interest in the Oilers.

Griffith, Dr. Shade P. Rushing, and Bill Halliburton are reported to be leaders in the group wanting to take over the franchise.

Brandt was one of the leaders in organizing the league in 1947 as a six-club circuit. His team participated in the playoffs and lost to Greenville in a series that went five games. In 1948, however, the Oilers finished in the cellar.

The directors also will consider the adoption of a 140-game schedule.

President Haraway, Natchez Club President John Junkin, and Hot Springs Club President Sam Garratt compose the committee to draft a new constitution and by-laws to be submitted tomorrow.

LONGHORNS TRIUMPH

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns stayed in the thick of the Southwest Conference basketball race here tonight, turning back the Texas A. and M. Aggies, 50-41.

CENTENARY TRIPS LOYOLA, 47 TO 35

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Centenary Gents looked like no world beaters tonight as they took a 47-35 Gulf States Conference vivtory over the Loyola Wolves before a large gathering of home-towners.

The Gents never brought the crodd to its feet except after nine minutes of play in the second half they did manage four buckets while the losers could hit but one. The Wolves had little to howl about either since they found themselves on the bottom part of the score board most of the night.

The game started out as a draggy affair with neither team hitting and they seldom deviated from the pattern as they progressed. Time was about the only thing that did show much progress. At the half time it was Centenary, 19-14. That score might indicate Oklahoma A. and M. playing O. C. U. in a ball-controlling game, however, ball control was not in evidence.

Loyola jumped to a 2-0 lead when Bobby Rehm, the flashiest man on the floor, connected with a set shot. Six foot five Bill Treuting received a free one but Joey Johnson and Dick Bill quickly connected to give Centenary a 4-3 lead. Loyola's Jack Eumont had one on the house to make it a 4-4 but Bob 'Swisher' Hale rang the nets twice to put the Gents in front to stay.

CAGE OFFICIALS MEET THIS WEEK

Royce Calls Session Of New Association For Wednesday Night

The Northeast Louisiana Officials' Association will meet Wednesday night at the Northeast Junior College gymnasium with the idea in mind to complete the final phases in organizing the association on a sound footing.

W. C. Royce, president of the association, said all coaches are being urged to attend the meeting this week. "It will be up to the coaches to help us become a permanent orgainization, so I think it is to their advantage that they come to our meeting Wednesday night. I think most of the coaches realize what this organization can mean to them in the way of helping their schedules," he said.

The session will complete the forming of the association as well as working out the structure to make the organization a moving activity for the basketball season.

At the end of last week's meeting, it was decided to outline the paper work for the organization. Cards will be shaped to permit the coaches to send in to the central office their opinions and remarks of the official that calls their particular game. The coaches will be asked to fill out these cards and mail them to the officials' association.

A file will be kept to preserve the card plus the scores the respective officials make on the required tests given them to qualify for entrance into the association. A board composed of the various officials will pass judgment on the cards. If it is found that one offical has too many legitimate complaints against him, he will be notified and then given a chance to defend himself before the board. The decision as to whether he remains in the association will rest in the hands of the board.

It is this part of the planning that Royce was referring to in his request to have the coaches of the northern Louisiana area attend the meeting this week. "They will be of great help in assisting in any portion of the organization," he remarked.

The officials feel that this meeting will be the most important gathering held since the forming of the association. Eveyone concerned is urged to attend this meeting at which all details concerning the organization will be settled before it goes into effect.

ROBBER UNLUCKY WITH DEAF MUTE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A hard-luck story, a deaf mute's stout right arm and a pad and pencil upset two alleged robbery attempts last night by a youth, who scribbled his apologies for it all.

Police gave this account:

Sika Sokoloff, 16, armed with a pistol, accosted Jack Gammanta, 29, on the promenade of the Williamsburg bridge over the East river, and demanded cash.

"Look," said Gammanta, "I've got 30 cents, no job and four children. Do you want the 30 cents?"

"Never mind," said Sokoloff, and walked on down the bridge until he met Frank Niewiadowsky, 23, a deaf mute.

When Sokoloff, a 200-pound, six-footer, poked the gun at Niewaidowsky, the five-foot-four-inch deaf mute punched Sokoloff, and grabbed the gun. Then Niewiadowsky whipped out his pad and pencil, and this written exchange took place:

Q. "What's your name?" A. Jack Smith.

Q. Get out a social security card or draft card. A. I'm sorry. I won't do it again.

Q. You come with me to police station. If you don't I have your fingerprints on the gun anyhow. A. My mother is sick. If she knew I was in prison, it would kill her:"

About this time, police, summoned by Gammanta, broke up the scribbling session. Sokoloff was booked on charges of felonious assault and illegal possession of a weapon.

DICKEY SHADED BY DAVE BOLEN IN HOLLIS RACE

Colorado Ace Beats L. S. U. Star Three Yards In 600-Yard Event

By Bill King

BOSTON, Feb. 5—(AP)—National A. A. U., Titlist Dave Bolen of Boulder, Colorado, led all the way while capturing the Hollis 600-yard run from Louisiana State's Tom Dickey by three yards tonight in one of the Boston A. A. meet's top features before a packed 12,500 crowd at the Boston Garden.

Bolen, making his Boston track debut in the 600, was never challenged while giving a 1:12.1 performance. Dickey came up fast on the gun lap to take second from Hugh Short, of New York as last year's winner. George Guida of Villanova, faded early and wound up next to last in the five-man field.

Olympics Sprint champion Harrison Dillard of Baldwin Wallace set a new meet record of 5.5 seconds while gaining an eyelash win over Penn State's surprising Jim Gehrdes in the Hillman 45-yard high hurdles. Dillard thus stretched his Boston Garden winning streak to 19 consecutive trials, semi-finals and finals. Ed Dugger of Dayton, Ohio managed to take third place.

The Briggs 50-yard dash record of 5.3 seconds was equalled by Ed Conwell of Jersey City, who had about a yard on Bill Mathis of Washington and Bill Dwyer of Providence, R. I., last week's 60-yard iMllrose winner.

Fred Jones of Lincoln University was fourth and Tom Carey of New York fifth and last. The other finalist, Jim Fielding of Seton Hall, was disqualified because of two false starts.

CELL MATES END PEACE WITH FIGHT

Two city jail mates, who ate together, occupied the same cell and were thought to be reasonably peaceful fellows, were apparently good friends until yesterday when one of them turned against the other, beat him up and took his wrist watch.

Raymond McMillian, West Monroe, youth who was serving a sentence on a previous charge, proceded to attack his fellow jail mate, Thomas G. Cage, 209 Washington street, and take his wrist watch.

McMillian got the watch, but a short while later he was again facing the desk sergeant, who charged him with fighting and theft of a watch.

ESCAPED RUSSIANS AMAZED AT MODELS

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 5—Peter Pirogov and Anatol Barsov, escaped Russian flyers, started on a whirlwind tour of historic Richmond today but slowed to a complete stop when a department store brought out some models in an upper-floor salon.

Reporters, banking their questions off interpreters, were given replies of amazement and pleasure. A $75 tweed suit would be about 1,080 rubles in Russia, Pirogov said with a shake of his head — about two months' salary for a laboring man.

But there was no need for an interpreter when three slick models paraded in an evening gown, a beach playsuit and a snappy cocktail dress. Both Pirogov and Barsov commented on the models, using the international eyebrow code.

They were taken to the store to buy shirts, and the store decided it would present the flyers with shirts.

"They didn't speak any English at all," said a blond salesgirl, "but they managed to select shirts that cost $10 each."

Pirogov and Barsov heard Virginia praised on a "Voice of America" broadcast. The program sparked them to a personal airlift in a "borrowed" Soviet plane across the iron curtain.

Now the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce is working to show the fliers all they heard is correct.

Their tour of the old dominion will continue until Thursday.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL RESCUES YOUNGSTER

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Feb. 5—(AP)—Thirteen-year-old Lillian Mingin, shyly related how today she rescued a six-year-old boy from drowning Thursday.

She left after pulling little Kenneth Van Gorder from a pond in Columbus Park, and didn't even tell her parents what she had done. Police finally located her.

"I tried out the ice," she said. "It was too thin. I was turning around when I saw this little boy on a sled come whizzing down the embankment about 50 feet from me."

She related:

"He shot out onto the ice, and about 50 feet out he went through. I guess the water was about five feet deep. I could just see the tops of his hands as he tried to jump out.

"I got down on by hands and knees, and then I crawled out. The ice just held me, but I could hear it cracking. I grabbed his hands and pulled him out. Then a lot of us little friends came around, and I told them to take him home.

"I went home myself. I didn't even get wet."

OFFER REWARD IN JOHN BEZZ DEATH

Several Residents Of City Come Forward To Speed Solving Of Case

Anyone having information as to the identity of the person who fatally wounded John Bezz, 76-year-old DeSiard street grocer, last January 19th, is offered a small reward, H. T. Ward, Monroe police chief, revealed yesterday afternoon.

Chief Ward, in declining to disclose the amount of the sum, said several residents of the city have made the offer.

The grocer, who was shot shortly after six o'clock on the evening of Jan. 19, expired the folowing night.

Prior to his death, Bezz told his daughter-in-law that a Negro entered his establishment and placed an order. Shortly afterwards, while he was getting the order from a shelf, the Negro witched off the electric light and shot him, the grocer related.

The Monroe police chief's statement yesterday was the first made by an authority to indicate that any such reward had been placed.

As far as a parish reward, A. E. Montgomery, president of the police jury, said it would have to be made by the sheriff's department through the sheriff's salary fund.

"We would like to make such a reward," Montgomery stated, "but according to the law, and as far as I know, we can not."

Montgomery expressed intentions of taking the matter up with the district attorney Monday.

Last night, Sheriff Grant said he "didn't believe a reward would be made through his office."

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—General long liquidation dropped cotton futures $2.20 to $2.50 a bale here today, before profit taking from the short side halted the decline and brought a moderate recovery.

The market closed steady $1.15 to $1.35 a bale lower.

Much of today's selling was attributed to weakness in other markets, hedging operations and deflationary talk. Trading was in large volume. The nearness of first March notice day, Feb. 23, seemed to cause a good part of the selling.

Spot cotton lost $1.00 a bale witn middling 15/16ths-inch quoted at 32.25 cents a pound.

Local sales amounted to 2.746 bales

New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Cotton futures tumbled sharply in active dealings today. Prices at one time were down as much as $2.80 a bale before sufficient buying was attracted to halt the decline.

Futures closed 95 cents to $1.30 a bale lower than the previous close.

FOREIGN OIL IS HURTING NATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said that increasing imports of oil are resulting in "damaging effects" on the U. S. oil industry.

"It appears that foreign oil is now entering the United States in violation of the anti-dumping law," Brown said.

"If after further study the facts substantiate this conclusion, it might be that relief from the present flood of imports can be obtained through this means."

Brown said the 1921 anti-dumping act provides for relief in the form of special duties on imports "where an industry in the United States is being injured by the importation of a commodity which is being sold in the United States at a price less than it is being offered for sale in other principal world markets."

Brown said in a statement that large-scale reductions in the allowable production of oil in Texas and a 40,000-barrel per day cut in Oklahoma resulted from foreign oil coming into the U. S. market.

PSYCHOLOGY OF CHILD STUDIED

Mitchell P.-T. A. Group Delves Into Backgrounds; Mrs. Scott Leader

The W. R. Mitchell P.-T. A. study group met in the home of the unit's president, Mrs. Dale Cobb, Thursday, February 3. This meeting was the third in the series "The Psychology of the Elementary School Child." This course of study was entitled "Little Fidgets Have Big Needs" by LaBerta A. Hattwick, which was brought before the group in a capable manner by Mrs. E. H. Scott. Mrs. Scott brought out the following points from Mrs. Hattwick's article:

"A child doesn't do aggravating things to annoy, because he knows it teases—when a child fidgets he is unhappy. Each child is, in a sense, an energy system. His energy can take only one of three directions: (1) it can be bottled up inside himself; (2) it can overflow in useless, undeniable, destructive behavior; (3) it can be used in a satisfying and wholesome way.

"Psychiatry and the newer psychology are helping us to recognize the danger that lies in our children's repressing their energy. Resentment which is stored up as a result of restraint is an important factor in building the intolerant and resistant attitudes many of us carry through life.

"There is only one sound way to stop a child from doing something: Give him something better to do. Every home needs to provide a variety of self-expressive activities.

It is equally important to provide constructive outlets for children of all ages during out-of-school hours. Not only fidgeting but actual delinquency may result from our failure to recognize the fact that all children need constructive outlets.

"The Little Fidgets needs activities that will give him a feeling of being helpful and necessary which comes from actual work responsibilities. Often the need for such responsibilities is greatest in the homes that seem to give children most.

"Many a 'little lady' or 'little gentleman' develops the fidgets solely from trying to live up to the standards set for him by adults—they need a chance to act their own age.

"Knowing what to expect of a child of a certain age is an important part of guidance. Constructive outlets and a chance to act his age do not always answer all the needs of the fidgety child. There are many other factors, including any situation that causes tension, that may give rise to nervousness. We can discover the particular cause of fidgeting only as we come to know the particular child. This one thing is certain—wherever we find a fidget, we can be sure there is a need."

After the discussion period, the hostess, Mrs. Dale Cobb, served delicious refreshments to the following W. R. Mitchell P.-T. A. members: Mrs. L. G. Cook, Mrs. L. E. Hampton, Mrs. Walter Dean, Jr., Mrs. Fred Stone, Mrs. T. Gallien, Mrs. Jim Steele, Jr., Mrs. J. T. Alsbrooks, and Mrs. E. H. Scott.

HIGH WATER IS CLOSING SCHOOL

JONESVILLE, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—Central elementary school, in the southern part of Catahoula parish, was ordered closed Friday because of high water, Aubrey Brooks, superintendent of Catahoula parish schools, announced.

The school, located near the junction of Red and Black rivers, has an enrollment of 83 students, and less than half of them were able to get to school before the closing order was given, Brooks said.

A. L. Sandifer is principal of the school, which opened this year as a consolidation of the former Boggy Bayou and Larto Lake schools.

Central will remain closed until the water falls, Brooks said.

40 LOANS APPROVED

JONESVILLE, Feb. 5.—(Special)—The farm home administration committee approved 40 applications of Catahoula farmers for loans. A total of applications were received, and 55 loan resquests were sent in previously.

LOCAL NURSE TAKES ARMY OATH

Miss Jewel Kenny, a nurse at the St. Francis Sanitarium who is now awaiting orders to report to active duty with the army, is shown above taking the corps's oath on a nation-wide radio program presented last Wednesday. Miss Kenny was selected from nurses in this state to represent Louisiana on the program which saw nurses from all forty-eight states take their oath for the Army Nurse Corps.

ARMY MEDICAL CAREER OPENING

Surgeon General Taking Applications From Qualified Men

The surgeon general, United States army, is accepting applications from qualified professional medical men for participation in the civilian resident program. The program has been established for the purpose of providing specialty training to physicians who are sincerely interested in pursuing a career in army medicine. Under present policy the only service requirement is that the participant serve one year on a duty status for each year of formal training received. Continuance in civilian residency training is contingent upon selection by the hospitals concerned for the higher level of training.

Commissions up to the grade of captain for residencies in the following specialties are available for the fiscal year 1950: allergy, anesthesiology, cardiology, internal medicine, neuro-psychiatry, neurology, obstetrics and gynecology, ophthalmology, otolaryngology, pathology, pediatrics, physical medicine, plastic surgery and surgery.

The following eligibility rules have been established by the surgeon general: applicant must have obtained a residency in a specialty in which he desires to receive board certification; he must be not less than 21 nor greater than 37 years of age, a male citizen of the United States, a graduate of an approved medical school, have completed an approved internship and be physically qualified for a commission in the regular army medical corps.

Applications may be secured by writing the surgeon general, department of the army, the Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C. Further details may be obtained by contacting the recruiting officer at 101 North Grand street.

O. E. S. HOST TO SUPREME CHIEF

Mrs. Ralph H. Weaver Of Warren, O., Guest Of Honor Of Group

Monroe Assembly No. 103, S. O. O. B., entertained the supreme worthy president, Mrs. Ralph H. Weaver of Warren, Ohio, on Monday.

Thirty-seven members and Sir Knights of Monroe Commandery No. 7, K. T. entertained with supper at the La Casa tea room prior to the meeting.

Mrs. Weaver inspected the local assembly. Two candidates, Mrs. A. C. Bennett and Mrs. Newton E. Wilson, were initiated. Mrs. Weaver complimented the assembly for their fine ritualistic work and also praised them for the contributions they have made to the civic affairs of the city.

Mrs. Weaver has served the social order of the beauceant, (an order whose membership is composed of the wives of Knights Templar), as supreme historian, supreme marshal and for four years as supreme recorder. In September, 1945, she was elected to the office of supreme preceptress, advancing a station each year and in September, 1948, in the annual assembly held in Dallas, she was elected and installed as supreme worthy president, the highest office of the order.

Mrs. Weaver is also a past worthy matron of Morning Light Chapter No. 80, O. E. S., of Warren, Ohio, noble prophetess of Trinity Shrine No. 42, White Shrine of Jerusalem. She was general chairman volunteer services of the American Red Cross of Warren during the recent war. She has served two terms as president of the Federated Women's Clubs of Ohio and when at home resting from her fraternal work, she teaches classes in Braille and parlimentary law.

She is also a member of the Warren Methodist Church and gives much of her fine Christian character to the work she loves so well.

Mrs. Weaver left Tuesday morning to continue her inspections in Arkansas and Texas.

SMALL DOG FORGETS ANCESTRY FOR TIME

JASPER, Ala., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The small dog must have forgotten he is a dog—he climbed a tree.

Then instinct told him that up in a tree, 30 feet off the ground was no place for him.

So he barked and howled until his master, Joe Honeycutt, came to the rescue.

The dog apparently had been chasing a squirrel yesterday when he ran into a hollow tree at an opening near the ground. The squirrel scurried up the inside of the tree with the tiny dog following.

The dog came out an opening onto a limb and was marooned.

Duplicate Bridge Tournament Planned At Country Club

Mardi Gras Ball Last Of Month To Be Resplendent Event Veiled In Mystery

The Country Club which these days is providing an almost constant round of social activity this month will have two outstanding events on the calendar.

On Wednesday a ladies' luncheon at 12 o'clock will be followed by a duplicate bridge tournament at 2 o'clock. The play will be under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Harrington, local bridge authority. Serving on a committee to plan the event are Mrs. Hadyn Cutler, Mrs. Arthur Dryburgh, Mrs. John Edward Godfrey, Mrs. Edgar A. Brown, III, and Mrs. John Theus.

Reservations must be made at the club by Monday.

On Saturday February 26th, the most outstanding event of the winter will take place when the Mardi Gras ball is held. Patterned after the traditional New Orleans balls, a queen will be crowned and a resplendent court will be on hand.

There is a great deal of mystery surrounding the event since, as is traditional, the identity of the queen will be kept secret prior to the ball and at the present time the names of members of the court have not been revealed.

However, many club members have been making plans to obtain costumes in keeping with the theme of the affair, which will be that of a Spanish Court

Mrs. A. M. Serex Is Guest Of Music Guild At J. N. Coon Home

The Music Guild held its regular monthly program meeting in the home of Mrs. J. Norman Coon.

Mrs. E. W. Cruse, president, presided over a brief business session.

Mrs. H. M. James, committee chairman for the annual luncheon, announced the date and place for the meeting next month.

It was voted to stress "Hymn Singin'" at each program meeting this year as suggested by Mrs. J. R. Bell, music chairman of State Federation of Music Clubs.

A new member, Mrs. C. B. McEachern, was welcomed into the club. Mrs. E. E. Lawson, program chairman, introduced the following program hymn: "Mighty Fortress is our God," by entire group, accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins; Paper: "The Opera in New Orleans," by Mrs. J. G. Taliaferro.

She said in part:

"Long before anything more than occasional operas were given in the north, New Orleans was sustaining a regular opera company. It was the first American city to establish opera permanently. The French opera of New Orleans, although not of the same high standing as New York opera of today, or, of the national operas of Europe, it has certainly been of the greatest importance in the musical life of the nation and is the south's greatest institutional contribution towards it. Opera in New Orleans dates back to the year 1791.

"The names of the very first operas are unascertainable, but in a theater on St. Peters street, as far back as 1810, The Barber of Seville was produced by a French company; and soon after, Romeo and Juliet was put on. Operas and ballets were put on in the theater St. Phillippi, entirely independent of New York taste and New York money. Foreign artists were sought abroad and most of the operas sung in France were heard in the "Paris of America."

"In 1813, a grand opera house was completed. It was called the Theater d'Orleans. Four years of success ended with a fire that destroyed it, and it has never been rebuilt.

"The opera was the focus of social life in the picturesque city. Memoirs of that day never fail to mention the brilliant scenes, the jewels, and the beauty of the women.

Mrs. J. Norman Coon told of "Old French Opera House in New Orleans."

The highlight of the afternoon's program was the introduction of Mrs. A. M. Serex (guest artist) and former opera star of Le Petite Opera Company of Louisianne. Mrs. Serex discussed her own experiences in opera when she was chosen to play the title role in the opera Mignon, New Orleans. She concluded her talk by singing some of the arias she did in the role of Mignon.

During the social hour an array of handkerchiefs was presented to Mrs. J. E. Jarman, a member of the club, who is moving away from Monroe in the near future.

Present were: Mrs. R. W. Cretney, Mrs. E. W. Cruse, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. R. W. Irby, Mrs. H. M. James, and Mrs. J. E. Jarman.

Mrs. E. E. Lawson, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. P. J. Newman, Mrs. Raymond Spence, Mrs. J. G. Taliaferro, and Mrs. C. B. McEachern, Mrs. Morris Miller, and Mrs. Serex.

Former Olla Girl Is Married In San Francisco Church

Miss Georgia Wallis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wallis of Olla, La., became the bride of Mr. Joseph Eugene Boire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arsene Boire of West Springfield, Mass., in a double ring ceremony performed at Saint Edward's Church in San Francisco, Calif., Saturday, January 15, at two o'clock in the evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William P. Kennedy.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Carl Wallis, wore the traditional wedding gown of white satin with a yoke trimmed in seed pearls. The fingertip veil was fashioned to form a crown and was made of seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was of white orchids and gardenias tied with white satin streamers.

Attending the bride were her sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Wallis, who served as matron of honor and Miss Joan Smith of San Francisco, bridesmaid. Mrs. Wallis wore a gown of aqua brocaded taffeta and her bouquet was of red roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in a gown of peach taffeta and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Thomas Callahan of New York City, N. Y., served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Messrs. Donald E. McKeigh, Selby Drew and Anthony Denitello.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wallis. Approximately seventy-five guests were served from the beautifully appointed bride's table.

The bride changed her wedding costume for a dress of navy blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white orchids from her wedding bouquet.

The young couple will make their home in Oakland, Calif., where the groom is stationed with the United States coast guard at Yerba, Beuna Island.

DIMES MARCH GREAT SUCCESS

More Than $5,000 Donated By Generous Public In Twin Cities

Public support of the March of Dimes campaign in Ouachita parish was praised highly today by Miss Freeda Mickel, local chairman of the 1949 appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Residents of Ouachita parish have so far contributed over $5,000 and with a little more effort the final returns may reach around $7,000. We may take just pride in the generous response that has been made this year. Fully aware of the urgent need for funds to carry on the fight against infantile paralysis, our local people outdid all previous efforts to make this year's drive the success it has been.

Miss Mickel made known her heartfelt appreciation of the volunteer workers on the March of Dimes committees, and expressed gratitude for the spendid cooperation of civic and fraternal organizations whose members gave so willingly and unstintingly of their time and effort.

"I realize the difficulty of naming all groups and individuals entitled to praise," Miss Mickel said. "At the same time, I want everyone in Ouachita parish to accept my sincere thanks as a personal message. In so doing I speak not only for myself alone, nor for my associates on our various March of Dimes committees. My expressions of appreciation are amplified thousands of times over by infantile paralysis patients here and elsewhere, who are being aided and will be aided because Ouachita parish residents strove so generously to make the 1949 March of Dimes the best on record."

Wedges of bananas may be dipped in well-beaten egg and fine cracker crumbs and fried in deep fat; serve with a meat or fish course, or as a dessert with lemon sauce.

MADEMOISELLE RECOGNIZES

Above is Kay Causey and dramatic pupil, Dawson Ann Forman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Forman, Monroe. Mrs. Causey, newcomer here, is a former director of the Monroe Little Theatre, who is now conducting classes in speech and dramatics. The magazine named had a picture and sketch of Mrs. Causey in the current issue.

'Sgt.' Molly Pitcher Leads Way For Women In Service

The uniforms of WACs and WAFs have become as familiar to the general American public as those of the servicemen. Although for the first time in the history of the United States the women who serve in our armed forces are a permanent part of the Regular army and air force, the history of women who have served their country along with their male kinsmen goes back as far as the Revolution. "Sergeant" Mollie Pitcher, who fought at her husband's side in the Battle of Monmouth and stepped into his place when he fell might have laid claim to being "the first American service woman."

When World War I began, it was suggested that the army and navy organize women's auxiliaries and though the idea was rejected by the United States, the British did organize several enlisted women's services, one of which was the W. A. A. C. General Pershing requested the United States to organize a women's service corps and plans were drawn up for the corps. The uniform was to be of "soft silver-brown wool material" with a tan pongee blouse and a brown windsor tie. At the time, these ideas were rejected by the war department.

So, it was not until the coming of World War II when a total war effort unlike anything known before by the United States was required that women were used in the armed forces. On May 14 1942 congress authorized the establishment of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Because the American public believed that women would be "safer" in an auxiliary, full military status was not granted for the corps until July 1 1943 and even then this status was for in time of war only. Long before the corps was given full military status WAACs were serving overseas.

The first two hundred to go overseas arrived in North Africa in January 1943, two months after the invasion there. The unit proved so efficient that General Eisenhower asked for highest shipment priority for Mmore WAACs. And soon after the corps became part of the army WAACs were serving in the European theater, the Southwest Pacific theater, India, China, Egypt, Alaska, Bermuda, Hawaii, and Central Africa.

At the end of the war the WACs began to demobilize, but before all had left the service, the army found that women were still sorely needed in hospitals, personnel centers, and headquarters. The army, therefore, slowed the WAC demobilization rate far below that for men. In June 1948 the job that women did during the war, and the devotion to duty with which they accomplish their missions, was fully recognized and appreciated. The WAC became an integral part of the U. S. army and U. S. air force.

To the thousands of women who had served their country during the war this was the greatest honor ever bestowed the American woman. Now women in uniform are working with our nation's men side by side to keep the peace and security of this country. There is no greater honor, and certainly no knowledge more satisfying than the knowledge that as the names of "Sergeant" Mollie Pitcher, Florence Nightingale, and Clara Barton went down in the pages of history so will the women's army corps and the women's air force proving once more that the American woman is standing beside her male kinsmen in keeping the greatest democracy in the world, that of the United States of America.

FARM BUREAU TO ORGANIZE STORE

RAYVILLE, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—The Richland parish farm bureau reported last week that Richland parish farmers had organized to form a cooperative farm store which is now located in the F. B. Hatch building in Rayville.

It was organized in order to make scarce farm supplies available to planters at a lower rate.

Archie Brown, Ottis Henderson, James Parish, William Norman, Combs Copes, Bertie Cobb, R. M. Elkins and Bob Bell have been named as the board of directors for the newly formed Cooperative Farm Store.

Under its broadened scope a new name is sought for the establishment and the public is asked to volunteer names. The name that is adopted will entitle its author to a prize of $25. Entry coupons are carried in an advertisement appearing in the Morning World today. The names suggested should be filled out, signed properly and returned to this establishment. Deadline is midnight February 16.

DELTA COUNCIL GETS LAUDATION

President McKinney Tells Lake Providence Group Of Miss. Progress

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—On the occasion of the annual membership drive, leaders from all walks of business, civic, agricultural and professional life gathered here to hear W. T. McKinney, Greenville, Miss., president of the Mississippi Delta Council, declare: "That the progress of the Louisiana Delta Council was such that every member should point with pride to its objectives and accomplishments." The head of the Mississippi council gave a resume of the early struggle that was made in order to develop the Mississippi Delta Council to its present state of efficiency and recognition. He further stated that the Mississippians were very proud of the progress being made by the Delta Council of Louisiana and that they stand ready to assist the Louisiana organization in every way possible.

Senator George B. Walker, president of the Pedigreed Seed Company, Stoneville, Miss., and national recognized Guernsey breeder, told of the work the Mississippi Delta Council had done in getting more research work done in agriculture in Mississippi.

W. H. Farmer, manager of the Louisiana Delta Council, gave a report of what has been done by that organization since its beginning one year ago. Mr. Farmer's report stressed accomplishments in drainage, agricultural research, conservation and highway construction.

General J. A. Lake, chairman of the traffic and industrial committee of the Mississippi council, Greenville, Miss., told of the fine cooperation given the council's program by business and professional people throughout the Mississippi delta area.

B. F. Smith, assistant manager of the Mississippi Delta Council, spoke briefly on the mechanics of their organization.

George T. Hider, president-elect of the Louisiana Delta Council, acted as toastmaster and told of the council's activities in sending a delegation to Washington to testify before the house agriculture committee on pending national farm legislation.

Directors from East Carroll parish elected at the meeting were John Rodge, David Amacker and James H. Gilfoil, III.

CONCORDIA JURORS PROVIDE TREE FUND

FERRIDAY, La., Feb. 5.—(Special)—At a recent meeting the Concordia parish police jury appropriated the sum of $200 for trees and beautification of the courthouse lawn.

They also authorized the secretary, H. H. Meng, Jr., to place the sum of $2,000 in the 1949 budget for the Concordia parish health unit.

It was also authorized that the secretary secure a one-half page advertisement in the Police Jury Review magazine.

On motion of J. L. Murray, seconded by Abner Maxwell and by a unanimous vote the secretary-treasurer was instructed to place aside 2 mills of the 4 mills parish tax for a drainage project, the setting aside of the 2 mills to be effective with the collection of taxes during 1949.

JONESVILLE LOOKS FOR 50-FOOT CREST

JONESVILLE, Feb. 5.—(Special)—Jonesville is being prepared for the 50-foot flood stage Black river crest which army engineers say will reach the town by next week.

Col. John R. Hardin of the U. S. engineers in New Orleans last week end told engineers in this area by phone that "Jonesville must be kept dry." Saturday, an engineer of Monroe called on W. C. Brown, Catahoula representative on the Tensas basin levee board, and others, and it was decided that, as a precautionary measure, a stockpile of dirt would be moved in from outside the town for possible use in plugging gaps in the levee along Black river. Equipment has been brought in, but work has been delayed to some extent by the snowfall and subsequent rains.

High water is already getting into some of the lower sections of the parish south of Jonesville and is over the road in at least one place.

CATAHOULA PARISH RED CROSS ELECTS

JONESVILLE, Feb. 5.—(Special)—R. M. Cotton of Jonesville was re-elected chairman of the Catahoula unit of the American Red Cross at an election Wednesday night. Vice-chairman is Martin Enright of Sicily Island, and treasurer is Wedon Smith of Jonesville.

The 1949 fund-raising drive will be held in March, with Aubrey Brooks, Catahoula parish superintendent of schools as chairman, Cotton said. A goal of $2,200 has been set. Fifty per cent of the money raised in the parish will be kept in Catahoula, instead of 26 per cent as in previous years, Cotton said.

Reviewing the work of the past year, Cotton stated that approximately $11,000 in national money was spent in storm disasters, and that $700 in local money was spent in individual emergencies.

Annual Boy Scout Section

BOY SCOUT WEEK IS BEING OBSERVED HERE

TWO-YEAR SCOUTING PROGRAM IS SET UP BY VALLEY COUNCIL

Plans Approved For Extensive Program To Be Carried Out Next 12 Months In Local Area

A new two-year program of emphasis of the National Boy Scout Council was presented to the two hundred and sixty Scouters and their ladies who attended the annual recognition banquet of the Ouachita Valley Council, held at the Hotel Virginia, in Monroe, Thursday night, January 27. Harley E. Erb, regional Scout executive, told of the great need for a crusade in America to revitalize the Boy Scout movement and announced the Fortieth Anniversary Crusade program which will use the theme "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

The three targets about which the crusade program is to be centered were described as leadership, program, and membership. The importance of these three targets, with the objectives in each, was dramatically portrayed by Mr. Erb and Phil Hannan, of Hodge. Hannan closed the banquet program with a very unusual description of the crusade, supported by pantomimes in each phase of the program.

A. B. Clarkson, council president, was announced as having been selected again for president of the council by W. H. Farmer. This will make Mr. Clarkson's eleventh year of service in this capacity. Other officers for 1949 announced include L. L. Price, A. W. Ford, L. E. Mathis, vice-presidents; J. W. Webster, commissioner; P. E. Massey and W. H. Farmer, national council representatives.

Lloyd Love, scoutmaster of a newly organized troop in Ferriday, presented a plaque of appreciation from the council to Mr. Clarkson. This plaque expressed appreciation to him for his outstanding contribution to the youth of this area through his ten years of service as council president.

Another highlight of the banquet was the awarding of the Silver Beaver for distinguished service to boyhood to four scouters of the Ouachita Valley Council. These were A. C. Lea, who has served for many years in

CLARKSON AGAIN HEADS COUNCIL

Will Start Eleventh Term As Ouachita Valley President

A. B. Clarkson, chief clerk of the northern division of the Louisiana Power and Light company, was elected for his 11th consecutive term as president of the Ouachita Valley council at a recent council meeting. He was first elected to serve in this important position in 1939 and for many years has rendered outstanding service to the youth of northeast Louisiana. Prior to his first election as council president, he served several years as chairman of the finance committee, and council treasurer.

The Ouachita Valley council has grown and developed rapidly under the able leadership of Mr. Clarkson. In membership it has grown from 1000 to 1876 boy members since he has been in office, and it has made tremendous strides forward in practically every phase of the program.

In addition to the scouting positions held in this council, Mr. Clarkson has served for several years as a member of the Region Five Scout committee which supervises scouting activities over five southern states, and for the past five years he has been a member of the national council committee on Cub Scouting. Mr. Clarkson is also a member-at-large to the national council.

In recognition for distinguished service to the boyhood of the Ouachita Valley council, Mr. Clarkson has been awarded the Silver Beaver Award. He also holds the Silver Antelope Award for distinguished service to boyhood in Region 5.

At the council annual recognition banquet, Mr. Clarkson was presented with a plaque of appreciation in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the boyhood of this area through his service as council president.

CAMPOREES ARE HELD IN AREAS

Three Districts Entertain Over 250 Scouts And Leaders

District camporees were held in the spring of 1948 in three districts of the council with over 250 scouts and leaders participating.

Scouts attending these camping events for a 2-day period participated in a very interesting program consisting of camp craft, scouting craft, swimming, cooking, camp fire programs an other scouting events. Patrols were judged on their camping ability and organization and their use of the patrol methods. Ribbons were awarded to patrols according to the proficiency attained in the various activities.

Two-day camporees are held each spring in the districts of the council to train scouts and their leaders to be better campers throughout the summer camping season. Troops and patrols have a strict inspection as to sanitation, cooking and general camping ability and are rated on these items. This is done in order that troops may make necessary corrections to make first class camping units under any circumstances.

District camporees of 1948 were held in midland district at Winnsboro with Roy Taylor as camporee chief; in the southwest district at Gum Springs with Roy Miller as chief; and in the eastern district at Lake Bruen with C. C. Adams as chief.

Plans in 1949 call for district camporees in all districts of the council and a council wide camporal held in the late spring.

ANNIVERSARY CRUSADE SET

Will Comprise Major Activity For Current Scouting Year

The 40th Anniversary Crusade of Scouting will be launched this week in the Ouachita Valley council and all over America, and carried out as a major activity in all troops, packs, and senior units in every Scout district. Scout troops in scout districts from all parts of the Ouachita Valley council will start their Crusade activities in many different types of special events during Boy Scout anniversary week.

Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America has announced that the "strengthen the arm of liberty" crusade will be a major activity of the organization this year and in 1950.

"The proper training of youth takes on added importance in view of today's domestic and world-wide problems," says Mr. Schuck. "It is obvious that the boys of today are going to inherit a world situation which will tax their ability and their character to the utmost."

"There could be no more appropriate celebration of our 40th anniversary in 1950 than to show America a scout movement surpassing in expansion and program anything we have previously reached," Mr. Schuck said in a message to the nation's 543 local scout councils on the eve of Boy Scout Week.

Calling the "strengthen the arm of liberty" program a "crusade", the chief scout executive said its objectives were three-fold.

The first goal seeks a higher quality in each of its three age level programs: Cub scouting for boys 9, 10 and 11 years of age, Boy scouting for those 12 and over, and Senior scouting for young men 15 and older.

Better programs, said Mr. Schuck, will provide more fun and adventure. Boys will stay longer in the organization, he said, acquiring more "how how" to face the problems of manhood.

The Boy Scouts of America seeks to make its programs available to all boys who need and want it. The second goal of more membership will be accomplished as the quality of the programs improve, Mr. Schuck says.

The third goal of the crusade is more volunteer leaders with proper training in scouting techniques so that they can furnish necessary leadership to meet the first two major objectives.

The first information on this crusade program of scouting was given to Ouachita Valley scouters in a very impressive ceremony at the annual banquet held in late January. This ceremony emphasized the three goals to be obtained in the crusade program. All units in the council have now received complete information on the program on each of the three goals for a two year period. Upon completion of this information by scout units, the Ouachita Valley council will announce its objectives in program enrichment, membership growth, and increased trained leadership. These objectives will be approved by the council's executive board and used as a program of emphasis for 1949 and 1950.

SCOUTS' SHIP ORGANIZED HERE

Sponsored By Walter S. Savage, Jr., Post In Monroe Last Fall

Sea Scout Ship No. 1, first senior scout unit activated within the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout council, was organized in October under the sponsorship of Walter S. Savage, Jr., Post, American Veterans of World War II.

Sponsorship of the ship was undertaken by the AMVETS as their principal community service project for the current year. The post choose this project because of the availability of their floating post home on Ouachita river as a base of operation for the ship's company.

The adult leaders of the ship are Steve Daigle, Jr., skipper; Andy Anderson, first mate; and Lonnie Hampton, second mate. Bill Reno was elected by the ship's company as officer of the deck.

The ship's committee is composed of Charles Bruscato, chairman; Deno Kokinos, Tony Lewis, Harold Breard and Nick Fontana.

Some 20 young men turned out for the organization meeting. Since that time attendance at the weekly musters has ranged from six to 15.

Activities of the ship company's thus far have included a cruise aboard Harry P. Cote's river cruiser to D'Arbonne, a hot dog feed provided by th AMVET post and the showing of United States navy films.

The ship, registration of which was completed the first of the year, is the Ouachita Valley council's second venture into sea scouting. Some 20 years ago a ship was organized by the late Barney Oakland, local river enthusiast.

Membership in the ship's company is open to young men over 15 years old. The ship is run by the ship's company. Adult leaders merely advise.

A compartment on the second deck of the AMVETS' post home has been dedicated to the ship's company for its use.

Leaders Of Industry, Religion Give Approval To Boy Scouting

The importance of Scouting is expressed in statements made by some of the nation's most outstanding officials and leaders in industry and religion. Here are a few which show how the writers regard the Boy Scout movement:

A Brotherhood Of Boys

"The Boy Scout movement represents a brotherhood of boys which could grow into the brotherhood of man with a better understanding between all men, something which the people of the earth have yearned for over he years. The Scouts' oath to uphold the United States, its Constitution and its institutions gives one renewed hope that despite the dark shadows that lie across our path, this country will be preserved and handed on by the succeeding generations as it was handed to us by our forefathers."

BERNARD M. BARUCH.

The Importance Of Scouting

"Boy Scout training makes a deep and lasting impression. In the many F. B. I. men who were Scouts when boys, I have seen the personal qualities which Scouting develops: self-reliance, dependability and an unselfish devotion to duty. These are qualities which brought victory to our armies on the far-flung battle fronts of two world wars.

"America needs men with such qualities now, and she will always need them in all walks of life and in all occupations.

"There is no better way to prepare our teen-age boys today for leadership in the atomic age of tomorrow than by giving them the kind of manly training in citizenship that the Boy Scouts of America provides.

JOHN EDGAR HOOVER.
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, United States Department of Justice.

A Great Blessing

"I know the meaning of Scouting because of what it has done in every synagogue with which I have been connected since I have been ordained as a Rabbi. I think of the great blessings it confers upon American and world life."

DR. JOSHUA L. LIEBMAN,

CUB SCOUTING GROWS ACTIVE

Younger Lads Taking Deep Interest; Desire Real Scout Experience

Young lads with the dark blue uniform and bright yellow neckerchiefs have come into prominence in the Ouachita Valley Council in the last few years. They belong to the Cub Scouts, a program for 9, 10 and 11-year-old boys. This phase of the Boy Scout program has developed in an unprecedented manner and more and more boys are joining the ranks of this purposeful organization every day.

Look in on any one of the council's 14 Cub Packs as it conducts its monthly pack meeting and you will find a large group of Cubs and their parents, who also participate very actively in the program. You will see the boys who are members of the Cub Pack participating in special programs which they have been practicing in their weekly den meetings. In recent months these pack meeting programs in the Ouachita Valley Council have consisted of pet shows, minstrels, achievement parades, potluck suppers, Christmas parties, cubmobile derby and other features of great interest to both the Cub Scouts and their parents. Cubs also turned out in large numbers for parades, the Scout Round-Up and other Scouting events. The enthusiasm and determination of this younger group of boys is not excelled anywhere in the entire Scout program. There is almost always 100 per cent attendance in all their activities, including the weekly neighborhood den meetings.

There has been special emphasis placed on the training of Cub Scout leaders in the Ouachita Valley Council in recent months. All new Cub Packs have been required to participate in a special pack organization training course which all parents of Cubs are required to attend. A very unusual and interesting den mothers' training course was conducted by Scout officials in the central district with good attendance from Monroe and West Monroe den mothers. A Cub leaders' roundtable was also inaugurated in 1948 as another means of training for all Cub leaders in the central district. It is planned that these roundtable sessions, in which leaders exchange ideas, practice handicrafts and games and learn all of the latest developments in the Cub Scout program, will be carried out to other districts in the council in 1949.

Most youngsters look forward to the day when they will be 12 and can join the Scouts. In the meantime, the Cubbing program offers a very real need in the lives of boys from 9 through 11 years of age. It gives them interesting worthwhile things to do with boys of their own age, and, with Cub training, a boy has every chance of getting more out of Scouting than a boy who has never been a Cub.

The character aims of Cubbing and Scouting are basically the same, although the programs are kept distinctly different. Starting with Cubbing, a boy may be an active member of the Boy Scouts of America from the time he is 9 years old until he grows into manhood.

Parents take a very prominent place in the Cub Scouting program, since the boys must work with parents on all projects and have their approval of the work as completed. The program has been so designed as to bring parents and the boys closer together.

The Cub den is a neighborhood group and meets weekly under the supervision of a den mother, assisted by the den chief who is a Boy Scout, living in the neighborhood. Each week the den program is an actual beehive of activity, as the boys join in their stunts, plays, puzzles, handicraft and games.

Each month all Cub Scouts and

STORE WINDOWS DISPLAY SKILLS

Scouts of Monroe and West Monroe will demonstrate some of the scouting skills and cubbing activities in a very unique manner during the Anniversary Week celebration by decorating windows in the downtown shopping districts.

Local merchants have cooperated in this project by allowing scout troops and cub packs to display their troop, pack, patrol and den trophies, as well as special scout camp and hiking equipment and many special items of interest made by scouts. Some items displayed will represent many hours of work by scouts as they have prepared for their camp outings and merit badge work. Most of the scout displays will be on camping, cooking, woodslore, and related outdoor subjects. The cub scout displays will be made up principally of handicraft articles that cubs have made in working on their cub achievement program.

Some of the troops and packs have indicated that their displays will be live displays after school hours each day with boys in the windows actually demonstrating some skill and answering questions for the public.

Displays can be located during Anniversary Week at the following Monroe and West Monroe stores: Sears-Roebuck & Company, Troop 28; The Palace, Troop 31; Durrett's, West Monroe, Troop 13; Ferd Levi, Pack 31; Morgan and Lindsey, Monroe, Pack 34; Morgan and Lindsey, West Monroe, Pack 13; United Gas Company, Pack 1; D. Masur & Son, scout and cub uniform and equipment display.

AIM FOR 1949 TO EXTEND SCOUT PROGRAM IN MANY PARISHES

Character Building Will Be Prime Objective When Carried Out In All Northeast Louisiana

Making Scouting available to more and more boys in the fifteen parishes served by the Ouachita Valley Council is the primary aim of Scouting officials in this area as they formulate plans for the 1949 Scouting program. Plans to extend this character building program and make it available to every boy in every community of the council are being discussed in every Scout committee meeting.

Each year nearly 4,000 boys reach the Scouting age in the council area. When this large figure is multiplied by the several age groups which the Cub, Scout and Senior programs serve, at least 30,000 boys are available for Scouting at any one time. Realizing that approximately 2,000 boys now served is only a small percentage of those who should be deriving the benefits that the movement provides all operating committee chairmen are setting high goals that this important program might be rapidly expanded.

Not only are plans underway to expand the program, but every phase of the program will be greatly enriched through a new two-year crusade program which is being launched. Important training for leaders and committees is to take place in order to make Scouters more adequately prepared to serve in leadership capacities. An effort will also be made to strengthen each unit by providing at least two leaders for every unit.

Every Scout and Cub will also find the program interesting as troop and pack activities are improved and special events are planned for them. Future plans call for camps, camporees, circuses, rallies, merit badge shows, jamborees, round-ups, and other outstanding events. Scouts will also be more active in the advancement program under new realigned advancement requirements which are now in effect.

Another important feature of the 1949 program is to be the camp activity. Most boys join Scouting because of their great desire to hike and camp. Ouachita Valley Council will help fulfill the desires of these Scouts by encouraging more adequate troop camping and by improving the program and facilities of Camp Ki-Ro-Li, the Council's camp. A healthful and safe program, full of adventure and scouting skills, will be provided all Scouts who attend Camp Ki-Ro-Li. A new development program for Camp Ki-Ro-Li is also expected to get underway in fine fashion during the year in order to provide the Scouts of this Council the very best available Scout camping.

The Boy Scout movement wants to meet all the desires of every boy of Scout age by giving him a worthwhile program that is fun and at the same time helpful to him. Ouachita Valley Council leaders are taking aggressive steps to see that boys in northeast Louisiana have every opportunity that Scouting offers. In 1949 many new Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units will be organized in the Council area to provide Scouting opportunities for as many boys as possible.

A special appeal is made to men, who in their boyhood were Scouts and who enjoyed the benefits of this program, but who up to now have not seen fit to volunteer their services. Their services are greatly needed in the Council in many different capacities.

Men interested in serving as leaders of boys or in any other Scouting capacity should contact the Council Scout Office in the Ouachita parish court house, or any Scouter active in the program.

Boy Scout Anniversary Week Being Observed Nation Wide

Boy Scouts of the Ouachita Valley Council are this week, Feb. 6-12, observing Boy Scout Anniversary Week along with more than 2,200,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Senior Scouts, and their adult leaders in every part of the nation.

"Adventure—that's Scouting!" is the theme of this celebration which will feature many parents' night programs, anniversary banquets, Courts of Honor, and pot-luck suppers, practically every day during the week, as well as Scout Sunday programs, school programs, civic club programs, radio features, and many demonstrations of scouting skills in all eight districts of the northeast Louisiana council.

Scouts and Cubs of the Council will wear their uniform all week and participate in the celebration along with members of more than 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units in America.

The Boy Scout Movement was organized in America February 8, 1910, and since that time 15,500,00 Scouts and leaders have been activily enrolled to participate in the popular program it offers.

The Boy Scouts of America is organized not only in the United States, but in Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam. Troops and Packs are also found in foreign countries where there are American boys.

The aim of this year's observance of Boy Scout Week is to encourage more boys and men to join the movement and to help all Americans to better understand what it is doing for their country.

BIG WEEK AHEAD FOR CUB PACKS

Cub Scout Pack No. 13 has a program planned this week that starts today and will end February 13. Today all cubs and leaders will attend church services at the First Methodist Church in West Monroe at 11 a. m. They will attend from both Monroe and West Monroe in a body in that church.

Friday, February 11, will be the pack meeting featuring the big pack blue and gold, pot luck dinner, at the First Baptist Church, at 7 p. m.

Menus for the dinner will be prepared by den mothers and parents for their respective dens.

Achievement awards will be made with a number of boys passing their Webelos and graduating into Boy Scout rank.

Attendance banner will be presented to the den having the greatest number of cubs and parents present. Leading dens for attendance have been: First—Den No. 5, which was hard to beat; Den. No. 6 and Den No. 1 which claimed the flag at the last meeting, with close competition from Den No. 5.

A new den, No. 7, has been added to the pack at the home of a den mother, Mrs. U. T. Boyd, 1400 Eby street, West Monroe, with seven new cubs, each one passing bob cat requirements this week, entitling them to their complete Cub Scout uniform.

ALPHA PHI IS KI-RO-LI AID

Camp Survey Made For Ouachita Valley Scout Council

When Alpha Phi Omega fraternity was organized last fall at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute the members pledged themselves to a program of service. The main area of service is service to the campus. The chapter has already become known on the campus as the group that is always willing to help in any worthwhile project. The second duty this group recognized was service to Scouting in Ruston. Immediately the group pitched in and handled promotion and publicity for the annual round-up. Several teams visited all the troops in Ruston and outlined the program to the Scouts. The third service of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity is service to the local council (Ouachita Valley Council).

Early this year the council staff found that a comprehensive contour map was needed by February 10th. Joe Bishop, director of engineering service of the B. S. A., is to make a visit to Camp Ki-Ro-Li next week to inspect and make recommendations for future camp developments. He asked that the council have such a map by the time he visited.

The Alpha Phi Omega chapter at Tech was asked if they could conduct this survey and make a map according to the requirements. The project met with wholehearted approval of the group. John Seegar, civil engineering instructor, also senior faculty advisor for the chapter, organized the group and instructed them in the necessary fundamentals for surveying.

On January 8th the first group started the survey at Ki-Ro-Li. Working week ends these students have progressed in the work. Taking time out during the mid-semester holidays the group camped at Ki-Ro-Li and worked until snowbound January 30. Thus far, working week ends the group has three-fourths of the map completed. With a fair break in the weather the map will be completed this week end.

Much credit should go to this group for the fine service rendered to the Ouachita Valley Council. The cost of the project would have been about about $1,500.00, a sum that can well be spent on camp improvements. The council commends these students highly on their untiring efforts in producing this map. In adverse weather conditions the group has continued to work so as to meet the deadline with a fully completed job. Joe Anderson and J. T. Tigner, former Boy Scouts, have supervised the project and rendered fine service to Alpha Phi Omega.

The chapter of the Alpha Omega fraternity was reactivated December 9 and immediately entered into a program of service. The purpose and principle of this service group is to render aid to three groups. First, the Alpha Phi Omega feels obligated to render service to the campus. Any worthwhile projects that need to be done at Louisiana Tech become the duty of Alpha Phi Omega. Second, the chapter will render service to the Scout troops of Ruston. One of the first such projects undertaken by the chapter was to publicize and promote the Ouachita Valley Council's fall round-up. A very effective job was done. As its third responsibility, the Alpha Phi's recognize that they should contribute service to the Ouachita Valley Council. The chapter is fulfilling this obligation by surveying and making a map of Camp Ki-Ro-Li. This last project is one in which the members spend the week end at the camp in West Monroe. This project has already saved the council several hundreds of dollars.

To become a member of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, one must have at one time been a member of the Boy Scouts of America, a student in good standing at Louisiana Tech, and pledge to continue to live the Scout Oath and Law. Although the membership to this fraternity is open only to former Boy Scouts, Cubs or Senior Scouts, the fraternity nationally is in no way connected with, or under the jurisdiction of the Boy Scouts of America. The 167 chapters of Alpha Phi Omega are self governing, but many years ago it was deemed necessary that the fraternity recognize their responsibility toward the Boy Scouts of America and the Boy Scouts of America has cooperated with the Alpha Phi Omega since its founding.

The Ouachita Valley Council feels proud to welcome into its group these fine young men. Already they have shown the finest spirit in their pledge to serve the community. High praise certainly should go to these students who are spending so many hours in service to others, merely because they recognize their duty toward their fellowman.

Judge W. M. Harper, member of the executive board and former council president, expressed appreciation to scoutmasters, cubmasters, and den mothers of the council for their many hours of service each week in directing the activities of our boys. Judge Harper had this outstanding group stand as Eagle Scouts presented each with a carnation as a token of appreciation for their efforts.

Included among other outstanding awards at the banquet was the presentation of the Scouter's Key to W. W. Stevens, scoutmaster of Troop 32, Monroe, and J. D. Bice, scoutmaster of Troop 45, Ruston. These were presented by E. J. Foster, chairman of the leadership training committee, who commended them for their fine progress in training.

Eagle Scouts of 1948 were recognized by S. L. Maxwell, of Canebrake, who commended them for their outstanding accomplishment in attaining this highest rank in scouting.

L. L. Price, vice-president of the council, presided over the banquet. Rev. E. D. Holloway, veteran scouter, gave the invocation, and the meeting was closed with the scoutmaster's benediction led by J. W. Webster, council commissioner. E. J. Foster was chairman of the banquet committee.

of the Boy Scouts of America, and of their wholesome influence not only upon the American way of life, but also upon the international scene. This great program represents a distinct challenge to any person who is interested in the boyhood of today, who become in so short a time, our citizens of tomorrow."

KENNETH C. ROYALL,
Secretary of the Army.

Common Meeting Ground

"I have been connected with Scouting for some 30 years, I can say as a result of that experience and out of the depth of my convictions, that there is no youth program more effective than the Scouting program in upbuilding character, religious respect, and Americanism. The Boy Scouts of America is a movement within which all groups and creeds can find a common meeting ground with appropriate adaptations for their own special interest."

Every Boy Is Two Boys

"Every boy is two boys. One is the natural boy, the other is the child of grace. Scouting develops the basic interests, skills and techniques native to the boy. It also teaches sound natural principles of morality. Its varied program provides the rich soil for the seed of grace. Thus, the two boys grow up together, merging gradually, impenetrating finally, to form the upright citizen and the dutiful child of God."

YOUNG CURRY IS AWARDED MEDAL

Fairbanks Boy Scout First To Win God And Country Award Here

Eagle Scout Robert Curry, 14-year-old son of Mrs. J. E. Curry, and the late Mr. Curry, of Fairbanks, became the first scout in the Ouachita Valley Council to receive the God and Country award for outstanding achievement in his church work. Scout Curry received the award in early September in a special ceremony at the Fairbanks Baptist Church. The award was presented by Rev. R. L. Ross, Jr., pastor of the church, who commended Curry for his many years of faithful work in meeting the difficult requirements for the award.

The God and Country award is a church award presented by the church to scouts. The only scouting requirement is that the boy must have attained the first class rank. The beautiful medal, which is a red cross on a white shield suspended from a blue ribbon, is worn with the Eagle badge on the left pocket of the scout uniform over the heart.

Church leaders state that Robert has been extremely active in church work since he was converted and united with the Fairbanks Baptist Church at the age of eight. He has been a zealous worker since his conversion, taking part in all of the activities of the church. These activities include serving as president of the Intermediate Training Union, president of the Intermediate Sunday School class, and serving as usher since he was nine years of age. He has been very regular in attendance at all services, including the mid-week service, and has a record of five years of perfect attendance in Sunday school. He is also a member of the Bible Memory Association, which meets annually at Ringgold, Louisiana. During his two-year membership in this organization, he has memorized 500 scriptures.

To obtain the God and Country award, Robert met the following requirements: Regular church attendance; regular Bible reading and personal prayer; systematic giving to the church; understanding of the significance of baptism, and the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion service in his own church; led prayer or worship at a church service, scout camp, or other public gathering; know something of the worldwide activities of his own denomination or communion as outlined by his pastor; be instrumental in bringing one person into church membership; knowledge of the principal beliefs of his own church or denomination, based upon studies assigned by the pastor; describe how Christian groups are working together as in the United Christian Youth Movement; render 115 additional hours of personal service to his church, or to the community in the name of the church as approved by his pastor or other church officials; show evidence of Christian character and conduct; and other requirements set up by his pastor.

In the church awards program emphasis is placed on the relationship between the Boy Scout and his pastor. By this means the influence of the pastor's position and personality are brought to bear on the boy's life and out of this man and boy relationship can come great blessing for the boy, the pastor, and the church.

FALL ROUND-UP GREAT SUCCESS

Has Been Adopted As Regular Annual Feature For Scouts

The fall Scout Round-up of the Ouachita Valley Council proved so successful this year that it has been adopted as a yearly feature of the Council program. L. L. Price, round-up range boss, stated that the round-up not only gave the Council its greatest gain in membership in recent years, but that it also was an important factor in improving programs and recruiting additional leadership for scouting units.

Over 300 new boys and many new leaders were brought into the Scout program during the round-up months of November and December, and over 30 units were presented attractive round-up streamers for proficiency in membership recruiting. The leaders of these units also received special awards, as did Scouts and Cubs who recruited new members.

Range lingo was used during the entire round-up membership drive. Scouts were called cowhands, scout leaders were range formen, commissioners were range riders and fence menders, and new boys brought in were mavericks. All mavericks were roped, corralled and brought to Gentry's Rodeo Arena in West Monroe on December 11th, where they were branded for scouting.

The December 11th round-up program brought over 500 Scouts and Cub Scouts to Monroe for the first council wide scout activity in several years. The activities of the day began with a large Scout parade through the business districts of Monroe and West Monroe. In addition to the Scout units in the parade, the Neville, Delhi, Lake Providence and Winnsboro High School bands participated in the program.

In the rodeo arena program many different scouting skills were presented and round-up awards made. One of the outstanding features was the branding of the new members in a branding ceremony with special branding irons.

Some of the events presented in the round-up program were: Pioneering, Troop 67, Sterlington, Troop 94, Dodson, Troop 99, Winnfield; Bicycle Parade, Pack 1, Monroe; Cub Clowns, Pack 34, Monroe; Cub Games, Pack 13, West Monroe; First Aid, Troop 34 and Troop 28, Monroe; Scout Drill, Troop 31 and Troop 32 Monroe. Tom Hayes, member of the central district committee, headed up the special round-up events in the arena.

The following units qualified as round-up units during the months of November and December: Troop 2, Bastrop; Troop 12, Clarks; Troop 13, West Monroe; Troop 17, Ferriday; Troop 24, Waterproof; Troop 25, Lake Providence; Troop 30, Monroe; Troop 34, Monroe; Troop 37, Pioneer; Troop 45, Ruston; Troop 48, Ruston; Troop 49, Dubach; Troop 56, Tallulah; Troop 57, Delhi; Troop 88, Atlanta; Troop 92, Lake Providence; Troop 99, Winnfield; Troop 61 Monroe; Pack 1, Monroe; Pack 13, West Monroe; Pack 31, Monroe; Pack 34, Monroe; Pack 39, Oak Grove.

TROOP 48 WILL GIVE MINSTREL

Temple Baptist Church Forging Plan For Show In Ruston

In December, Troop 48 was organized at the Temple Baptist Church, Ruston, La. Although the youngest troop in Ruston, already this group of scouts is forging ahead on plans for a minstrel. Recognizing the need for activity in the troop program the scoutmaster, Z. V. Rosser, asked the Scouts if they would like to present a minstrel to the town. Overwhelming enthusiasm was expressed not only by the Scouts but also by the business men of the city.

The first step in organizing this show was the organization of a troop band by the scoutmaster's wife, Mrs. Rosser. As the plans swing into high gear, Mrs. Rosser began combing the town for talent. She wanted the best that there was in order to present a high caliber entertainment spectacle.

Walter Krousel, Jr., an Eagle Scout, will be the accompanist. Members of the Scout band are: Pat McLane, Ben Sellars, Billy Saunders, Wayne Hedgepeth, Donny Walker, Lacey Stinson, Donald Taylor, and Roger Rosser. From rehearsals, indications are that this will be a fine musical group.

CAMP CHAIRMAN

JOE DANTE

Dr. Claybrook Cottingham, president of Louisiana Tech, will be the interlocutor. Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Rosser are the producers and directors.

Members of the cast are: Jess Harris, Truett Hinkie, Jacque Norman, Louis Berdon, Casey Voran, W. H. LcLaurin, Looney Head, Dr. John Moore, Doyle Dumas, Roger Lawson, Charlie Nelson, Milton Johnson, Chic Ellis, Joe Ellis, John Graham, Kendall Hearne, Earl Hogan, Bud Head, George Koski, E. J. Sheerer, E. W. Bundy, Rev. D. C. Martin, Rev. McKnight, Roscoe Tullus, Douglas Jenkins, John Jenkins, Jack Ritchie, Arthur Stone, Pat Kavanaugh, Joe Anderson, Major Larry Fox, W. B. Temple, Carl Jones, E. G. Hill, Judge C. A. Barnett, Coach E. M. Shirley.

Proceeds realized from this show will be used to take Troop 48 on an extended camping trip next summer. Plans now call for visits to historical spots of interest in the south such as Vicksburg and Natchez. In between stops the Scouts will camp and prepare their own meals along the route. Many of the activities will either prepare the Scouts to pass advancement tests or put into use those skills previously learned.

HONOR PROGRAM PLEASES SCOUTS

Many Boys Wearing Leather Emblems As Result Of Camping Feats

Many Scouts in this area can be seen wearing leather emblems, imprinted with Indian symbols, on their right shirt pockets. This emblem indicates that the wearer was an honor camper at Camp Ki-Ro-Li in 1948.

A new program for camp honors was inaugurated at Ki-Ro-Li last summer. This program features a special impressive ceremony for the honor campers, based on Indian legend. Candidates for the honor are approved by their Scoutmaster, or acting troop leaders, for the award and after the final campfire of the week, they are led to the ceremonial grounds for initiation and the awarding of their badges. Members of the Central camp staff conduct the Indian ceremony for the candidates for this honor.

The camp honor at Ki-Ro-Li is available to any camper meeting the necessary requirements and several troops attending camp had all of its members qualify.

It is expected that many campers will qualify for first and second year camp honors during the 1949 camp season. This new camp honor program is not connected with the Order of the Arrow, National Honorary Campers Society, which also has an active chapter in the Ouachita Valley council.

Requirements for honor campers at Camp Ki-Ro-Li are as follows: Demonstrate scouting spirit; participate in all events; make something from nature; make something from lashing (by lashing); swim at least 50 yards, or participate in all swim periods; find your way without a compass; identify at least ten trees or shrubs — give their uses; bring in at least five edible wild foods, or find tracks of three wild animals; candidate must be approved by Scoutmaster or staff; be able to tie any five knots or hitches demonstrated at rope yard.

Sapphire, light blue, royal and peacock blue will be important colors for Spring.

12 SCOUTS WILL REPORT TO U. S.

They Will Visit Washington And New York During Scout Week

Twelve outstanding Boy Scouts, representing each of the nation's Boy Scout regions, will represent America's 2,200,000 scouts and leaders in ceremonies at Washington, D. C., and New York City during Boy Scout Week, opening Sunday, February 6, and closing on February 12, Lincoln's birthday.

Boy Scout Week will mark the 39th anniversary of the incorporation of the movement at the nation's capital. On Tuesday (Feb. 8) the actual birthday, the entire membership will recommit themselves to the Scout oath or promise at 8:15 p. m., in the four time zones.

Observed in every city and town and most villages and hamlets throughout the nation and its territories by 70,000 units, the celebration is the largest birthday observance of young America.

Federal officials and national scout leaders will greet the twelve representative Boy Scouts when they arrive at Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, Feb. 8th. There the scouts will share in ceremonies opening a new two-year program to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" by giving more boys in Scouting a richer experience. Scout leaders expect the organization to be at the peak of its usefulness to the nation by the end of 1950, near the close of its 40th anniversary year.

While at Washington the Scouts will make a "Report to the Nation of the Scout Citizen at Work in 1948," summing up the service projects and activities of America's 700,000 Scout units.

After their stay in Washington the Scouts will go to New York to meet United Nations officials and take part in ceremonies at the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor on Saturday morning, February 12, where torches will be lighted to symbolize the start of the two-year crusade.

Taking part in the ceremonies at the Statue of Liberty will be the United Nations Boy Scout troop, comprising sons of U. N. personnel of many lands, and some New York Scouts whose parents are of foreign origin. The entire group will then go to the Greater New York Scout camp near Alpine, N. J., nine miles north of the George Washington bridge.

Here on the 950-acre short-term campsite donated by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Thomas W. Lamont, with funds for buildings contributed by the Charles Hayden Foundation, the Scouts will camp overnight in the shadow of the nation's largest city.

Representing region five in the special ceremonies at the Statue of Liberty and in Washington will be Eagle Scout Stine Wilson, of Bristol, Tenn.

THE SCOUT OATH

Before he becomes a Scout a boy must promise:

On my honor I will do my best:

To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law;

To help other people at all times;

To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

THE SCOUT LAW

A SCOUT IS TRUSTWORTHY. A Scout's honor is to be trusted. If he were to violate his honor by telling a lie, or by cheating, or by not doing exactly a given task when trusted on his honor, he may be directed to hand over his Scout Badge.

A SCOUT IS LOYAL. He is loyal to all to whom loyalty is due, his Scout Leader, his home, and parents and country.

A SCOUT IS HELPFUL. He must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons, and share in the home duties. He must do at least one "Good Turn" to somebody every day.

A SCOUT IS FRIENDLY. He is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout.

A SCOUT IS COURTEOUS. He is polite to all, especially to women, children, old people and the weak and helpless. He must not take pay for being helpful or courteous.

A SCOUT IS KIND. He is a friend to animals. He will not kill nor hurt any living creature needlessly, but will strive to save and protect all harmless life.

A SCOUT IS OBEDIENT. He obeys his parents, Scoutmaster, Patrol Leader, and all other duly constituted authorities.

A SCOUT IS CHEERFUL. He smiles whenever he can. His obedience to orders is prompt and cheery. He never shirks nor grumbles at hardships.

A SCOUT IS THRIFTY. He does not wantonly destroy property. He works faithfully, wastes nothing, and makes the best use of his opportunities. He saves his money so that he may pay his own way, be generous to those in need, and helpful to worthy objects. He may work for pay, but must not receive tips for courtesies or Good Turns.

A SCOUT IS BRAVE. He has the courage to face danger in spite of fear, and to stand up for the right against the coaxings of friends or the jeers or threats of enemies, and defeat does not down him.

A SCOUT IS CLEAN. He keeps clean in body and thought, stands for clean speech, clean sport, clean habits, and travels with a clean crowd.

A SCOUT IS REVERENT. He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties, and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

EAGLE SCOUTING PAYS OFF WELL

Many Civic Leaders Here Were Prominent In Boyhood Days

Many leading business and profession men of the Twin Cities were recipients of the Eagle Scout Badge in their boyhood. Included in this distinguished group is one of the first Eagle Scouts in the state of Louisiana.

Among the former Eagle Scouts now residing in Monroe and West Monroe are Dr. Rodney Cline, Mike John, Jr., Raymond John, J. Floyd Stone, Jr., Bert Sperry, Raymond Masling, Louie Masur, Jr., James A. Nowell, T. Mickel, Louie Monroe, Haynes Harkey, Dr. Robert Wood, Jr., Dr. C. Prentiss Gray, Jr., Raymond West, John Kelso, George Holland, Jr., Joseph Mickel, Jr., Harry Frazer, Charles North, Gilford McCleery, and Dewey White.

Dr. Rodney Cline, Dean of Northeast Junior College, received his Eagle award with two other Scouts in Lake Charles in 1917. These awards were reported to have been the first Eagle Scout badges presented in the state of Louisiana. Dr. Cline has been interested in scouting ever since that time, having served as a Scout leader and recently on the executive board of the Ouachita Valley council.

This prominent educator thinks that scouting is greatly needed today as leadership of the right kind is sorely needed and too often lacking. He believes that America's future is largely dependent on such groups as Boy Scouts, which are entrusted with the ever important task of providing leadership in their mature years.

Dr. C. Prentiss Gray, Jr., well known Monroe physician, received his Eagle Scout badge in the early twenties as a member of Troop 5, sponsored by the First Methodist Church in Monroe, Dr. Gray is still registered as a committeeman with the First Methodist Church troop. He received his Eagle badge along with Robert Dubos, who is now Scout executive at Roanoke, Va., and Jacques Caspari, who is today connected with a large refinery in Shreveport. When these three men received their Eagle badges, Jack Keith was Scout exective of the Ouachita Valley council. Mr. Keith now serves as Scout executive in St. Louis, one of America's largest councils.

Dr. Gray also states he can not commend scouting too highly and thinks that all boys should participate in this character building and citizenship training program.

T. Mickel, who is the present district commissioner for the Central District, received his Eagle badge in 1930, as a member of Troop 30 sponsored by the American Legion. He has been very active since that time as a Scout, Scoutmaster, and in several other scouting capacities. He has done a very outstanding job as commissioner of the Central District in 1948, and has recently been appointed to serve in that capacity in 1949. Mickel states that scouting has been very helpful to him and that the citizens of the Twin Cities should make an all out effort to make scouting available to every boy.

Another former Eagle Scout who is still active as a Scout leader is J. Floyd Stone, Jr. Stone joined Troop 31, sponsored by the Episcopal Church, in 1933. He received his Eagle badge as a member of that troop and has served continuously in that troop as Scout, assistant Scoutmaster, and Scoutmaster. Other scouts in Stone's troop to receive their Eagle badges were Louie Masur, Jr., Raymond John, Tim Henninger, John Kelso and Dr. Robert Wood, Jr.

Two of the former Eagle Scouts of the council received their badges in the outlying area, but have moved to Monroe recently. These are James Nowell, who was the first Eagle Scout at Waterproof, Louisiana, and Haynes Harkey who was an Eagle Scout in Lake Providence, La. Both of these men are now members of the Central District committee, where they are using their scouting knowledge to provide scouting opportunities for more boys in the Central District.

All of these former Eagle Scouts indicated that they had many years of enjoyment in the Scout program and that they derived many benefits by participating in scouting activities in their youth. They all indicated that they were very glad that they remained in scouting long enough to earn their Eagle badges and they recommend that every Scout in every Troop do his best to earn this high award.

Ninety thousand twin babies were born in the United States in 1947, constituting an all-time record for this country.

J. W. WEBSTER COMMISSIONER

Supervisory Post Given For Long Distinguished Service

J. W. Webster, veteran Scouter with experience in many scouting capacities, has been elected to serve as council commissioner of the Ouachita Valley Council in 1949. Here he will work in one of the Council's most important positions as he must supervise the work in all activities in every district of the council.

Mr. Webster has a long and active record of service in the central district as Scoutmaster, District Commissioner, and District Chairman. He also served at one time as chairman of the Council organization and extension committee, and he holds the Silver Beaver award for outstanding and distinguished service to boyhood.

As Scoutmaster of Troop 1, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, he led the troop to become one of the best units in the Council. Under his leadership as district chairman, the central district has grown prosperous. Many new units have been organized, many training courses held, much activity provided, and the program improved considerably.

As Council Commissioner Mr. Webster will supervise the work of district commissioners in the Council's eight districts, as well as work directly with all district committees and the Council executive board. He advises that one of his main objectives in this new position is to have each district organized with a complete and effective commissioner staff.

Distinguished Service To Boyhood Recognized

Awards for distinguished service to boyhood were given to four leading Ouachita Valley Council scouters in an impressive ceremony at the council annual recognition banquet held recently. These awards, which were approved by the national council committee on awards, was given to Phil Hannan, Hodge; A. J. Ensminger, Wisner; A. C. Lea and L. E. Mathis, Monroe.

L. L. Price, who presided over the ceremony, had all men in the council who had previously received this high award participate in the ceremony. As he read each citation, the award was passed from man to man to demonstrate the bond of fellowship and service among this select group of scouters. Two Eagle Scouts, a Cub Scout, and a Senior Scout presented the awards to the new men receiving the hi_ honor.

Phil Hannan has made an outstanding contribution to the Boy Scout program of the Ouachita Valley Council by serving for several years as a scoutmaster, and for a number of years as a district committee member and council executive board member. As scoutmaster, he had a very outstanding troop and as district chairman of the southwest district, he organized the district and recruited members for the district committee, to make it one of the outstanding districts of the council. Since serving as district chairman, he has served as leadership training chairman for the district in an excellent manner, and has always been a great help on the executive board because of his knowledge of the scouting program. He has two sons who have been scouts, one of whom was an Eagle Scout.

Mr. Hannan is pulp mill superintendent of the Southern Advance Bag and Paper Company, Hodge. He is an active member of the Catholic Church, on the general advisory committee of the town of Hodge Youth Center, president of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, and has always been active in Lions Club work. He served as president of the Jonesboro-Hodge Lions Club in 1945, as zone chairman in 1947, and at the present time is district governor of district 8-A. Mr. Hannan has always been very active in all worthwhile community affairs.

A. J. Ensminger has made an outstanding contribution to the scouting program by serving as a troop committeeman, cubmaster, and scoutmaster. His scout troop, for many years, has been one of the most outstanding troops in the area with a good advancement and camp program. In addition to his excellent record of service with his scout troop, he has assisted with the camping and training program on a district and council basis, and has been a great help to council leaders by giving this assistance. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow, with the brotherhood degree, and he has a son who is an Eagle Scout. The council has always been able to call on Mr. Ensminger for any difficult job with the assurance that it would be well done.

Mr. Ensminger is a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist Church, Wisner, and is also a Sunday School teacher in his church. He is resident representative of the southern division of the Fisher Body Company, and also a notary public and insurance agent. He is also a member of the school board for Franklin parish and served as program chairman for the Wisner Lions Club. He is past master of the Gilbert Masonic Lodge, and past secretary of the Masonic Lodge. He has always been very active in civic affairs in his community and parish.

A. C. Lea has made a very outstanding contribution to the Ouachita Valley Council and to the boys of this area in his service to scouting in the Cub Scout program. He organized Pack 46, Ruston, in 1941, and served as cubmaster. He reorganized Pack 34 in Monroe in 1946 and served as Cubmaster. He has also served as cubmaster of Pack 31, Monroe. During 1948, he has served as field commissioner for cub scouting and has been partially responsible for the organization of several new cub packs, and has assisted in the setting up and conducting many training courses for new packs and cub leaders. He has visited practically all pack meetings in the central district during the year and has set up a regular monthly district cub leaders' roundtable for all cub leaders. Under his leadership, cub scouting has grown and prospered in the central district.

Mr. Lea has always been very active in all civic affairs. Since his return from military service, he has become vice-commander of the L. B. Faulk Post, American Legion, and in addition to his scouting work, he has been very active in church activities. He is secretary of the Young Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church, Monroe, and is doing an outstanding service to his church and his community through his direction of a special hobby and handicraft class conducted weekly for the junior age group at his church.

L. E. Mathis has a very outstanding service record with the Boy Scouts since he became actively registered in scouting in 1942. He first served as a troop committeeman of Troop 32, sponsored by the Monroe Lions Club. After this, he was made a member of the executive board in 1943 and also served as chairman of the advancement committee. He held this job until 1945, when he was made council treasurer. He has now served as council treasurer for a period of four years and, in this capacity, has always been willing to assist on any project and has been an excellent advisor to the council on financial matters.

Mr. Mathis has always been active in working on worthwhile civic projects in his community. He is manager of Bish Mathis Institute, local business college. He has been active in Chamber of Commerce work, Community Chest work, Salvation Army, local recreational center, and many other service projects. He served as president of the Monroe Lions Club in 1940 and 1941, secretary-treasurer of the Lions Club in 1944, 1945, and 1946, and cabinet secretary for the district Lions organization in 1939, 1940, 1941, 1947, and 1948.

HEALTH, SAFETY SCOUTING AIM

Led By H. K. Litton Troops Find These Ideals Carried Out

For many years the Boy Scouts of America has placed much emphasis on the training of its members — now numbering 2,200,000 boys and leaders — in good practices of health and safety. The Ouachita Valley council is actively carrying out this training feature of the Scout program through its health and safety committees under the leadership of H. K. Litton, of Monroe.

The purposes of this safety training effort are threefold: To afford boys greater opportunities for adventure with minimum danger, to teach them principles of protection which will be to their advantage as they grow into manhood, and to "Be Prepared" to aid others when help is needed.

The services of Scouts in disasters such as floods, hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes and fires has been a thrilling chapter in the forty-year history of their organization.

Health knowledge and safety skills instruction is woven into every phase of the Scout program. Each Scout taking the Scout oath pledges himself "to help other people at all times" and to keep himself "physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

Scout councils all over America have committees of adult volunteer expert advisors whose task is to make effective the organization's health and safety program. These committees usually include: A public health authority, a medical advisor, a public safety authority, an emergency service expert, aquatic experts, a firearms expert, a first aid expert, a fire prevention expert. Associated with Mr. Litton on the Ouachita Valley council health and safety committee are: Dr. W. L. Bendel, Wright-Bendel Clinic, Monroe; Chief Lee Hales, Monroe fire department; O. Willis, Ouachita parish health unit, Monroe; John Zufall, Dr. C. P. Gray, Jack Blanks, A. S. Huffman, Monroe; Dallas Henry, Jonesboro; Dr. H. E. Jones, Wisner; Charles Nelson, Ruston; Morris DeVries, Newellton.

The council has three objectives in its health and safety program: Protection, education and service. First comes the protection of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Senior Scouts, and their adult leaders as they engage in scouting activities. This includes the inspecting of meeting places, camps, busses, cars and vessels.

Medical examinations are recommended for every Scout for two reasons; so that physical defects may be discovered and corrected and to aid in his protection.

Leaders are trained in health and safety practices. The committee investigates accidents occurring during scouting activities to discover the cause and to prevent it from happening again.

Another major activity is the education of members of the Boy Scouts so that they may learn as rapidly as possible to assume intelligent responsibility for their own protection. Demonstrations, competitions, exhibitions, advancement in rank and events for public education help interest Scouts and leaders in health knowledge and safety skills.

The third important phase of this work is training for service to others in times of emergency.

Progressive emergency training is provided for Scouts of all ages. Emergency service corps are developed with Senior Scouts trained to render practical service to the home community in times of great need.

Scouts also participate in various community health and safety projects like Fire Prevention Week, Safety Week, Negro Health Week, Child Health Day, and similar occasions to interest boys in the welfare of others.

Projects undertaken by the health and safety committee in the Ouachita Valley council area this year include inspection of Camp Ki-Ro-Li, inspection of camporee and troop camp sites, inspection of transportation, inspection of troop meeting rooms, safety instruction in troop meetings and special Scout activties, and a physical re-check of all boys attending Scout camp.

The Cub Scout is on the mainline track that leads to fun and adventure; and physical, mental and moral growth. He is trained to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

MANY GROUPS IN SCOUTING FORM

Sea Scouts Of AMVET Sponsorship Among Newer Organizations

1948 was a very successful year for the Ouachita Valley Council in its efforts to expand the scouting program to reach the maximum number of available boys in northeast Louisiana. The organization and extension committee, under the capable leadership of A. W. Ford of Ruston, organized 21 new scouting units for Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Senior Scouts. This expansion in scouting units gave the council a decided increase in membership in each of the three phases of the program.

Among the new units organized in 1948 was the council's first senior unit for many years. Sea Scout Ship One, sponsored by the Amvets in Monroe, was activated in the fall of the year and is now carrying on its seamanship activities in grand style.

Four new Cub Packs for the nine through twelve age group of boys were also added to the rolls, and a great expansion in Boy Scouts saw the formation of 16 new Scout troops in every area of the council.

The new units organized in the council's fifteen parishes in 1948 were:

Cub Packs: No. 1, Monroe, sponsored by St. Matthew's Catholic Church; No. 13, West Monroe, sponsored by First Baptist Church; No. 39, Oak Grove, sponsored by the Woman's Department Club; No. 90, Oak Ridge, sponsored by the Pierian Club.

Scout Troops: No. 2, Bastrop, sponsored by Van Avenue Baptist Church; No. 8, Bonita, sponsored by the Bonita High School; No. 12, Clarks, sponsored by the Baptist Church; No. 17, Ferriday, sponsored by the Rotary Club; No. 19, Vidalia, sponsored by the American Legion Post No. 80; No. 24, Waterproof, sponsored by the Waterproof Parent-Teacher Association; No. 27, Calhoun, sponsored by the Methodist Church; No. 30, Monroe, sponsored by the Central Assembly of God Church; No. 48, Ruston, sponsored by Temple Baptist Church; No. 49, Dubach, sponsored by the Lions Club; No. 61, Monroe, sponsored by the True Vine Baptist Church; No. 62, Monroe, sponsored by Zion Travelers Baptist Church; Troop 92, Monticello, sponsored by Baptist Church Brotherhoods; No. 94, Dodson, sponsored by Dodson Health Unit; No. 99, Winnfield, sponsored by the Lions Club; No. 150, Mangham, sponsored by American Legion Post No. 286.

Senior Units: Sea Scout Ship No. 1, Monroe, sponsored by the Amvets.

Council leaders have indicated that in 1949 the intensified program of organization will be continued in order that scouting, with all of its advantages, may become a reality to thousands of boys within the council area who do not now belong and who need the citizenship training offered.

A delicious salad for a company dinner is made from sliced avocado, orange sections, and romaine, watercress or some other green. Serve with a French dressing seasoned with a good deal of paprika, and garnish with ripe black olives if desired.

Bread boxes should be washed weekly and dried thoroughly. If possible they may be put in the sun to air.

National Leader Will Confer Over Ki-Ro-Li Improvements

Joseph E. Bishop, national director of engineering of the Boy Scouts of America, will visit the Ouachita Valley Council February 9, 10, 11, and 12, to advise with leaders of the Council on matters pertaining to Camp Ki-Ro-Li and its development. While he is here, he will make a detailed study of the camp facilities and property and will meet with the camp development committee on Friday afternoon, February 11.

Mr. Bishop is a native of Athens, Georgia, where he was a Boy Scout and attended elementary and high school. He graduated from the University of Georgia, receiving a degree in civil engineering in 1926.

In that same year, he became connected with the Palisades Interstate Park Commission at Bear Mountain, New York, working as an engineer in the Bear Mountain Park, one of the largest state parks in America, where he designed and laid out lakes, dams, and all types of park developments for nearly three years.

Then for about two and a half years, he did industrial engineering and highway work in New Jersey, particularly on the Pulaski Skyway, before returning briefly to Bear Mountain to plan the Perkins Memorial Drive.

In 1933, Mr. Bishop began a seven-year affiliation with the National Park Service. During the last five years of this period, he was successfully an administrative inspector in charge of Civilian Conservation Corps work in Georgia, Virginia, and lower New York and New Jersey, which involved supervision of federal participation in state and county park developments in these states.

In May, 1940, he was appointed to his present post as National Director of Engineering. He advises with local Boy Scout Councils on problems dealing with the purchase and development of land for Boy Scout camping purposes.

Scouters of the Ouachita Valley Council are looking forward to Mr. Bishop's visit, as his experience in camp construction all over America should prove very valuable to the local camp development committee in their work at Camp Ki-Ro-Li.

Court Of Honor Slated During Boy Scout Week In Monroe

Scouts Julian Nichols, Lytle Matkins, and Sammy Warren, members of Troop 67, Sterlington, will receive their Eagle Scout badges, scouting's highest award, at the central district court of honor to be held at Northeast Junior College, Friday, February 11, at 7:30 p. m., it was announced yesterday by Judge Jesse Heard, chairman of the central district advancement committee.

Judge Heard stated that this court of honor will be the largest held in recent months and, in addition to the impressive ceremony to be held for the conferring of the Eagle badges, other features concerning the Anniversary Week activities will be on the program.

Troop 32, sponsored by the Monroe Lions Club, will be the host troop and have a part on the program. The new two-year program of emphasis, "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," will be officially launched in a very effective manner as a two-year crusade program in the council. Troop leaders have also indicated that there will be more advancements for this court than at any court in many months.

The three Scouts to receive their Eagle badges have impressive records of service in scouting. Scout Julian Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Nichols of Fairbanks, joined Troop 67, October 24, 1946, and progressed through the lower ranks to become a first class Scout June 28, 1947. He then began on his merit badge program, passing sufficient merit badges to become a Star Scout on October 6, 1947, and Life Scout on January 5, 1948. Since that time, he has passed the required twenty-one merit badges for the Eagle rank and has also demonstrated leadership ability in his troop. His application for this award has been approved by his parents, his teachers, his pastor, and his scoutmaster, as well as other Scout officials. Scout Nichols has demonstrated his leadership ability in Troop 67 by serving in several different leadership capacities since he has been a member. In earning the Eagle award, Scout Nichols has passed the following merit badges: Physical development, first aid, life saving, pioneering, safety, swimming, personal health, bird study, camping, civics, cooking, home repairs, reading, firemanship, plumbing, pathfinding, chemistry, scholarship, public speaking, electricity, machinery.

Scout Lytle Matkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Matkins, Sterlington, became a member of Troop 67 on April 11, 1947 after passing his tenderfoot test. He became a second class Scout on May 11, 1947, and passed all the necessary requirements for first class Scout on June 28, 1947. After receiving five merit badges, he became a Star Scout on October 6, 1947, and then received his life rank on January 5, 1948. By passing the required merit badges for Eagle and demonstrating unusual leadership ability in his troop, he has applied for and been approved for Eagle Scout rank by council officials and the National Boy Scout Council. In earning the Eagle award, Scout Matkins has passed the following merit badges: Physical development, first aid, life saving, pioneering, safety, swimming, personal health, public health, bird study, camping, civics, cooking, reading, plumbing, machinery, wood work, carpentry, home repairs, dairying, pathfinding, farm machinery, bookbinding, farm home and its planning, public speaking, firemanship, electricity.

Scout Sammy Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Warren, of Swartz, joined Troop 67 on September 14, 1946, and progressed through the lower ranks to become a first class Scout on July 27, 1947. He then began on his merit badge program, passing sufficient merit badges to become a Star Scout on October 28, 1947, and Life Scout on February 2, 1948. Since that time, he has passe dthe required twenty-one merit badges for the Eagle rank and has demonstrated unusual leadership ability in his troop. His application for this award has been approved by the National Council Boy Scouts of America, and local council officials. In earning the Eagle award, Scout Warren has passed the following merit badges: Athletics, physical development, first aid, life saving, pioneering, safety, swimming, personal health, public health, bird study, camping, civics, cooking, carpentry, woodcarving, woodwork, public speaking, bookbinding, home repairs, pathfinding, firemanship, plumbing, machinery, painting, reading, farm home and its planning, aeronautics.

Judge Heard urges that all Scouts and scouters of the central district attend this important court of honor for the unusual program which is being prepared. The public is also invited to witness the affair.

TRAINING PROGRAM IS HIGHLY USEFUL

Training of Scout, Cub and Senior leaders has taken a place of prominence in the program being directed by the Ouachita Valley Council for the 15 parishes of northeast Louisiana. This program has been under the very capable direction of E. J. Foster, chairman of the leadership training committee of the Council.

AIDS TRAINING

E. J. FOSTER

In 1948 many new courses for leaders were developed and conducted and training aids obtained to assist the training committee in carrying out its work. Among these aids is a 16 mm. movie projector, a slide projector, film strips, slides and several training films on boy scouting and cub scouting. It is planned that additional aids to training will be provided each year in order to further improve the quality of training for scout leaders.

Over 500 different people participated in 25 courses conducted by the various council and district training committees. 339 of these received certificates for completion of courses. Two scoutmasters, W. W. Stevens of Monroe and J. D. Bice of Ruston, received scouters keys for completion of all requirements in the three year scouters training program.

The following type courses were conducted in 1948: Fundamentals, Troop Organization Course, Pack Organization Course; Den Mothers Course; Basic and Advanced Scoutmaster Course.

A new trimming for dresses and sweaters is a strip of double Batiste with neatly stitched buttonholes spaced three inches apart. Both edges of the strip are finished with eyelet ruffles.

MIDLAND HAS ACTIVE TROOPS

Comprises Parishes Of Richland And Franklin; Plan Activities

The Midland district of the Ouachita Valley council is composed of Richland and Franklin parishes. There are nine units in this district. One of these units is a Cub Pack in Rayville and there are two Negro troops, in Winnsboro and one in Wisner.

Midland district a new district chairman at its last monthly meeting. W. J. Pierron succeded J. A. Holmes as chairman. The various operating committees will be appointed this month.

There have been two major district activities this year. A district camporee was held in the spring, in which forty-two boys and four scoutmasters participated. The troops arrived at 3:00 o'clock and pitched tents, then prepared supper. After supper, they participated in a campfire. Each troop put on a stunt, or skit, with the "old Ford" trick there as usual. After the stunt period, everyone joined in singing. There were one or two scouts who sang for the group. The scoutmaster's benediction closed the campfire. Sunday morning after church, the scouts enjoyed games and contests. Among the games were axemanship, fire building, water boiling, chariot race, and undress relay. After dinner the troops broke camp.

In August there was a district jamboree and court of honor. This was the largest event of its kind ever staged in the district. The second and first class requirements, which included first aid, signalling, axemanship, cooking, map and compass, nature, and hiking, were demonstrated for the audience in the form of pantomimes. At the conclusion of each requirement, the respective badges were awarded to the newly advanced scouts.

Upon completion of the awarding of badges, the troops participated in various scouting games. While the rest of the troops were playing games, Troop 53, Winnsboro, constructed a 20-foot signal tower by lashing the poles together. When the tower was completed, a scout climbed to the top of the structure and signaled a message to the audience.

At Camp Ki-Ro-Li- this summer, the Midland district, in keeping with its fine record in scouting, had seven troops represented and six leaders. This was thirty per cent of its total membership of scouts.

Troop 91, Central, and Troop 150, Mangham, were the only new troops organized in the district this year, but, several of the older troops were reorganized. Plans are being made by district committee members to organize new units in Baskin, Crowville, Rayville, and Winnsboro.

District commissioner Roy Taylor has started having monthly scoutmasters' roundtables again after a lapse of some time. At these roundtables, the scoutmasters and troop committeemen receive training in scouting skills such as knots and lashes, signalling, games, first aid and many others that will help them give the scouts a better year-round program. These meetings are held at the same time as the regular district meetings, but only members of the district committee attend the district meeting.

The troops of the district are planning to have a very fine and interesting series of events during Scout Anniversary Week, which includes observance of Scout Sunday, standing retreat, special programs at civic clubs, window displays, overnight hikes, running the community for one day, and special school programs.

The Midland district can look forward to one of its most prosperous years under the leadership of W. J. Pierron, his able committees, and fine scouters.

C. D. M'ADAMS IS PUBLICITY CHIEF

C. D. McAdams, central district scouter, is in charge of the Scout Anniversary Week publicity for the Ouachita Valley Council, and is responsible for the Boy Scout section which appears today in the Monroe Morning World.

Other publicity features which have been arranged include radio programs and spot announcements over all radio stations, newspaper publicity in all newspapers in the Council area, several billboard Scout posters in Monroe and Bastrop, which have been provided by the Gulf States Advertising Company; many special Scout Anniversary posters, Scout window displays, and civic club programs.

Civic Club programs were conducted this week at the Monroe Kiwans Club, and the West Monroe Lions Club. Interesting Scout programs are scheduled this week at the Lions and Rotary Clubs in Monroe.

This is a part of the plan to keep the public informed on Scouting activities in the Ouachita Valley Council.

NEW NEGRO TROOP TO BE CHARTERED

Troop 61, newly organized Scout troop for Negro boys, sponsored by the True Vine Baptist Church, on Burrough street, will be officially invested by council officials in a Scout church program Sunday afternoon, February 6.

William R. Cooper, former army first sergeant, and Scoutmaster of the new troop, has announced that an excellent program has been planned for the affair and all Scouters, Scouts and friends of Scouting are invited to attend.

Included on the program will be the presentation of the troop charter, awarding of second class badges, and other awards to be made by council officials. Robert Murry, interracial Scout commissioner, will talk on the importance of Scouting to the community. The church choir, the deacons of the church, and the troop committee will also participate on the program.

Troop 61 was organized in November after a training course for troop leaders was given, and the troop has made excellent progress since that time. It qualified as a round-up unit in the Council round-up and participated, completely uniformed, in the round-up parade held December 11, in Monroe.

2,500 AWARDS FOR ADVANCING MADE IN SCOUTING RANKS

Scouts and Cub Scouts of the Ouachita Valley council, always eager for the recognition which follows the passing of a required test, received over 2,500 different advancements during 1948. Most of these awards were made at courts of honor and cub pack meetings in which recognition for advancements are an important part of the programs.

Fourteen scouts attained their Eagle badges for scoutings highest rank during the year. These were: Billy Whitten, Troop 53, Winnsboro; Homer E. Lowry, Troop 53, Winnsboro; Ira John Hall, Troop 57, Delhi; Ben Sellers, Troop 46, Ruston; Samuel D. Warren, Troop 67, Sterlington; Raymond Collier, Troop 88, Atlanta; Jack Ensminger, Troop 54, Wisner; Alton A. Allen, Troop 99, Winnfield; Jerry Garner, Troop 26, Monroe; Raymond Bostic, Troop 26, Monroe; Ralph King, Troop 31, Monroe; Robert Currey, Troop 67, Sterlington; John Love, Troop 32, Monroe; Sammy Hanna, Troop 53, Winnsboro; Julian Nichols, Troop 67, Sterlington; and Lytle Matkins, Troop 67, Sterlington.

A total of 812 Merit badges in 90 different subjects from airplanes to zoology were passed. The most popular merit badge was home repairs. Cooking, athletics, civics, personal health, public health, and swimming, also proved to be very popular in the merit badge program.

32 Life Scout awards were made, 40 Star Scout awards were made, 58 First Class badges were earned, and 159 scouts received recognition for passing Second Class rank.

Cub scouts received over 500 awards from their parents in monthly pack meetings. These awards included Bobcat, Wolf Bear, Lion, Webelos, and Gold and Silver Arrow Points.

The council advancement committee, under the capable leadership of Mr. Joe Dante of Winnsboro, supervised the advancement program in the council in 1948.

Camp Ki-Ro-Li Provides Big Fun For Entire Scout World

Since the beginning of the Boy Scouting movement in America in 1910, emphasis has always been placed on the "OUT" in Scouting. Camping has always been one of the most important phases of the Scout program, both for the boys and the Scout Leaders. This was true in the Ouachita Valley Council in 1948 as over 300 different Scouts attended Camp Ki-Ro-Li and participated in the outstanding program of Scout craft skills offered there.

The popular Council Camp, located just off the Arkansas Road five miles west of West Monroe, attracted 30 different Scout troops with their leaders for one or more of the five one-week periods which the camp was conducted. Each of these periods was filled with fun and adventure for these scouts of northeast Louisiana.

Each week a well rounded program of Scout craft, aquatics and fun activities was presented and participated in by all those attending. Among the activities area frequented by scout campers were the rope yard, where they learned knots, splicing and lashing; axe yard, where they learned the care of and safety features of axes and other sharp instruments; compass, map and pathfinding area; archery range and nature trail. The Louisiana Forestry Commission gave assistance to the nature part of the program by assisting and setting up the nature trail and conducting many different nature projects for the campers.

The camp swimming pool, which was constructed through the efforts of S. K. Heninger in 1937, again proved to be one of the most popular places in the entire camp. Here over 50 boys learned to swim, others improved their swimming and passed their swimming and life saving tests. Many troops also received special instruction here on swimming and water front safety. Each week a water carnival was conducted and enthusiastically participated in by the Scout campers. Hal Bynum, of Rayville, was Aquatics director for the Camp and led all of the activities at the swimming pool.

The evening programs of Camp Ki-Ro-Li were filled with many interesting items for the campers, including star study, night hikes, overnight camps, night compass and orientation, troop camp fires, stunt night, night games, stalking and Council camp fires.

Special honors were conferred on many Scouts through a new camp honor ceremony which was started in 1948. Scouts meeting certain honor requirements were allowed to participate in a special ceremony based on Indian legend and awarded emblems signifying that they had received this honor. The Order of the Arrow, National honor campers society, also was very popular with the campers and each Friday night this organization called out its new members in a very impressive camp fire ceremony.

The most popular place at camp was the dining hall. Here scouts proved that there is no limit to the amount of food that they can consume after a very active day in the camp program. Dave Mathis, the popular camp cook, turned out tasty meals each day which were well seasoned and met all the standards of nutrition.

The camp was very outstanding from a health and safety standpoint, as there was no serious accidents or sickness. The health and safety committee, under the leadership of H. K. Litton of Monroe, inspected the camp site on several different occasions to make sure that all facilities came up to the necessary health requirements Dr. W. L. Bendel, a member of the health and safety committee, gave each scout a physical re-check as he arrived in camp, and also visited the camp several times each week to offer his assistance if needed.

The camp staff which so ably directed the program of Camp Ki-Ro-Li in 1948, and made it one of the most outstanding camp seasons in the camp's long history, included the following members: Gerry Harrigill, field scout executive, camp director; Hal Bynum, Rayville, aquatics director; James Donnell, Winnsboro, activities director; Bobby Preddy, Monroe, Morris Dante, Winnsboro; Jules Dante, Winnsboro; Ralph King, Monroe; Bobby Poland, Jonesboro; John Love, Monroe; J. P. Woodruff, Newellton; Jay Pierron, Jerry Furr and Jack Ensminger from Wisner.

CHURCHES AIDING SCOUT MOVEMENT

Over 30 Of 80 Scout And Cub Units Sponsored By Religious Groups

Over 30 of the 80 Scout and Cub units of the Ouachita Valley Council are sponsored by churches and church sponsored groups. These churches include many denominations and faiths. Most of these churches consider their Scout and Cub units as an integral part of their program of work, and actively promote the interest of their own and the neighboring boyhood. They provide meeting places, adult leadership, equipment and other physical and financial assistance in carrying the program forward.

Many churches give the Scouts special recognition and opportunities for service to the church and congregation. Scouts in several of the local units are now participating in the God and Country Award program, and in the Catholic Church, the Ad Altare Die Award, which involves active participation and study of the program, beliefs and activities of the church.

The following troops and packs in the Ouachita Valley Council are sponsored by churches or church organizations:

Troop 1, Knights of Columbus, Monroe; Troop 2, Van Avenue Baptist Church, Bastrop; Troop 9, Methodist Church, Columbia; Troop 12, Baptist Church, Clarks; Troop 13, First Baptist Church, West Monroe; Troop 23, Men's Bible Class, Baptist Church, Harrisonburg; Troop 26, Central Baptist Church, Monroe; Troop 27, Methodist Church, Calhoun; Troop 28, First Presbyterian Church, Monroe; Troop 29, First Baptist Church, Monroe; Troop 30, Central Assembly of God Church, Monroe; Troop 31, Grace Episcopal Church, Monroe; Troop 34, First Methodist Church, Monroe; Troop 37, Methodist Church, Pioneer; Troop 42, Baptist Church, Forest; Troop 45, Trinity Methodist Church, Ruston; Troop 46, First Baptist Church, Ruston; Troop 47, First Presbyterian Church, Ruston; Troop 48, Temple Baptist Church, Ruston; Troop 55, Boeuf River Baptist Church, Ogden; Troop 61, True Vine Baptist Church, Monroe; Troop 62, Zion Travelers Baptist Church, Monroe; Troop 73, Baptist and Methodist Churches, Gilbert; Troop 88, Baptist Church, Atlanta; Troop 92, Baptist Church, Monticello; Troop 95, Mt. UNIQUE COURSE TRAINING PLAN

Winn And Jackson Parish Committees To Meet Feb. 5 And 6

On February 5 and 6 the Southwest District of the Ouachita Valley Council will hold a unique training course. Originating in the mind of Southwest District Chairman, J. H. Cameron, this is one of the first of such courses ever held in this section of the country.

The entire district committee, composed of members from Winn and Jackson parishes, will assemble at Sand Dump Camp on Black Lake Saturday afternoon, February 5th, for supper. Immediately after supper the training will begin. Realizing that the most effective operating group is the best trained group, everyone that is to serve on the 1949 district committee will attend this unique training program.

Each operating committee will undergo a comprehensive course of study that will enable them to do the best job for the year. In addition to the operating committees there will be special training for Scoutmasters and their assistants and troop committeemen. These are the special courses: Leadership Training Committee Operations; Organization and Extension Committee Operations; Health and Safety Committee Operations; Camping and Activities Committee Operations; Finance Committee Operations; Advancement Committee Operations.

These are the six operating committees of the district committee. Each man serving therefore will have the specialized training in the job that he is to do. The Scoutmasters and Troop committeemen will have a course in troop program, which will cover the troop's participation in the two year national crusade to strengthen the arm of liberty.

J. W. Webster, Council commissioner, will teach the troop program course. He has had many years experience in Scouting and will be able to offer many practical suggestions to the troop leaders. Floyd Main will conduct the advancement course. He has served as advancement chairman for many years and has a wealth of practical experience. John McCloy, finance chairman for 1948, will teach the course offered in finance. He is well qualified through years of civil service. The other courses will be taught by the Council staff.

After a thorough indoctrination in the operation of each committee the groups will then make a study of how it applies to their district (Winn and Jackson parishes) and outline plans for participation in the strengthen the arm of liberty crusade.

Mr. Cameron expressed the belief that this training will enable Southwest district to do an outstanding job during the next two years in making the crusade a real and vital part of Scouting.

ARROW ORDER CHOICE HONOR

Every Boy Looks To Time He May Be Admitted To Society

Every Boy Scout in the Ouachita Valley Council looks forward to becoming a member of the Order of the Arrow, an honorary camping society made up of Scouts and Scouters who have distinguished themselves as outstanding campers.

The local Order of the Arrow lodge was originally called Choctaw Lodge, but since each local lodge has to have a different name, the lodge was changed to Comanche Lodge in 1946.

The charter members of the lodge were Charles B. Cook, J. W. Webster, L. L. Price, A. B. Clarkson, A. H. Jones, John Browne, Jesse Grice, Flynn Oliver, Benja Smith, and Leon Pratt.

Each year at the summer council camp, the outstanding Scouts in each period are closely observed by members of the Order of the Arrow. The last day of each session at camp, the candidates are voted upon by all Scouts in camp. If the candidates are elected by the entire camp, their names are submitted to the members of the Order of the Arrow, who then decide if there is any reason why these men are not worthy to become brother members of the lodge. If these candidates are approved by the members of the lodge, they are not notified until Friday night at the Order of the Arrow campfire, at which time the legend of the lodge is told by an Indian chief. This year a very beautiful and effective legend ceremony was acted out as the chief narrated.

After the legend, the medicine man starts an Indian dance and at various intervals, selects the candidates who are then tapped by the chief. These candidates are requested to be back at camp on a specified day, at which time they will be given their "ordeal." The ordeal consists of spending a night out alone with only limited equipment. They must also keep a fire burning continuously through the night. The next morning, they are gathered up into work groups by the "braves" and put to work on some worthwhile camp project. During the day they are given only enough food and water to sustain them. That night the candidates are taken to a mystic ceremonial council fire where they are inducted into the brotherhood through another beautiful ceremony.

There are three degrees in the Order of the Arrow. They are the Ordeal, Brotherhood, or Vigil Honor. Each degree becomes more difficult for the members, with the Vigil Honor topping the list. There are comparatively few people holding the Vigil Honor in the United States, and at the present time, we have none in the Ouachita Valley Council.

At the annual meeting of the lodge, held in September, the 39 members present chose the deer as their totem and elected the following officers: Netami Sakima (lodge chief) Gerald Furr, troop 54, Wisner; Netami Lekhiket (scribe) Robert Currey, troop 67, Sterlington; Netami Mawachpo (treasurer), Jules Dante, troop 53, Winnsboro.

The Order of the Arrow lodge is planning to promote the summer council camp in a big way this year and is expected to take on some other very worthwhile activities very soon.

SPECIAL SERVICES HERE FOR SCOUTS

Scouts And Cubs To Participate In Many Sunday Observances

Sunday, February 6, will have a special meaning for Boy Scouts all over America, as on that day special religious services will be held for Scouts all over the nation as a fulfillment of the twelfth point of the Scout law "The Scout is Reverent."

All of the local churches which sponsor troops and packs will have some special Scout Sunday service, either Sunday morning or Sunday evening. Scouts and Cubs will participate in these services by sitting in a body and wearing their uniforms.

In many of the services Scouts will take very active parts on the program and several pastors have indicated that they will deliver messages in line with the Boy Scout theme.

From its very inception scouting has supported religion. The constitution of the Boy Scouts of America clearly states "no boy can grow into the best kind of citizenship without recognizing his obligation to God." The Scout program of character development is not complete in itself. It needs the spiritual motivation of religion to achieve its highest aims. In harmony with these principles, scouting asks all who are associated with it as leaders and followers to pledge their faith in God.

Since the teaching of religion is the responsibility of the church, scouting has excluded from its manuals all elements of sectarian indoctrination. Incentiv toward religious instruction are included in the program and a boy advances in scouting as his spiritual guide certifies that he has been faithful in his religious duties. This contact has directed many boys to the church and is evidence that scouting aims to build character on spiritual foundations.

The projects are grouped around four objectives: (1) To help a Boy Scout become more faithful in the fulfillment of his religious duties; (2) To encourage him in the practice of his daily devotions; (3) To deepen his appreciation of his spiritual heritage by increasing his knowledge of the teachings and practices of his religion; (4) To provide incentive for making his religion practical in service to his church and community. Underlying these four purposes is the basic objective of relating the Boy Scout to the total program of the religious institution to which he belongs.

WAFER LARGEST SCOUTMASTER

Leader Of Sterlington Scouts Weighs 300; Looms Six And One-Half Feet

Not only is Tom Wafer, of Sterlington, the largest Scoutmaster in the Ouachita Valley Council, but he is also the oldest from the standpoint of service.

Wafer, who is over 6'6" tall and weighs well over 300 pounds, first became Scoutmaster of Troop 67, sponsored by the American Legion of Sterlington, in 1933,and has served in this capacity continuously since that time. As leader of this troop he has an unusual record of accomplishments.

Troop 67 has always been one of the largest troops in the Council. Even though its members come from a large area around Sterlington, Fairbanks and Perryville, members of the Troop are always on hand for their interesting weekly troop meetings held at the Legion Home, and anxiously look forward to special educational tours which Mr. Wafer usually arranges.

Since he has been Scoutmaster of Troop 67, the troop has taken trips to Hot Springs, Biloxi, Lake Charles, the Ozark Mountains, and St. Petersburg, and Pensacola, Florida, as well as several other points of interest. Mr. Wafer also served as Scoutmaster of the Ouachita Valley Council Jamboree Troop which attended the National Scout Jamboree in Washington in 1937. At the Jamboree he was heralded as the largest Scoutmaster in the world.

Troop 67 is always in attendance at Camp Ki-Ro-Li and other events of the central district. They are always well represented at Courts of Honor and have a fine advancement record. In the past 15 years there have been many Eagle Scouts in this troop.

SOUTHEAST AREA GETTING ACTIVE

Makes Comeback After Period Of Rest; Vidalia Is Organized

The southeast district, after a long period of inactivity, is making quite a comeback. At the beginning of 1948, there were no active troops in the area, but now there are six active units. The newest of the troops is Troop 19, Vidalia, having been organized in December. The American Legion is sponsoring this troop with W. F. Falkenheiner as scoutmaster. Vidalia is also very interested in starting a cub pack, which is almost certain to be a great success with all the interest of the parents of prospective cubs.

St. Joseph is the only lapsed unit in the district, but a meeting is to be scheduled within a week or so, in order that the troop may be reregistered.

Troop 24, Waterproof, sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association is coming along fine. The scouts are under the leadership of W. E. Persons. A court of honor is to be held soon for the scouts who have earned advancements.

One of the largest scout troop banquets ever held in the Ouachita Valley Council was staged by the Rotary Club of Ferriday, to give Troop 17, its scoutmaster, Lloyd Love, and Assistant Scoutmaster George Comer, a big send-off. Over one hundred people attended this banquet, at which Troop 17 received its new charter. The Rotary Club, sponsoring institution, is doing a fine job for the troop. Scouts in the troop have been on several hikes and camps since its organization. A court of honor will be held soon to recognize these scouts for the fine work they have done.

The southeast district at the present time has no district organization, but, according to S. L. Maxwell, who represented the district at the annual business meeting on January 27, the district is now at the proper stage for organization. Even with the long slack period which the southeast district has experienced, they are coming back with such vigor, they are sure to give some pretty stiff competition to other districts of the council.

The World Needs A Spiritual Crusade

"The great need in the world today is for a spiritual crusade to make practical religion dynamic in the affairs of man. I believe that Scouting through its oath and law provides that opportunity. The Boy Scouts of America stands solidly behind the religious leaders of all faiths in their efforts to have every youth live his duty to God, country and neighbor. If this world is going to be saved—if we are going to have world peace—it will come through our ability to train youth in those spiritual dynamics which will carry over in a practical way into good citizenship and good will toward man."

CEREMONIES BY SCOUTS PLANNED

Elaborate Programs To Be Held In Observance Of Scout Week

Twelve outstanding Boy Scouts, representing each of the nation's Boy Scout Regions, will represent America's 2,200,000 scouts and leaders in ceremonies at Washington, D. C., and New York City during Boy Scout Week, opening today.

Boy Scout Week will mark the 39th anniversary of the incorporation of the movement at the nation's capital. On Tuesday the actual birthday, the entire membership will recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or Promise at 8:15 p. m., in the four time zones.

Observed in every city and town and most villages and hamlets throughout the nation and its territories by 70,000 units, the celebration is the largest birthday observance of young America.

Federal officials and national Scout leaders will greet the twelve representative Boy Scouts when they arrive at Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, Feb. 8th. There the Scouts will share in ceremonies opening a new two-year program to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" by giving more boys in Scouting a richer experience. Scout leaders expect the organization to be at the peak of its usefulness to the nation by the end of 1950, near the close of its 40th anniversary year.

While at Washington the Scouts will make a "Report to the Nation of the Scout Citizen at Work in 1948," summing up the service projects and activities of America's 70,000 Scout units.

After their stay in Washington the scouts will go to New York to meet United Nations officials and take part in ceremonies at the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor on Saturday morning, Feb. 12, where torches will be lighted to symbolize the start of the two-year crusade.

Taking part in the ceremonies at the Statue of Liberty will be the United Nations Boy Scout Troop, comprising sons of U. N. personnel of many lands, and some New York scouts whose parents are of foreign origin. The entire group will then go to the Greater New York Scout Camp near Alpine, N. J., nine miles north of the George Washington Bridge.

Here on the 950-acre short-term campsite donated by John D. Rockfeller, Jr. and Thomas W. Lamont, with funds for buildings contributed by the Charles Hayden Foundation, the scouts will camp overnight in the shadow of the nation's largest city.

Arthur A. Schuck, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, has announced that the "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" crusade will be a major activity of the organization this year and in 1950.

"The proper training of youth takes on added importance in view of today's domestic and world-wide problems," says Mr. Schuck. "It is obvious that the boys of today are going to inherit a world situation which will tax their ability and their character to the utmost."

"There could be no more appropriate celebration of our 40th anniversary in 1950 than to show America a scout movement in expansion and program anything we have previously reached," Mr. Schuck said in a message to the nation's 543 local scout councils on the eve of Boy Scout Week.

Calling the "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" program a "crusade," the chief scout executive said its objectives were three-fold.

The first goal seeks a higher quality in each of its three age level programs: Cub scouting for boys 9, 10 and 11 years of age, Boy scouting for those 12 and over, and Senior scouting for young men 15 and older.

Better programs, said M. Schuck, will provide more fun and adventure. Boys will stay longer in the organization, he said, acquiring more "know how" to face the problems of manhood.

The Boy Scouts of America seeks to make its programs available to all boy who need and want it. The second goal of more membership will be accomplished as the quality of the programs improve, Mr. Schuck says.

The third goal of the crusade is more volunteer leaders with proper training in scouting techniques so that they can furnish necessary leadership to meet the first two major objectives.

During Boy Scout Week many of the nation's local scout councils which administer the programs of scouting in specific areas, will announce their objectives in program enrichment, membership growth and increased trained leadership.

1,000 SCOUTS IS 2 CITIES' GOAL

Central Committee Seek To Obtain New High Enrollment

Members of the central district committee, in a recent meeting in Monroe, set a goal in membership of one thousand scouts to be attained in the Twin Cities area.

The present scout membership in the central district is 706 scouts, cub scouts, and senior scouts. The district committee plans to make a concentrated effort to reach this goal in 1949.

Tom Hayes, Jr., newly elected chairman of the district, also announced other objectives of the district in 1949. These included more active personnel on the district committee, active operating committees, regular district meetings, regular courts of honor, a camporee and other district activities, adequate training courses for leaders, and the organization of many new units.

Hayes commended T. Mickel, district commissioner, and A. C. Lea, cub commissioner, as well as all members of the scout commissioner staff, for their fine performance in 1948, and announced that these scouters plan to continue their active program of service to units in 1949. One very important feature to be contributed is the scoutmasters and cub leaders roundtables for unit leaders.

The central district made a fine record in membership growth in 1948 by adding eight new scout units. The growth in cub scouting was especially outstanding in Monroe and West Monroe, as the membership in this phase of the program almost doubled.

The annual iceberg "census" was made from the air for the first time last year. By counting the thousands of icebergs, scientists can predict the number that may invade shipping paths during the next three years.

PROGRAM DEVISED FOR NEGRO BOYS

Scouting Made Available For Troops In Ouachita, Other Parishes

The program of scouting and cubbing is made available to Negro boys of Ouachita and neighboring parishes through the efforts of a well organized and interested group of leading Negro citizens, who are banded together under the direction of the Ouachita Valley Council, and are known as the Keystone Division scout committee. This committee is under the chairmanship of E. W. Sims, of Monroe.

It is planned that regular roundtable meetings and training courses will be held for these leaders in 1949, and leaders will get active supervision by Robert Murry, Scout commissioner. A camp for Negro Scouts will also be held in 1949, as well as other special activities.

Present Negro Scout units in the Ouachita Valley Council are: troop 60, Bastrop, sponsored by the American Legion, Perry C. Smith, scoutmaster; troop 61, Monroe, sponsored by the True Vine Baptist Church, William R. Cooper, scoutmaster, and James Johnson and Eddie A. Lee, assistant scoutmasters; troop 62, Monroe, sponsored by Zion Travelers Baptist Church, Sidney Taylor, scoutmaster; troop 64, Monroe, sponsored by American Legion Post No. 521, George Flintroy, scoutmaster; troop 65, Ruston, sponsored by Lincoln Parish High School, S. D. Thomas, scoutmaster, Ervin L. Livingston, assistant scoutmaster; troop 95, sponsored by Mt. Griffin, scoutmaster; troop 100, Wisner, sponsored by Wisner Colored High School P.-T. Additional units will probably be organized during 1949 in the following communities: Rayville, Tallulah, Jonesboro, Bastrop, Grambling, and Monroe.

CUBS WILL ATTEND FIRST METHODIST

Cubs and parents of Pack 34, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, will attend the night service of that church Sunday. Cubs are requested to meet the cubmaster in the church annex at 7:15 p. m.

Pack 34 will hold their meeting Tuesday in the church annex when a pot luck supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

SCOUTER'S KEY VALUED TROPHY

Two Progressive Scoutmasters Have Been Thus Awarded

Two progressive Scoutmasters of the Ouachita Valley Council received the Scouter's Key, coveted training award for the completion of very difficult training requirements over a long period of time. These outstanding leaders who received their awards at the Council's annual recognition banquet are J. D. Bice, Scoutmaster of Troop 45, sponsored by Trinity Methodist Church, Ruston, and W. W. Stevens, Scoutmaster of Troop 32, sponsored by the Monroe Lions Club. Both are veteran Scouters with outstanding records of service in their troops.

AWARDED KEY

W. W. STEVENS

E. J. Foster, leadership training chairman for the Council, presented their certificates and keys and commended them for their unusual ability and performance as leaders. Not only did these men complete the required training courses, but they had to put the knowledge acquired through training into operation in their troops.

As a part of the training requirements, they had to complete the basic scoutmaster's course and the advanced scoutmaster's course, as well as conduct a training course for their own boy leaders. They also had to attend all Scoutmasters' roundtable meetings and visit other Scout troops to acquire additional ideas.

The troops which these Scoutmasters lead were thoroughly checked as to their performance, and were found to be operating on the patrol method with properly planned and well balanced meeting programs.

These leaders also had to have a thorough knowledge of camping to meet the requirements for the key and had to take their troops on many overnight camps during a three-year period.

An additional requirement completed by Bice and Stevens was the keeping of complete records of their troops and the submitting of periodic reports on their troops' activity to their sponsoring institutions. These reports had to be submitted at least once each year. Each man had to assist in conducting training courses in their district, or for the Council, and submit evidence that his troop had planned and carried out at least three community service projects each year.

These Scoutmasters were the first men in the Council to receive the Scouter's Key under a new three-year training program. Only Scouters who avail themselves of all training opportunities and then put this increased skill and knowledge into practice in their troops can qualify for this high honor, which is earned by a very small percentage of Scout leaders.

Camp Ki-Ro-Li Will Be Much Improved In Near Future

Extensive plans for the development of Camp Ki-Ro-Li are being formulated by the Ouachita Valley Council camp development committee which was appointed in 1948 to study the needs of the popular council Scout camp purchased in 1925 by forty civic minded citizens of the Twin Cities.

Joe Dante, of Winnsboro, was appointed as chairman of the important committee made up of scouters from every district of the council who are interested in extending and improving the camp program. Serving on this committee with Dante are A. W. Ford, Ruston; W. H. Cameron, Winnfield; Judge E. L. Gladney, Bastrop; W. H. Farmer, Delhi; Judge Frank Voelker, Lake Providence; D. C. Harper and R. M. Hines, West Monroe; S. K. Henninger, L. L. Price, P. E. Massey and H. K. Litton of Monroe.

Most of the facilities and equipment at the camp, located approximately five miles west of West Monroe, has been used for many years by thousands of scouts, and therefore is in great need of repair, and in some instances replacement. The development committee has met to study and make recommendations for the proper development of this beautiful camp.

In preliminary studies it was decided that the services of an expert camp engineer should be obtained and such service has been requested and secured from the national Boy Scout engineering service. Mr. Joe Bishop, national director of engineering for the Boy Scouts of America, will be in the Council February 9, 10, and 11th to inspect the site and meet with the camp development committee. Mr. Bishop has had the experience of working on similar projects in many councils all over America, which should prove valuable to this council.

In order that very specific plans can be made, a complete survey and detailed contour map is being made by the Alpha Phi Omega Scout service fraternity at Louisiana Tech. This map will be necessary in planning for a boating lake and other developments in which terrain factors are of importance.

Present development plans for the camp include a small lake, a permanent central lodge, winter camping facilities and many new troop camp sites. The development committee plans that Camp Ki-Ro-Li will be one of the best Scout camps in the south when this project is completed.

DISCUSSIONS OF PROBLEMS HELD

Roundtable Meetings With Exchange Of Ideas Aid To Leaders

One of the most important features in the 1949 program for leaders will be roundtable meetings, in which leaders have an opportunity to exchange ideas, discuss problems, and learn new methods.

These programs were started in 1948, under the direction of the commissioner staff, and are now being used in almost every district in the Council. At each of these meetings, some special training feature is presented and leaders pick up many ceremonies, games, and other program ideas for their units.

Some of the programs presented at scoutmasters' roundtables in 1948 were signalling, cooking, first aid, star study, church awards, rope work, new advancement program, lashing, and camp equipment and packing. The central district, under the leadership of district commissioner T. Mickel, also featured a scouters' picnic in August, to which families were invited.

Cub leaders in the central district also had opportunity to learn new ideas and discuss their problems in regular monthly roundtable sessions held at the Ouachita Parish Courthouse, under the direction of A. C. Lea, Cub commissioner. This group usually learned some new handicraft and game, and also received special instructions on different Cub activities. There is always a large attendance at these leaders' meetings.

Roundtable programs in 1949 will be improved with more emphasis being placed on leader's active participation in the program. Items which they desire will be included on each of the roundtable programs.

Captain EASY

PAUL PARKES HAS TOLD CAPTAIN EASY THAT PARTS OF AN EXPERIMENTAL ROCKET FROM THE ARMY PROVING GROUNDS RECENTLY FELL ON HIS RANCH

HOW'D I KNOW THE DOGGONED ROCKET WAS IMPORTANT, EASY?

YOU SHOULD HAVE WIRED WASHINGTON ANYHOW-- YOUR LETTER'LL TAKE DAYS TO GET THERE AND THAT DAME'S STORY THAT SHE'S A TOURIST IS PRETTY THIN!

T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

YOU THINK VERA'S A SPY OR SOMETHIN'?

MAYBE! FOREIGN AGENTS WANT THE RECORDING INSTRUMENTS THAT MAY HAVE DROPPED ON YOUR RANCH! I'D BETTER FIND HER BROTHER KARL AND SEE WHAT HE'S UP TO!

WATCH VERA WHILE I'M GONE, PAUL!

'IT'D BE HARD TO KEEP MY EYES OFF A GOOD LOOKER LIKE HER!

THEY'RE SUSPICIOUS, KARL! KEEP OUT OF SIGHT AND YOU CAN GET THE DROP ON THAT STUPID RANCHER!

I FOUND THE WARHEAD, VERA! BUT THE INSTRUMENTS WERE GONE!

THERE WAS A GUARD OVER THE WARHEAD-- POSSIBLY ONE OF CAPTAIN EASY'S MEN! I LIQUIDATED HIM!

I'M NOT SO SURE THE CAPTAIN IS IN THE ARMY NOW! HE SAYS NOT! BUT WE'LL FIND OUT!

BUT THE INSTRUMENTS MUST BE ON THE RANCH! THERE HASN'T BEEN TIME TO MOVE THEM!

WE SHALL MAKE INQUIRIES, STARTING WITH OUR HOST! HERE HE COMES!

WELL, I'LL BE ROPED AND HUNG OUT TO DRY!

WE WANT SOME INFORMATION, MY FRIEND! BUT FIRST, PLEASE RAISE YOUR HANDS!

MEANWHILE--

A WEST POINT RING, AND HE'S IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES! PROBABLY AN INTELLIGENCE OFFICER! AND THE INSTRUMENTS FROM THE ROCKET ARE GONE--I WONDER WHO GOT 'EM!

TARZAN

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

WITH RIMALI AND HIS PARTY ON THE TRAIL AGAIN TOWARD THALIA, TARZAN TOOK TO THE TREES, RANGING FAR AHEAD OF HIS COMPANIONS. SUDDENLY HE PAUSED-------

--AND PEERED DOWN AT THE TRAIL BELOW. A GREAT BEAST MOVED SILENTLY ALONG THE TRAIL..... A LION---BEAUTIFULLY MANED AND BRILLIANTLY SPOTTED.

KEEPING PACE WITH THE LION, TARZAN SOON DISCOVERED THE PREY NUMA WAS STALKING.

CONTRARY TO THE HABIT OF MOST CARNIVORE ABOUT TO MAKE A KILL, THE SPOTTED LION SPRANG TOWARD ITS PREY IN UTTER SILENCE

ALERTLY — WATCHING THE DRAMA, TARZAN LEAPED IN THE PATH OF THE CHARGING FURY

AS NUMA RENEWED THE ATTACK, TARZAN WHEELED, AND LEAPED FOR THE GREAT BEAST'S BACK.

SMILIN' JACK

AFTER THE SOUTH AMERICAN PLANE REACHED THE U.S.A., SABLE THOUGHT THAT SHE AND JACK HAD SEEN THE LAST OF JATO!

BUT JATO, WHO HAS THE VAGUELY FAMILIAR FEMALE TRAIT OF TRYING TO TAKE A MAN AWAY FROM ANOTHER WOMAN "JUST FOR THE FUN OF IT," DECIDES TO GIVE SABLE A HARD TIME!

JATO THROWS A BIG HOME-COMING PARTY FEATURING JACK AS GUEST OF HONOR BECAUSE HE HAD RESCUED SABLE AND JATO FROM THE VICIOUS TENTACLES OF PEARLY CURLY'S SMUGGLING SYNDICATE!

SO SABLE THINKS SHE'S GONNA MARRY JACK? HE DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME...

...BUT IT'S GONNA BE FUN TAKING TH' SILLY SAP AWAY FROM SABLE!

...ALL MEN ARE SILLY SAPS WHEN I FOCUS MY SUBTLE CHARMS ON THEM!

...AT FIRST, SABLE AN' JACK REFUSED MY INVITATION, BUT AFTER I INVITED ALL OF THEIR CLOSEST FRIENDS THEY HAD TO COME FOR APPEARANCES' SAKE!

JACK, AS SOON AS WE'VE PAID OUR RESPECTS TO EVERYBODY, LET'S DUCK OUT! I DON'T LIKE THAT CONNIVING LOOK ON JATO'S FACE!

AH, SABLE!... QUIT WORRYIN' ABOUT JATO! YOU KNOW SHE DOESN'T MEAN A THING TO ME!

...SHE'S ONLY THROWIN' THIS PARTY OUT OF GRATITUDE FOR WHAT WE DID TO HELP HER OUT OF THAT JAM IN SOUTH AMERICA!

...BUT IF YOU'RE WORRIED, WE'LL LEAVE RIGHT NOW! JUST A MINUTE... THE BAND LEADER IS CALLING THE CROWD TO ATTENTION!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN... I TAKE GREAT PLEASURE IN PRESENTING YOUR HOSTESS! ...TH' GORGEOUS AN' GLAMOROUS JATO INDEBUX!

FRIENDS — I JUST WANT TO SAY THAT I WHIPPED UP THIS LI'L PARTY IN HONOR OF A DARING AND HANDSOME FLIER!
